PAGE FOUR

Warrenton, North Carolina

THE WARREN RECORD

Warrenton, North Carolina

OUR AMERICAN HOME

FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 19

JOSH, MA

LOOKIT ALL THIS

GOOD STUFF YOU WERE

THROWING AWAY-

IT'S A GOOD THING -

WE GOT HOME FROM

SCHOOL BEFORE THE

CAME -

COLLECTORS

The Press Publishing Co. One Year For _____$2.00

W. BRODIE JONES_____Editor HOWARD F. JONES BIGNALL S. JONES Associate Editors

That Justice May Ever Have A Champion; That Evil Shall Not Flourish Unchallenged.

Entered at the post office at Warrenton, North Carolina, under Act of Congress of 1879.

It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth .--Lamentations 3:27.

There is nothing more tragic than the lingering death of a human spirit while the body still lives and thrives.-Hamilton Wright Mabie.

FROM THE DAILY PRESS

A vanished bit of protective coloration is the girlish blush.-Arkansas Gazette.

Reports of the "White House spokesman's" demise were exaggerated. He has turned up in Northampton as the "spokesman of 21 Massasiot Street."-New York Evening Post.

If the Daughters of the Revolution in Mexico were to organize they should be able to run things with ease .- Norfolk Ledger Dispatch.

The new Secretary of War comes from Chicago, and we suppose he's had a good deal of experience, at least as an unofficial observer .----Ohio State Journal.

We hope Coolidge takes this newspaper editorship offer. We know no better place to put a real test to this reputed talent for economizing .- Council Bluffs Nonpariel.

A stamp bearing the portrait of Ananias rather than Washington would be much more appropriate for some of the stuff we get in the mail.—Arkansas Gazette.

Whatever farm-relief is passed this spring, in the fall of 1930 the campaign orators will be asking the farmers to give it time to work out.-Wichita Eagle.

THE PROMISE OF EASTER The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 31. The Future Life. Luke 24:1-12; John 14:1-6.

THE topic of this lesson for 1 young people and adults differs a little from the lesson's general title. It is "Our Grounds of Hope for the Future." Do we not inevitably consider the Christian life from that standpoint? It may be that there are some who never consider the matter at all, but with most of, either in the back of our minds or in the very foreground of our reflection, there is the age long question concerning the future life. If a man die will he live again?

Some are rather content to face that question simply from the standpoint of sentimental hope or dogmatic assurance. The fact that the future life is a part of the creed or faith which they formally profess settles the matter for them. But others look beyond the creed to the real grounds of faith. They are not satisfied simply with the assurance of someone else. They wish really to find evidence for the future life, and much of this evidence centers around the question of the Resurrection of Jesus.

Grounds for Belief

Did Jesus rise from the dead? If we are convinced that he who died is living, it is a very easy step to the hope and conviction that "because he lives we shall live also." What are the grounds of our belief in the Resurrection of Jesus? They are found first of all in the records of Scripture. This record is something more than a statement of historic events.

If the record were only that we should be compelled to face certain discrepancies in the differquestioned the authenticity of the whole experience that came again Resurrection. record and of the facts as stated into their lives was based upon a because of these discrepancies. But is it not more reasonable and natural to say that if the New Testament writers had been fashioning "cunningly devised fables" they would have been careful that uineness. When one goes beyond the ac- nor do we need that evidence, for Christ. What does it mean that of the disciples that they saw outward evidence could possibly ent stories. Some, in fact, have Jesus after his crucifixion. The convince him of the reality of the new vision of Christ and their there is, of course, a great deal of conviction that he had risen. Thomas' Sign

The evidence of the Resurrection of Jesus for us must neces- doubts. But that was not the attithere should be no discrepancies, sarily be somewhat different from tude of Jesus himself, nor is it and that to the last matter of de- what it was for them. Thomas the attitude of great and genuine tail all the witnesses should say would not believe until he had faith. exactly the same? This lack of seen the outward sign, until he any collusion in the writing of the had felt the wound prints in the ly between a profession of faith Gospels is surely one of the side and in the hands. We shall that is merely the acceptance of strongest evidences of their gen- not have such outward evidence historic facts and the sort of faith tual statement of physical facts, if a man cannot find the evidence Jesus has arisen unless our hearts however, one discovers that there of the continued existence of Jesus cleave to him and unless we live is unanimity in the Scriptures and the fact of the power and in- in him? When in this spirit we about the reality of the reappear- fluence of the living Christ in the read the New Testament records ance of Jesus. It was something records of Christian experience they tend to create in our souls a

It is a subject concerning which dogmatism, and those who profess to believe are sometimes scornful of the doubt of others and indignant that anybody should have

We may distinguish very sharpno matter how much we seek it, that is the real acceptance of the

RUBBISH LEGAL NOTICES NOTICE SALE OF VALUABLE

LANDS ferred on the undersigned trustee formerly belonging to William L. less. in that deed of trust executed by Harris, lying in said County and Anderson J. Broadnax on the 14th State, and described as follows: day of April, 1920 and duly of | Tract No. 1-Beginning at a Stone for cash, at the Court House door containing 19 1-2 acres, more or in bar of recovery. All percent in Warrenton, N. C., between the less. 29th day of April, 1929, the follow et al., I will, sell at public auction 7 1-2 degrees W. 87 Poles 14 to the highest bidder for cash at to a Stone in line Lot No. the Court House door of said War- S. 42 Poles 4 Links to a Stor ren County, at 12 o'clock, M., on ner Lot No. 3, thence N. 71 the 29th day of April, 1929, two grees E. 80 Poles to the being By virtue of the authority con- certain tracts or parcels of land containing 19 1-2 acres to record in the Warren County Reg- in Mrs. H. Thrower's line, corner istry in Book 111 on Page 101, de- Lot No. 1, thence North 42 Poles fault having been made in the pay- 15 Links to a Stone, thence N. 71 1-2 ment of the indebtedness therein degres East 80 Poles to a Stone in by, deceased, late of Warren and thereby secured, and having Twitty's line, thence S. 2 degrees W. ty, this is to notify all y been requested by the present hold- 42 Poles and 15 Links to a Stone, having claims against the er of said indebtedness so to do, I Mrs. Thrower's corner, thence along tate to present them, property will offer for sale and sell to the said Thrower's line S. 71 1-2 de- lified, to me on or before h highest bidder, at public auction, grees W. 78 Poles to the beginning, 29, 1930, or this notice will be General Electric Refrigerator today.

W. R. STRICKLAND

Warrenton, N. C.

hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M. on the Tract No. 2-Beginning at a make immediate settlemen.

This the 29th day of Marth

W. T. POLK, Commis ADMINISTRATRIX NOT Having qualified as admin

trix upon the estate of J. M vegetation, repairing and greatly missed in Warren and Halrepainting of buildings and ifax counties. Only those who knew repainting of buildings and landscape gardening. Land- her best knew of the thorns that were hidden among her roses bescape gardening is no longer cause she tried to always have a

