Friends of John H. Fleming, former county commissioner and progressive farmer of near Norlina, are glad to learn that his condition is improving since an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Fleming was here yesterday. He said that farm work was progressing nicely.

John Purdy, a nephew of E. A. Skillman of Warrenton, who worked here for some time last year, is now in business with his father in McDonough, New York. In comment upon the business which Mr. Purdy senior bought from Mr. Morse who had been his partner for 19 years, the Oxford Review-Times says: "The standing of Mr. Purdy in the community assures success to the new management. The son, John Purdy, is welcomed to the business life of the town. The new firm will be known as 'C. E. Purdy & Son,' and they will carry on as heretofore a general merchandise, trucking and telephone exchange."

Friend of Alex Katzenstein, who has been sick for some time at Warren Plains, are glad to see him again upon the streets of Warrenton. "Mr. Alex" had been a familiar figure about the town and we are glad to see him here again.

W. A. Miles has two window displays this week which are causing general approval. One on sporting goods is seasonable and a "knock-out" right off the bat. The other shows a lawn mower with its blades turning just above a carpet of grass.

"I heard Congressman Kerr at Roxobel-Kelford the other night," Cobb, salesman for the Old Dominion Paper Co. commented here yesterday. "He made a good speech, too, and the house was packed." Congressman Kerr returned to Washington on Wednesday.

Enclosing a clipping from The Tar Heel, student newspaper of the University of North Carolina, a friend from Chapel Hill writes to the editor, "It might be news of interest to the readers of your newspaper that James C. Harris, I think of Inez, has been taken into the Tau Kappa Alpha fraternity, a national forensic organization. Only men who have excelled in the art of debating are taken. Harris has made a noble record on the campus of Carolina this year. He also has been elected to the debate council for the coming year and is one of the most outstanding men on the team that will return to school this Fall."

Charles Kitchelt, Warrenton's efficient decorator and a gentleman of much general information, departed yesterday for Richmond where he will spend several weeks before going to Washington for the remainder of the Summer. He expects to return here in early Fall.

J. Edward Allen, superintendent of education in Warren and fraternal correspondent for the Masonic bodies of the State, was at New Bern on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday attending fraternal meetings.

Friends of Miss Edna Allen, statistical officer for the office of the county superintendent, regret that she has been confined to her home for several days on account of illness.

TRIAL OF MACON

B. S. Jones, W. S. Smiley, Luther Paynter, W. D. Rodgers.

Second week—H. M. Williams, G. W. Little, Lee Loyd, A. L. Fleming, Peter R. Davis, M. C. McGuire, R. H. Frazier, R. J. Bender, A. T. Hanselman, W. C. Mabry, Perry Harris, J. H. Alford, J. E. Rooker, Jr., J. M. Frazier, J. W. Edwards, N. M. Thornton, J. E. Moseley, J. V. Cawthorne.

Judge W. A. Devin of Oxford will preside over the term of court which opens here on Monday morning. He and Judge Barnhill exchanged court and the jurist who was to preside over Warren court will go to Wilson instead.

The court has an unusually small number of cases docketed on both the criminal and civil docket, but the nature of the cases in criminal court is such that many Warren citizens will attend.

Warm weather calls for swimming. Swimming calls for bathing caps. We have them in closing fitting styles that keeps the hair dry. And they are very becoming, too.

Two Irishmen were having a day's shooting with only one gun between them. The man who had the gun saw a bird sitting on the branch of a tree, and prepared to fire at it.

"For goodness sake, Mike, don't shoot," cried the other, "the gun ain't loaded."
"I've got to," yelled Mike, "the bird won't wait."

Dusty days call for frequent shampoos. We have toilet and shampoo soaps that appeal.

A Jew was informed by his bank that he was $2,000 overdrawn in his account. He was indignant at being phoned about such a matter.

"Only look about two months back," he railed, "only look at my account two months back. How much money did I hev in de bank?"

The clerk admitted it was about $2,000.

"Well," sang back the Jew triumphantly, "did I phone you about it?"

Moonlight, a Summer night the girl and a box of our delicious candy are a combination that appeals to many young swains around this section. Candies make an appeal that reaches the heart.

Cares of Office—"Are you favor of prohibition?"
"Absolutely," answered Senator Sorghum.

"Have you ever taken a drink?"
"Occasionally. As a true legislator, I feel it my duty to study both sides of a question."
