

APPOINT DANIEL NEW SOLICITOR

Commissioners Name Littleton Man As Prosecutor For Recorder's Court

CHANGE FORMER ORDER

Sam G. Daniel was elected solicitor of the Recorder's court at the regular meeting of the board of county commissioners here on Monday. Mr. Daniel was nominated by Commissioner Frank Newell. The nomination was seconded by Commissioner John L. Skinner. There was no opposing vote and Mr. Daniel was declared elected to the office of solicitor of the Recorder's court under authority of a bill introduced by Representative B. B. Williams and passed by the 1929 General Assembly.

Since the last meeting the commissioners have evidently changed their minds in regard to Auditor Hallings listing property. At the last meeting they forbade him listing in taxes without the consent of the board. Monday that order was stricken out and Auditor Hallings was asked to list property as formerly.

Russell Comer and W. G. Sprague were appointed road commissioners of Roanoke township, two of the duly elected commissioners having failed to qualify.

Fishermen will have to pay a tax. It was motioned by Commissioner Wall and seconded by Commissioner Skinner that a county tax of $1 be levied on all county residents and a $2 tax on non residents for the privilege of seining during the month of July and August and netting during the months of December, January, February, and March in Warren county waters. Commissioner Newell voted against this measure.

J. P. Pendegrass was exempted from vendor's tax on account of his physical condition. Commissioners Skinner and Wall were appointed to cooperate with the Franklin county commissioners in regard to the Louisburg Warrenton road.

It was ordered that a warrant for $15,000 be drawn in payment of one-half of the three $10,000 notes the Bank of Warren on April 4. It was further ordered that a note in the sum of $15,000 be drawn, payable June 3, 1929, to the Bank of Warren to take care of the remaining $15,000.

Ernest Moseley was appointed pad commissioner for Sandy Creek township to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of S. E. Allen.

Robert Felts was ordered admitted to the county home. It was ordered that C. J. Fleming be relieved of three years back personal property taxes due on lands of George Fields, purchased from the sheriff. Sheriff Williams was instructed to collect from George Fields all back personal property taxes now owing.

It was ordered that the Sandy Creek road bill in the sum of $353 be paid. Two hundred dollars of this amount was for building a bridge.

H. A. House of River township will not be required to pay the penalty on his 1926 taxes. It was established that this was due to an error by Mr. House's agent, and that Mr. House was under the impression that the taxes had been paid until his attention was recently called to the matter.

The board denied an appeal to reduce the valuation on three lots in River township, valued at $2,000, the property of Mrs. Jennie N. Hale. It was ordered that 174 acres of land of A. B. Wilson, valued at $3,000, be reduced to $2,600 on account of timber removal. It was further ordered that the taxes on the $400 for one year be refunded.

It was ordered that the land of E. E. Davis in Fork township, listed at 792 acres, be changed to 764 acres, it being an error in listing, and that he receive a credit on the $3 acres at $24 per acre. The clerk of the board was instructed to write Edmund White of Warrenton a letter of appreciation for time given by him for the court house lawn.

Town Getting Ready For Primary April 22; Discuss Hotel Report

Discussion of the primary of April 22 at 8 o'clock in the Court House and the appointment of a registrar and judges of election for the May 7th town election, held brief attention of the board of commissioners on Tuesday evening. Other matters, with the exception of a brief hotel report, were mainly routine.

Little opposition has been heard to any member of the present board, and unless an active campaign is waged indications are that the primary of April 22nd will be short-lived and without particular incident. The board, of course, did not go into the political phase of the matter, but the mayor notified them that the primary had been called for that date by W. T. Polk, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Warrenton. The board named T. B. Gardner as registrar with Weldon Hall and W. J. Watson as judges of election.

Thirty-three thousand, five hundred and twenty-two dollars was given as gross returns from the operation of the hotel when the matter was called up again by W. R. Strickland. A report had been made some time ago for the year 1928. The net proceeds to the town were given at $5600. H. A. Moseley in commenting on the present method of operation said that the town was receiving more from the property than at any other time, but he was in accord with opinion expressed at the meeting that the hotel was not paying as much as the town had hoped.

Commissioner Serls, whose usual forte is moving adjournment, took the floor late in the meeting to urge that the town require property owners to keep their premises in better condition. Mr. Serls thought something should be done about unsightly as well as unsanitary spots—even on private property—and the police officer was instructed to confer with Dr. Rodgers and act upon his recommendation in regard to any and all such places.

A hearty invitation "to come and meet your friends at the Old Fiddlers' convention at Norlina high school on Thursday evening, April 18th, at 8 o'clock," is being sent over the countryside by the committee in charge. A large crowd is expected.

A former convention there brought a packed house and plenty of harmony, and the program this time under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association is expected to equal the other evening's fun. The committee in charge includes J. H. Fleming, R. M. White, J. P. Andrew, T. T. Hawks, and W. G. Overby.

'Here's the "Airplane Bungalow"

Home designers are using aviation to inspire new styles of architecture. Above is the "airplane bungalow," prominent among the small house models at the New York Architectural and Allied Arts Exposition. It was designed by Francis Keally, well known designer of airports and hangars, but homes of the same type have been constructed within recent years in Texas, where the second story setback was found to give maximum ventilation to the sleeping rooms. No matter how close to the building lines neighboring houses are set, they will not interfere with bedroom ventilation.

Funeral Services Mrs. W. T. Alston Held Here Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. W. T. Alston were held at Emmanuel Episcopal church, Warrenton, on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. B. N. de Foe-Wagner and interment was in Fairview cemetery.

R. B. Boyd was elected a member of the administrative committee of which V. F. Ward was re-elected chairman, and Miss Julia Dameron secretary. T. V. Allen and E. S. Allen were the two other members of the board re-elected. Heretofore this board was composed of four members, but the trustees decided to enlarge the committee and Mr. Boyd was added.

The new school law came up for discussion and it was indicated that the local high school would probably lose one high school teacher and gain one for the elementary grades.

SCHOOLS LITTLE AFFECTED

Authorities Believe There Will Be Little Change In Warren High Schools

Warrenton high schools will be but little affected by the new school law in the opinion of school authorities at Warrenton. Rumors that a drastic cut in number of teachers and possibly loss of high schools was declared to be without foundation by Superintendent J. Edward Allen yesterday.

Vocational departments will also be maintained it is believed.

However, Mr. Allen said, "we expect to find it impossible to maintain schools in which the number of pupils in average attendance for one teacher is less than approximately 17; and if the average attendance for two teachers is less than 35, one teacher only will be permitted, by the new school law."

Four county elementary schools will be affected, the Arcola school with two teachers, and one-teacher schools at Oakville, Churchill and Grove Hill.

The salaries of principals of high schools are only slightly changed; it is probable that the salary of a principal of an accredited high school will be $2000, unless there are more than twelve teachers altogether. The law prohibits paying any bonuses or supplements, by county or districts, over 5 per cent of basal salary.

Mrs. W. H. Jenks, of Richmond, Va., was fatally injured and her husband suffered a fractured thigh when their automobile skidded on the wet pavement of route 50 a miles north of Norlina early Saturday afternoon and ran down an embankment, overturning and pinning them beneath it.

Delegation Meets With Hill Today To Discuss Road

A delegation of Warren county citizens headed by Commissioners John Clay Powell, Frank Newell and John L. Skinner will motor to Durham today where they will join commissioners and other citizens of Franklin county for a consultation with John Sprunt Hill, District Highway Commissioner, in regard to the Warrenton-Louisburg road.

The Warren men will also discuss with Mr. Hill plans for re-surfacing the road from Norlina to Warrenton and from Warrenton to Liberia. The board of commissioners instructed Messrs. Powell, Newell and Skinner to meet with the Halifax men following a telephone conversation with Commissioner Hill on Monday.

There is much interest in the proposed road to Louisburg by citizens of both counties. It is understood that not only will the road, if carried through, open up a good trade territory, but will shorten the distance to State capital and lighten the ever-growing traffic on the highway from Norlina to Raleigh by Henderson.

Several local citizens have signified their intentions of making the trip today and they have expressed the hope that other citizens will join them.

Miss Leach Finds Homes For Several Unfortunate Persons

That good homes were provided during March for several unfortunate persons in Warren county was revealed by Miss Lucy Leach, welfare officer, in her report to the board of county commissioners in session here on Monday. Members of both races were benefitted, the report showed.

Hospital treatment was given to one white man and temporary aid was given to several families on account of sickness.

The welfare officer investigated several cases reported to her and was responsible for the arrest of one man on a charge of bigamy. He will be tried at May term of Superior court.

J. E. ALLEN BEGINS HIS SIXTH TERM

Warrenton Man Re-elected Superintendent of Schools By New Board

COMMITTEEMEN NAMED

J. Edward Allen began his sixth term as county superintendent of schools on Monday following his re-election by the newly organized board. A. C. Blalock is the new chairman, succeeding Jesse Gardner, who retires after ten years as head of the Warren county board of education. Miss Edna E. Allen was re-elected statistical and financial officer. The elections were unanimous.

The old board met at 10 o'clock and proceeded to wind up the affairs of the two-year school period. It was ordered that the old Elms white school be sold for $150. It was voted to repay $10,000 borrowed by the commissioners in anticipation of taxes to be collected.

Chairman Jesse Gardner and Miss Amma D. Graham expressed regrets at retiring from the board where the years of association had made ties that were hard to break. Messrs. Riggan, Powell and Pinell responded and told the retiring members that regret was mutual and told of the pleasures of working together. The board then adjourned sine die.

The new board appointed by the legislature of 1929 was sworn in by Clerk of Court John Newell on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. They proceeded to organize by electing a chairman, superintendent of schools and statistical and financial secretary.
