IN HONOR OF MRS. DAVIS

The ladies of the Palmer Springs community were delightfully entertained on Tuesday evening, June 25, when Mrs. F. T. Read of Warrenton and Mrs. R. B. Robinson of Littleton gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Arrington Davis of Henderson, who previous to her marriage on June 15 was Miss Elizabeth Read.

The lawn of Mr. and Mrs. A. P Read, already beautiful for situation with its majestic oaks and carpet of green, lent itself well to the decorative hand, presenting a very attractive scene. A rainbow of lovely colors, arched one side of the Rodgers. Dr. C. H. Peete and Bill yard and proved to be a rainbow of fulfillment as well as of promise.

4 o'clock.

The bride, in most becoming attire, with her sister, Miss Elly Davis of Henderson, joined us and then began the entertainment. The ladies were chosen alternately, with Mrs. L. J. Peoples and Mrs. Jas. H. Jeffress as captains. Miss Helen L. Read then gave a most interesting contest, the answers being names of household and kitchen furnishings, was enjoyed by all after showers of cheers, congratulations and good

The bride was led down a rosy strewn path to the end of the Legendary Rainbow to find her pot of gold, which contained many gifts, beautiful and useful, which bespoke in no uncertain terms the love and good wishes for the bride, who in her accustomed grace and dignity returned most appreciative

Mrs. A. P. Read and Mrs. Robert Tanner, assisted by the girls, served delightful refreshments of ice and cake in several pastel shades. There were about seventy five friends present. Many visitors from Henderson, Warrenton, Ridgeway and elsewhere added great interest.

The bride returned to her home in Henderson lad en with gifts of love and best wishes. The party adjourned agreeing it was a most enjoyable occasion.

The Family Medicine Chest

In ye good old days when roads were seas of mud and messages were sent by grape-vine or a la Paul Revere, the family medicine chest was an institution in almost every home. The telephone and good roads have made us careless in this regard, BUT-

There Is Need Today

FOR every precaution for the preservation of health and the family medicine chest still has its place.

We wonder if yours is filled with the household remedies which you may need at any hour of the day or night. Better safe than sorry—be prepared to take the stitch in time. Of course, we have what you want in the medicinal line.
