That Justice May Ever Have A Champion; That Evil Shall Not Flourish Unchallenged.

Entered at the post office at Warrenton, North Carolina, under Act of Congress of 1879.

He that hasteneth to be rich hath an evil eye, and consider-eth not that poverty shall come upon him.—Proverbs 28:22.

What we need to keep the nation whole, to guard the pillars of the state? We need the fine audacities of honest deeds; the homely old integrities of soul; the swift temerities that take the part of outcast right the wisdom of the heart.
—Edward Markham.

FROM THE DAILY PRESS Farms never had fewer horses or more horse-power. —Arkansas Gazette.

To preserve peace, we need guns of smaller and men of larger caliber.—Virginian-Pilot.

The point the Supreme Court must decide is whether water in the railroads justifies soaping the public.—Greenville News.

You can't tell which group elected Hoover until you see which one is maddest because it can't run things.—Kenosha (Wis.) News.

Too often the fruit of Naval rivalry is the apple of discord.—Virginian-Pilot.

The common man is endowed with certain inalienable rights, all of which he must keep fighting for.
—Robert Quillen.

Industry and the professions are closely related. Think of what the petroleum industry has done for the legal profession, and vice versa.— San Diego Union.

The millennium will be here when it takes the nations as long to declare war as it takes the United States Senate to declare peace.

The proper measure of a man is the size of the thing required to get his goat.—Publishers Syndicate.

WHISKEY BILL

The press of other matters has prevented our obtaining a copy of Senator Person's bill advocating sale of whiskey under physicians prescription at the drug stores. We have had to depend on newspaper accounts which did not go into detail as to its provisions. It has met an unfavorable reception at the hands of the General Assembly. Whether justly or unjustly, we can not say for the above mentioned reason.

Yet we agree most hartily with the Warren county medical society when its members unanimously said "Pure whiskey, sold under proper supervision as provided in the Volstead act, should be available to physicians of the State for medicinal purposes."

Here is your condition.
Physicians are prescribing whiskey. The prescriptions are filled by an ignorant bootlegger instead of a registered pharmacist. That is deplorable. Whiskey should be handled in drug stores under the same rules and regulations as are narcotics. The law should be so drawn that the few good healthy ones who believe that they can obtain pure whiskey as a beverage in this manner will meet with the utmost disappointment.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

Having qualified as administrator upon the estate of T. H. Strickland, deceased, late of Warren County, this is to notify all persons having claims against the said estate to present them, properly verified, to the undersigned administrator, on or before the 24th day of January, 1930, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate settlement with me.

This January 24, 1929.

every physician in the Warrenton county medical society.
We know them to be gentlemen of high honor. If they tell us that their power will be increased by the ability to prescribe pure whiskey and have their prescriptions filled by a registered pharmacist, we believe that they should not be forbidden.

We hope that before this session of the General Assembly adjourns that there will be written on the statute books a properly safeguarded law permitting North Carolina drug stores to handle pure whiskey, such a law as has our sister State Virginia, where the prohibition law is certainly not more flouted than here.

TAX TROUBLES

Editor, The Warren Record, Sir:
—The interest paid on borrowed money in the past six months for Warren county is $4,000, four thousand dollars. If this keeps up for twelve months it would amount to more than all the salaries of the Sheriff, the Clerk of Court, Auditor and the Recorder.

The sheriff does not collect enough money at the present time to serve the schools in the county.

Renewing notes cost the taxpayers enough to help break the taxpayers.

The schools cost the county over $12,000 a day.

The sheriff has no law to make people pay their taxes until May of each year.

The big tax payers use their money in their own business as long as they can at the expense of the taxpayers, borrowed money by the county accumulates at 6 per cent interest from September until May
of each year.

The schools are serve on the most expensive plan that is known to man, by hauling all the children on bus transportation.

One of the remedies—put 5 per cent penalty on all taxes paid after January 1st of each year.

Take care of the little things and big ones will take care of themselves.

County commissioners to spend the counties money as their own.
F. B. NEWELL.

THE HOLY SPIRIT

The International Uniform Sunday School for Jan. 27. The Holy Spirit. John 16:7-11; Rom. 8:12-17, 26, 27.

OUR lesson plunges us into the very depths of the mystery of the divine and of God's presence with man.

The probability is that the great mass of intelligent Christians believe in the Incarnation without considering very deeply the mysteries that lie back of it.
They feel as they read the New Testament the uniqueness and reality of Jesus of Nazareth. They are sure that in him they see the image of God, in every sense the best that man knows, and their religion is mostly the expression of a practical working creed which accepts that Christ as its Lord and Master.

Jesus' Answer

But how is the work of Christ carried on in the world? How is his spirit made manifest? It is this question that Jesus himself answers in the opening verses of our lesson.

His abiding presence is through the Comforter, and he gives the clear assurance, as the end of his earthly life draws near, that his spirit will continue to dwell with men through this Comforter.

Is there need that we should inquire too deeply into the nature of the Holy Spirit or into the mysteries of his relation to the earthly Christ and the infinite God? May we not, rather, dwell upon the evidences of the continued presence of Christ through the spirit and the operation of that spirit in guidance and heavenly influences for the soul? It is this course at any rate that is pursued in our lesson.

Man knows not even how to pray aright. He does not always sense his own need. But the spirit of God is in those who seek the Holy Spirit's guidance, interpreting the will of God, guiding men in prayer, and guiding men in their quest of righteousness and truth.

Evidence in the World

Can we doubt these things? Is not the full evidence of it clearly before us in the world in the lives of good men and in what they have accomplished in the progress of truth and righteousness? It is only as men can be led to see life in spiritual terms and to seek spiritual help and guidance that the world can be brought to progress in higher things.

It is God dwelling in men that is the gateway to godly living and the fulfilment of divine purpose.

Combating Mail-Order Competition

PUBLISHED BY

THE WARREN RECORD

Brace Up Your Business With Advertising

The abnormal and greatly "stimulated" business activity which has just passed was far from being sound and healthy. It could be likened to the abnormal activity of a man who has been stimulated by too much alcohol. He feels pretty bad after the effects have worn off.

Readjustment compels the live retail merchant to greater effort in creating new business in his community and in keeping what business there is from going to the mail-order houses.

We have two distinct types of business men and it is during such times as these that we see them clearly. We see one going right ahead with his advertising in order to stimulate and increase the sale of his goods, the prices of which are changing daily; and the other, who upon the first signs of depression, wrings his hands, stops all advertising or sales promotion work and waits for the people to come in and buy his high priced goods. The first "cleans up" with a nice profit and the second loses what he has and blames it on "conditions."

The big mail-order houses are sending out millions of "flyers" each week with alluring price reductions on certain goods. They are making every effort, through persistent follow-up advertising, to turn their merchandise as quickly as possible and thus prevent a greater loss.

What advertising is doing in readjustment for the big successful merchandisers of the country it will do for any live merchant if he will but use it persistently.

The force that will carry any merchant to his goal is coiled up inside of him—in his energy, his pluck, his grit, his originality, his determination to go after the business of his community and get it.

This can be accomplished only by adopting the same proven methods that the big catalog house uses in building its mammoth business—persistent advertising.
