That Justice May Ever Have A Champion; That Evil Shall Not Flourish Unchallenged.

Entered at the post office at Warrenton, North Carolina, under Act of Congress of 1879.

And you are a good ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness.—venemian 5:11.

To the man who has to work for his living; to the man who thinks it would be so much more pleasant to live at his ease in a pannelstery than to work eight or ten hours a day; to the man of talent and action and industry, whose future is invested in that tranquility and order of State in which talent and action and industry are a certain capital; why, the great bankers had better encourage a theory to upset the system of banking! Whatever disturbs society, yea, even by a causeless panic, much more by an actual struggle, falls first upon the market of labor and then affects prejudicially every department of intelligence. In such times, the arts are arrested, literature is neglected, people are too busy to read anything save appeals to their passions. And capital, shaken in its sense of security, no longer ventures boldly through the land, calling forth all the energies of toil and enterprise, and extending to every workman his reward.—Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton.

FROM THE DAILY PRESS
 A great many reports lie before Congress, if you get what we mean.—Nashville Banner.

Carl Van Doren, author, says one has to be a little crazy to write a book. A little?—Washington Post.

Funds for Prohibition enforcement are the intake, for the upkeep of the downput of the output.—Arkansas Gazette.

It is mighty hard to make a spendthrift understand that to make money last he must make it first.—Louisville Times.

Funny banks. Trust half a million to a crooked messenger boy, and won't take an honest man's note for fifty.—Los Angeles Times.

A big fish bit a man in the face the other day, it is reported, because he was watching its antics with bated breath.—Florida Times-Union.

Though the National campaign is happily over by a year, Bishop James Cannon is still booming away over in Virginia, using the same ammunition of Raskob and rum in their State election. We hope the Democratic party of our sister State will repulse the assaults of the political-preacher.

HELP THE LIBRARY

Numerous responses to the invitation to become a member of the Warren County Memorial Library association are being received through the mails. Yet the goal is far away.

The library performs a growing service in this country. It is an institution of merit, one which has proved its value through the type of its literature and general use by citizens of all sections. It is wise to place the annual appeal for funds upon a membership basis. Invest something now for this purpose.

WHERE DO WE PARK?

The board of town commissioners will meet next Tuesday evening, and we hope that they will make some change in the parking law of the town. We believe that parking on one side at an angle would be much better. Then allow drivers to stop for a few minutes, straight with the curb, on the other side.

It is worth a trial, and it

"This Will Be Hard On Some Business" will not cost the town anything to try it. Why not then?

THE DUTY PLAIN

Citizens of North Carolina will commend generally Governor Gardner's decision to have a special investigation conducted at Marion. The people of the State are not satisfied with the report of the grand jury, with what appears to be a "whitewash" of a situation which calls for straight thinking and courageous conduct, allowing the chips to fall where they may.

Mrs. Wiggins was shot down in broad daylight. Enroute to a meeting, which she thought she had every right to attend—and correctly—her blood stained Carolina highways and smearing the honor of this Commonwealth.

Every resource at the command of the State should be used, to see that this blot is removed insofar as it is humanly possible. As the late Tom Marshall once remarked, in speaking of the duty of the law, "No one should be so high as to be beyond its punishment and no one should be so low as to be beneath its protection."

SUGGESTS REFERENDUM

Editor, The Warren Record, Sir:—How about the Board of Commissioners asking the Board of Elections to ascertain the will of the people in regard to the county road system? As things now stand we lose the board of prisoners as well as court costs. At present there are six able-bodied men in jail being boarded at the expense of the taxpayers of the county. Court cost on these men will run from $30 to $60 each. If the Board of Elections will have ballots printed, "For" and "Against", a unit system, we can find out the will of the majority and govern ourselves accordingly. It certainly can not be any harm to know what the folks want.

TO THE KIWANIS CLUB

Editor, The Warren Record, Sir: We wonder if you have a niche for the following from The Presbyterian Standard.

The writer has no desire that the Kiwanians should be exclusively a religious order; but this has so much that is in accord with Kiwanian dope that we would like to dedicate it to them.

At Church Next Sunday

If I knew you and you knew me, How little trouble there would be! We pass each other on the street, But just come out and let us meet At church next Sunday.

Each one intends to do what's fair, And treat his neighbor on the square; But he may not quite understand Why you don't take him by the hand At church next Sunday.

This world is sure a busy place, And we must hustle in the race; For social hours some are not free The six week days, but should be At church next Sunday.

We have an interest in our town, The dear old place must not go down; We want to push good things along, And we can help some if we're strong At church next Sunday.

Don't knock and kick and slam and slap At everybody on the map, But push and pull and boost and boom, And use up all the standing room At church next Sunday.

A TRIBUTE AND A PRAYER

North Carolina has met all the vicissitudes of its long life, whether in war or peace, with a certain grim constancy and courage, and a quality of quiet wisdom. In the last forty years a passion for civic virtue, a genius for doing big things in a big way and a tenderer and stronger will to render high service to all its people, has illuminated the life of this serious old state. North Carolina has found the way to walk in the path of true greatness in this Republican family.

There remains yet, of course, much to do, but let us remember that progress is measured by the distance one has traveled, as by the point one has traveled. New and unimagined problems menace its life and paralyze its growth. I pray and believe that this old birthplace will not weary of doing, and will continue to nourish my pride and gratitude and the pride and gratitude of us, seeking to do our throughout the nation and world, for the privilege of and rearing among so just, lovable, and purposeful, and reliant a people.—Edwin A. TEST No. 1

Never mind the "high pressure" sales talk—insist on making the 1-2 TEST and getting the PROOF before you buy your tire.

Come into our store and make the 1-2 Test for yourself. See the Goodyear Tire demonstrate before your very eyes the definite superiority of both (1) TREAD and (2) CARCASS. So simple a child can understand:

Test No. 1: Press your palm down on the Goodyear All-Weather Tread and feel how the deep-cut sharp-edged blocks grip and pinch the flesh. That is what the Goodyear Tread does on the surface of the road, and why it has superior traction.

TEST No. 2

Test No. 2: This machine shows you the 60% greater stretch in Goodyear SUPERTWIST Cord. This extra stretch gives the Goodyear Supertwist Carcass its extra life, enabling it to withstand road shocks and continuous flexing without premature failure.
