That Justice May Ever Have A Champion; That Evil Shall Not Flourish Unchallenged.

Entered at the Postoffice at Warrenton, North Carolina, under Act of Congress of 1879.

O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of His praise to be heard; Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.—Psalm 66:8, 9.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A CANNERY

Word that Warrenton may obtain a government cannery to take care of the beef from cattle shipped here from drought areas of the west has aroused considerable interest among citizens of Warrenton and it is believed that a large crowd will be on hand for the mass meeting to be called as soon as Mr. Nance of the Department of Agriculture can come here to make known his plans and what will be required of the Warren citizens to obtain the industry.

It is understood that the cannery will give employment to about 100 persons and that its monthly payroll will be approximately $2500, covering a two-year period.

It may be that the town will be asked to supply water and power and building, but whether or not this is the case can not be definitely known until Mr. Nance meets with the citizens.

Until then the only definite fact known is that Warrenton wants this cannery established here and that its citizens are perfectly willing to make concessions to obtain it.

The advantage of an industry locating here for a two-year period giving employment to 100 citizens with a steady payroll is perfectly obvious to all our business people. We feel that it should be so obvious that merchants will donate a considerable sum towards the raising of necessary funds beyond that which may be granted by the town and county governing authorities.

Quite naturally, the main consideration given the venture has been one of profit to be derived from the government payroll and from the steady employment of an additional number of citizens.

There is, however, another angle to the matter. The cannery is to be established as a relief project by the government and its product distributed to the destitute citizens of the county. Under the circumstances any sum of money raised by the citizens of town and county will be in the nature of a contribution to help the Federal government help our own people. Therefore, with this double objective, we feel that our citizens are going to make every reasonable concession to have the cannery established at Warrenton.

By BIGNALL JONES

So long as there are enough citizens in Warren county who are willing to work for the prevailing wage scale rather than to accept higher per hour pay as objects of charity on government relief rools, I am not unduly alarmed about the government's policy destroying our labor market. In spite of the relief agencies, there are any number of citizens in the county who are anxious to secure jobs as laborers paying from 10 to 15 cents an hour. That being true, what really matters the government's 25 or 30 cents an hour for a smaller number of hours per week?

Neither am I greatly alarmed over charges that many citizens working on relief projects are lazy and inefficient. I think it true that many of them fall into this category, but there are others so employed who are just down on their luck, seeking to keep body and soul together by obtaining whatever honest work they can obtain, making a valiant effort to obtain work elsewhere, and turning to the government as a last resort in their necessity. I can feel no shame that they do not turn in vain to a government that realizes it owes a duty to those who through birth, environment or hard luck are down beneath the level of those citizens who earn much more with less effort.

And it occurs to me that if charges be true that the government is taking care of a bunch of worthless citizens who should be forced to work harder for less pay or starve, still that works no ill luck to our community. For if only the energetic and efficient were employed by the relief agencies, we who like to have the efficient as our own employees, would be disappointed and forced to rely upon those whom the government has now removed from our surplus, leaving us, if charges be true, the best from which to pick and choose.

Despite a lot of talk to the contrary about letting people starve, a civilized people in a land of plenty are not willingly going to let this happen.

I am not particularly proud of the fact that the Federal government has found it necessary to help us take care of people who are our own responsibility, but as I struggle for my own subsistence it seems that I should not be ungrateful to an agency that, wisely or unwisely, is removing a part of a burden from my own shoulders. Were it not for the government relief, I know that many now being thus supported would be in the County Home and a direct burden upon the taxpayers of Warren County.

With so much of the money of our citizens dissipated in the great stock gamble, with cotton and tobacco selling at the low figures they have during the past few years, with our people burdened with debts, I feel that the $700 a month sent into this county for relief purposes is a great boost to business, and sometimes I wonder if it were not for this fund, and for the other hundred of thousands sent in for crop reductions, how we could manage to pull through.
