Gardner Speaks At Durham And Farmville; Appoints Farmer Head of Patrol

SCHOOL MEN TO MEET

By M. L. SHIPMAN

RALEIGH, April 15.—Governor O. Max Gardner has completed another busy week. Along with the direction of many activities connected with the business of "running the State" the chief executive responded to calls for addresses at the Merchant's and Manufacturers Exposition at Durham, the Eastern Carolina Exposition at Farmville, and the meeting of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce at Kinston. The Governor and Mrs. Gardner were the recipients of special honors on each of these occasions in a manner befitting the high stations they occupy in the social and official life of the State.

The governor was faced with the task of selecting members of various boards for State institutions following adjournment of the General Assembly and has put the greater number of them behind him already. Selections for members of the board of directors for the State Hospital for the Insane at Morganton are, Dr. J. T. Burrus, High Point, succeeding O. M. Mull, of Shelby; J. H. Beall, Lenoir; R. R. Clark, Statesville; J. R. Boyd, Waynesville, and John M. Scott, Charlotte. Agricultural and Technical college, Greensboro: Col. Foster Hankins, Lexington; Leake S. Covington, Rockingham, R. F. Beasley, Monroe; Archibald Johnson, Thomasville, and O. F. Crowson Jr., Burlington. Acceptance of the appointment as State Treasurer by Capt. Nathan O'Berry created a vacancy on the board of directors of the State hospital for the insane (colored) at Goldsboro and the governor named E. B. Borden, III, of Goldsboro, whose term will expire April 1, 1933.

School Name Changed

The Cullowhee Normal in Jackson county, hereafter to be known as the Western Carolina Teachers college, retains its former board of directors, viz: Reuben S. Robertson, of Canton; Mrs. Giles Cover, of Andrews; J. E. Coburn, of Bryson City; and Thos. H. Shipman, of Brevard. This institution was by the recent legislature made a four-year school, giving it the same rating as other State four-year schools of similar character, in addition to changing its name.

The Cherokee Indian Normal school at Pembroke, Robeson county, drew as its board of trustees, P. M. Locklear and J. N. Cummings of Pembroke; W. D. Oxendine of Buies; Jas E. Dial, of Lumberton; Ralph Lowery of Pembroke; A. N. Locklear of Pates; D. F. Lowrey of Raynham, and C. G. Locklear of Pembroke, all except the two first name being re-appointed.

Miss Nell Battle Lewis, of Raleigh, succeeds Ben Dixon MacNeill as a member of the State Historical commission, while Associate Justice Heriot Clarkson retains his membership on this commission.

Reappoints Murchison

The governor reappointed W. S. Murchison of Raleigh, as a member of the North Carolina Real Estate Board for a term expiring March 29, 1932, and, in accordance with a joint resolution passed by the late General Assembly. His Excellency during the week named a committee composed of four senators and five representatives to represent the legislative department of the State government at the thirty-ninth annual Confederate Veterans' reunion to be held at Charlotte, June 4-7. Lieutenant Governor R. T. Fountain, and Senators Walter Clark of Charlotte; E. R. McKeathan of Fayetteville and H. L. Millner of Morganton, go from the senate. Speaker A. H. Graham of Hillsboro; Judge Francis D. Winston of Windsor; John D. Shaw of Charlotte; Graham Hobbs of Wilmington; Garland Suttleymer of Granite Falls, and Rev. H. F. Hutchins of Selma will represent the house.

Putting the cares of official life behind him, for the moment, the Governor, accompanied by Mrs. Gardner and a party of friends, left Thursday night for Edenton where they were met by Capt. John A. Nelson, State Fisheries Commissioner, with the Patrol Flagship, for a cruise through the coastal waters to Morehead City. The official party returned to Raleigh Sunday night visibly refreshed from the contact with the balmy air of the blue Atlantic. Except for a day at a time this is the first time since the Governor came to Raleigh that official duties waited for a moment. So far he has been a man of action in the executive offices and no one would begrudge him "a day off" once in a while. The folks want to see their Governor and he wants to see them.

Applications Filed

With the selection of a secretary to the newly appointed State Industrial Commission, which will administer the workmen's compensation act passed by the 1929 General Assembly, that agency of the government will be ready to open offices and put enforcement machinery in motion. It is said that a number of applications for the secretaryship have been filed with the Commission which is expected to make a choice within the next week or two. E. W. Price, an insurance solicitor of Charlotte, is believed to be the Governor's favorite, in which event he is likely to receive the approval of the commission, notwithstanding the strong backing accorded to Alex Lassiter principal clerk of the house. The compensation act becomes effective on the first of July and insurance interests are arranging for the establishment of a rating bureau to handle the business of all companies engaged in writing employers liability insurance under the provisions of the new act, which will be "velvet" to insurance solicitors in increased business and added responsibility to employers.

School officials who recently denounced members of the General Assembly responsible for the passage of the educational bill under which the schools of the State must operate during the next biennium appear to be "seeing things" from a different angle since the ruling of Attorney General Brummitt on the new school laws. This includes Jule B. Warren, secretary of the North Carolina Education association; R. E. Sentelle, superintendent of the schools of Brunswick county and others who spoke their minds before the Teachers Assembly here in such a way as to be plainly understood.

Dr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was from the beginning willing to await developments and he now joins in pleasing expressions touching the ruling of the Attorney General who finds that the educational system of the State is to remain in tact after all the dire results predicted by opponents of the measure. Ruling that special districts are not limited in their ability to tax themselves for educational purposes by the Hancock school law, the Attorney General also holds for a liberal interpretation of the legislation on the subject of the number of teachers and their salaries; that if the special districts wish to vote taxes to enable them to employ more teachers and higher paid ones they have a right to do so. County superintendents and chairmen of boards of education called to meet here on April 22nd will be given the whole story in detail and may then proceed with all the facts before them. The State Board of Equalization will also meet in Raleigh at that time.

Farmer Patrol Captain
The State Highway Commission

found a capable man to captain the State Highway Patrol authorized by the last General Assembly in the person of former Fire Chief Chas. D. Farmer of Raleigh. He will have 27 patrolmen under his direction and announces that they will receive instructions to put a stop to roadside "petting" and "spooning" parties on the State highways at night. There is a law on the statute books against parking alongside the highways at night and the patrol chief says he intends to enforce the law in so far as it refers to State thoroughfares. Formal letting of contracts for the building of 38.29 miles of road, the greater part to be of concrete, was another piece of business transacted by the State Highway Commission, low bids totalling around half a million dollars. Ere long the State will be a network of concrete roads and detours, so much despised by motorist, are destined to soon disappear from the map entirely. And nobody will be sorry. Few links in the west remain unconnected and noticeable progress is noted in the eastern section as dirt roads are giving way to concrete.

Raleigh Is Host

The capital city of North Carolina was host on Friday to a party of 125 Vermonters headed by Governor John E. Weeks and Mrs. Weeks who breakfasted at the Sir Walter, later enjoyed an automobile drive over the city and then continued their trip to Columbia South Carolina. The morning repast consisted of fresh strawberries from the trucking section lately placed on the market, country ham, eggs and grits, all products of this good State. The party in which were about thirty charming women, was officially welcomed by the State Attorney General representing the Governor who happened to be away at the time, and the president of the Chamber of Commerce. Souvenirs representative of North Carolina's money crops, cotton, tobacco and peanuts were presented. The visiting Governor responded in happy vein, expressing the pleasure of himself and his party with the wholehearted welcome accorded them and of the interesting and valuable information derived from their personal contact with the people of this section of the country. The special train carried four exhibit cars showing Vermont resources and many Raleigh citizens availed themselves of the opportunity to better inform themselves touching the object of the visit of their northern neighbors.

Raleigh was also host during the week to the 47th annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the diocese of North Carolina which convened at the church of the Good Shepherd. Coming on April 25th, is the district conference Rotary International of the 57th district of the State, at which, it is said, Henry R. Dwire of Winston-Salem, will be elected governor without opposition, succeeding Major George E. Butler of Clinton.

State Debt $174,292,600

Worried Night after Night as health declined

"I SUFFERED frequently from nervous headaches, and could not sleep well." says Mrs. Cora Dover, R. F. D. 2, Hickory Grove, S. C. "I was thin and pale. I was so weak I could scarcely walk."

"I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to help me. Night after night I worried because I could see I was going down-hill. I had my children to look after, and I was afraid of what would become of them if anything happened to me."

"I began to take Cardui. It wasn't long until I was beginning to pick up. My strength gradually began to return. I rested better at night and was less nervous. I took several bottles of Cardui, and when I had finished taking it I was in fine health."
