BOARD TO ASK NORLINA LOAN

Committee Requests That $5000 Be Borrowed For Back Pay of Chappell

HAVE A LIGHT SESSION

The board of county commissioners on Monday ordered that $5000 be borrowed for the Norlina school district to pay back salary of S. G. Chappell, former principal of the Norlina school. Application for the loan is to follow the same procedure as that of the borrowing of $10,000 in the spring to pay litigation and other school debts and was made at the request of the Norlina school committee.

Business was before the county governing body on Monday and an appointment came early in the afternoon.

The board ordered that the tax on the school district of Jenkins town be reduced, the having sold the school property, and that the school district purchaser be charged with the tax.

Edward Felts of Hawthorn was exempted from the payment of the tax on account of physical disability.

W. H. Jones, editor of the Norlina Record, was appointed to discover the amount of taxes in Warren county, in accordance with a proposition made at the October meeting.

Reports of two mad dog cases were brought before the commissioners and they ordered that the owners of education pay $25 cost for the treatment given Maco. Moseley, and that $25 be paid from Warren for each of dog bitten by mad dog, the animal of Mr. Weidner having been valued for taxation at $50.

Kena Williams of Roanoke Township was put on the outside pauper list and will be paid $3 per month. A hospital bill of E. A. Alston in the sum of $14.35 was ordered paid.

Light Vote Cast In Warren; Nation Okehs New Deal

Official returns made here yesterday to the board of canvassers revealed that eleven ballots were cast by Warren county voters for Republican nominees in the general election on Tuesday which from a county, state and national standpoint went overwhelmingly Democratic.

No opposition was registered to any of the Democratic nominees in Warren county, the eleven votes for Republicans being cast for those seeking state offices.

The approximate 1100 voters who went to the polls on Tuesday reported about 30 per cent of the voters who cast their ballots in the primary held here in June when interest was at a high pitch on account of local opposition.

The fact that all the Democratic nominees received about the same number of votes, between 1040 and 1080, indicates that practically all those who went to the polls in this county voted straight tickets.

William H. Burroughs led the county ballot with a total of 1970 votes and Judge R. Hunt Parker ed the state ballot in Warren county with 1078 votes.

A. A. Whitener, Republican nominee for Chief Justice of the Supreme court, tied with W. H. Fisher, Republican nominee for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, for honors on the Republican side of the ballot. Each of these nominees received 11 votes, while their Democratic opponents, Walter P. Stacy and Michael Schenck, received 1064 votes and 1043 votes.

STRENGTH OF REPUBLICANS REDUCED TO LOWEST POINT

Washington, Nov. 8.—The New Deal, just two years old, but grown to a giant under President Roosevelt's care, was shown today to have consumed the most devastating off-year political sweep in more than a century.

Late returns from Tuesday's balloting found the Democratic forces with a better than three to one majority in the House, and better than two to one in the Senate.

In the Senate, should Senators Cutting, Independent Republican and Hatch, Roosevelt Democrat, hold their leads in the long and short term contests in New Mexico, the line-up will be:
Democrats, 69; Republicans, 24; Progressives and Farmer-Laborites, one apiece.

House Standing

In the House, with only a handful of contests undecided and with the New Deal forces mathematically sure of swelling their huge majority, the line-up, almost completed, early today stood:
Democrats, 311; Republicans, 101; Progressives, 7; and Farmer-Laborites, 3.

In the 33 gubernatorial contests, with Republican Harry W. Nice apparently having blasted the fifth-term hopes of Democratic Governor Albert C. Ritchie in Maryland, the Democratic forces apparently were successful in 24 instances. Republicans appeared to have won seven seats, with the Progressives and Farmer-Laborites holding one apiece. This would give Democrats 38 of the 48 executive chairs.

Not since the "off-year" elections 132 years ago, when the Federalists, now Republicans, were swept from

Carolinas' Woman Champion Wins On Local Golf Links

The invitational handicap golf tournament held here on Wednesday between ladies of the Wilson, Chapel Hill, Raleigh and Warrenton golf clubs has held an auspicious place in the social chatter of the town for the past two days.

The tournament, apparently, ended pleasantly for all those who took part and triumphantly for each of the clubs which participated. The final scores revealed that each of the clubs that entered into the play won a prize.

Miss Estelle Lawson, representative of the Chapel Hill club and at one time state champion for both North and South Carolina, upheld her reputation as a crack golf player.

MORE PIE—Raleigh will be headquarters for about 15 counties in taking the mid-decennial agricultural census and approximately 204 enumerators will get on the federal payroll in this district. The appointments are due about November 15 and with about 100 jobs to be dispensed in the Fourth District, Congressman Harold D. Cooley and Senator Josiah Bailey will doubtless be busy juggling applications with a view to future campaigns. Get yours in early, boys.

SAY HE'S OUT—Friends and fellow-townsmen of former Lieutenant Governor Richard T. Fountain, of Rocky Mount and unsuccessful opponent of Governor Ehringhaus in the primaries of 1932, will tell you positively that he is not entertaining any idea of seeking to acquire Senator Bailey's toga in 1936. However, Mr. Fountain might be a great help to some other easterner desiring to sit in the "most august body in the world," if you get what we mean.

KILLING JOB—Members of the State Highway and Public Works Commission have asked the Budget Commission to provide for an assistant chairman. They attribute the collapse of Chairman E. B. Jeffress' health to over work. Hearing all the delegations that come to Raleigh on road matters and supervising the vast highway and prison organizations is something more than a bowl of cherries.

John Graham High School Boy To Be Presented Fountain Pen

MISS SEAMAN IS SECOND

Ralph Williams, student in the John Graham High School, is winner in the wheat growing essay contest among Warren county schools and will be presented with a Parker Fountain pen, offered by Edmund White, owner of White's Flour & Meal Mill of Warrenton.

Miss Margaret Seaman of the Norlina High School ran Williams a close race and wins second honors, which, however, carry no prize reward.

The essay contest sponsored by Mr. White in co-operation with The Warren Record brought forth a number of creditable papers from students of the Norlina and Warrenton schools on the subject of "Why Warren County Farmers Should Grow More Wheat For Home Consumption." Other county schools were invited to but did not participate.

Judges of the essays were Bignall Jones of The Warren Record, A. R. Ammons, teacher of Agriculture in the Norlina High School, and Bob Bright, county agent.

The winning paper of Ralph Williams is printed below:

By RALPH WILLIAMS

The growth of wheat for home consumption should be a most important subject with Warren county farmers. It is much cheaper to grow wheat at home and have it ground than it is to buy flour. Approximately one-fifth of the diet of the average family is composed of wheat. The satisfaction of using home-grown products gives the farmer a feeling of self-confidence. This feeling should prevail among farmers all over the county. If this feeling were predominant in America, and the farmers did not depend so much on the prices of tobacco and cotton, the effects of the depression would not be directly felt. When the ground is broken up and

HEAVY SESSION COUNTY COURT

Whiskey A Factor In Major- ity Cases Before Judge Taylor On Monday

HENDERSON MAN TRIED

Judge W. W. Taylor presided over one of the biggest sessions of Recorder's court on Monday morning that has been held here in months when nine cases involving twelve defendants were presented before him for trial. Whiskey figured directly or indirectly in practically all the cases.

A jury decided that C. A. Clark was not guilty of carrying a concealed weapon but on another count held that he had violated the law by possessing and transporting whiskey for the purpose of sale.

Clark, a white man of Henderson, was arrested with J. C. Knight several weeks ago near Warrenton when Sheriff W. J. Pinnell, Deputy Lawrence Robertson, Night Officer Lee Wilson and Owen Robertson found fifteen gallons of whiskey in the car in which they were riding. When the arrest was made, a pistol was found in the foot of the car, and Sheriff Pinnell and Deputy Robertson were firm in their belief that Clark slipped it out of his coat or shirt and let it slide to the floor of the car; however, the two officers told Attorney William Taylor Jr., that they did not see Clark remove the gun from about his person. Sheriff Pinnell testified that he heard the weapon hit the floor but that he did not see the defendant take the weapon out of his clothes.

Knight was also indicted with Clark on the whiskey count, but he was found not guilty after testimony had been given tending to show that

Forester Asks Hunters To Use Care With Fire

Forest fires that annually destroy several hundred thousand dollars of property, in eastern North Carolina, have started again, and once more threaten our most valuable natural resource with needless destruction, stated District Forester, L. A. Carter of the Department of Conservation and Development.

Right now, Mr. Carter said, there is more grass in the fields and woods than there has been for a long time, every bit of it is as dry as tinder, and any little carelessly dropped spark may easily cause a serious fire.

Records show that hunters have been responsible for about half of the fall fires in recent years and smokers the cause of about one fourth of the balance. Every forest fire destroys not only the forest but the game as well.

Every hunter, who carelessly throws away a match, cigarette or pipe heel and every raccoon or opossum hunter who leaves a warming fire without fully extinguishing it may easily cause the destruction of his hunting ground and the game with it, the district forester stated.

"Forest fire prevention is only a matter of using a little common sense and being careful to completely put out every spark of fire when on or near any woods land," continued Mr. Carter. "By exercising the same care in the woods or fields as we would in a man's home we can protect his woods land that is often more valuable than the home."

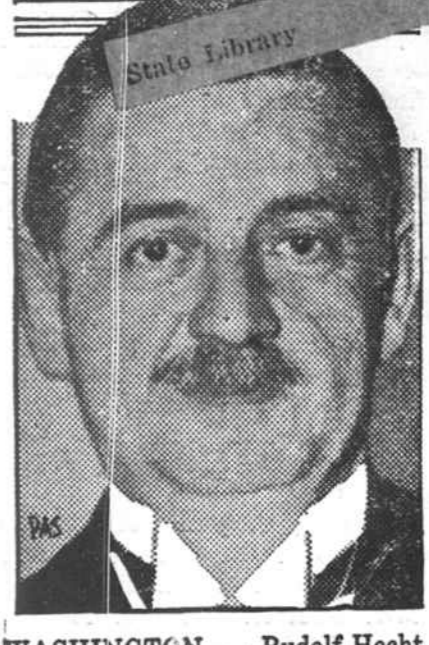

Warrenton Wins Over Spring Hope

By JAMES POLK

Everyone who saw the Spring Hope game here last Friday said that it was the best football game ever played here. Spring Hope has always had a fast and dangerous team and this year they showed the same speed and trick plays that almost spoiled a good game for Warrenton. The Warrenton boys were in on every play, though, breaking up passes and closing in on the runner. The real star of the game was George Floyd who turned threatening defeat into a great victory for Warrenton when he intercepted a forward pass and ran 30 yards through the Spring Hope line for the long awaited touchdown. With a 6-0 lead Warrenton could rest easier. Spring Hope had a touchdown too—almost. Receiving a long pass over the goal line, the player fumbled the ball and dropped a tie score, possibly a victory. Terrell and Miles played their usual strong game in the backfield.

Red Cross To Make Annual Roll Call On Sunday

The annual Red Cross Roll Call will begin in Warrenton county on Sunday with a house-to-house canvass at Warrenton to secure $1 membership tips into the national organization. The drive for funds will be continued through Thanksgiving.

Citizens of Warrenton are asked to remain at home on Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock in order that they may be reached by members of the canvassing committees who will go to the Parish House to make their report.

E. G. (Zapp) Allen, county roll call chairman, said yesterday afternoon that he had already seen several ministers and they had expressed their willingness to cooperate by calling attention to the drive at their respective churches on Sunday and that he would get in touch with the other ministers today or tomorrow and ask for their help in reminding members of their congregations of the roll call and the work of the Red Cross.

William W. Taylor Jr., is in charge of the drive at Warrenton on Sunday. He expressed the hope that the membership here would be large and asked that those who are unable to be at home to leave their money where it could be found by members of the canvassing committee.

By HOWARD JONES JR. Red Cross Publicity Chairman

The Red Cross is being unjustly criticized in Warrenton county due to the fact that a number of people have this organization confused with ERA.

This confusion evolved from the fact that before the Red Cross, the first organization to administer relief in this county, had completed its job of distributing the flour which was turned over to it by the government to succor suffering humanity, the CWA, later the ERA, was created, and relief work has gone along without interruption. Consequently, a class of people who know that they first got relief from the Red Cross and that they are still being helped think that the Red Cross is their benefactor.

The misapprehension of these people who reply "I don't have to work; I see on the Cross" has been responsible for misleading a generous public. As a matter of fact the Red Cross is not feeding anybody in Warrenton county nor has it done so in some time.

It was about two years ago when the Red Cross started distributing flour which was turned over to it by the United States government for the benefit of people who were suffering from the lack of food. While hundreds of people felt relief from the pangs of hunger as the result of the generosity of the government in making bread available to them, a quantity of this flour fell into hands of unworthy persons.

GIBBS RESIGNS, POLK APPOINTED

Commissioners Accept Res- ignation of Mayor With Expressions of Regret

CHANGE NIGHT OFFICER

Frank H. Gibbs tendered his resignation as mayor to the board of town commissioners in regular session here Monday night, effective at the close of the session and the board accepted his resignation with regrets.

William T. Polk, law partner of Gibbs, president of the North Carolina Library movement, President of the Warren County Memorial Library, and well known writer and speaker, was appointed by the board to fill the unexpired term of Mayor Gibbs.

Mayor Gibbs, who has been Mayor of Warrenton since the spring of 1920 and who has been re-elected without opposition each two years since, expressed his regrets in severing his official connection with the members of the town council and said that association with these gentlemen has been very enjoyable. He explained that he would be busy familiarizing himself with several phases of his new duties as Senator from Warren county in the General Assembly and felt that his resignation should be made effective immediately.

Commissioner Macy Pridden moved that Mayor Gibbs be given a recess during the session of the Assembly instead of accepting his resignation. Mayor Gibbs said that

Warren Farmers Receive 1000 Bales Out Of Allotment

By BOB BRIGHT

The cotton farmers in this county received approximately one thousand bales of cotton out the ten percent that was reserved by the State. This ten per cent was reserved for the following cases: 1. Farmers that planted to cotton less than one third of their open land from 1930-32. 2. Producers that made a yield of one third less than their five year average 1928-32. 3. Producers that received less than 60 per cent of their 1929 production. 5. Those that produced cotton in 1933-34 for the first time since 1927.

All producers did not qualify for this extra allotment, but those that did have been notified and should call for their certificates at once. In case they have bought certificates I will be able to sell the surplus.

I am expecting to receive within the next few days the second rental checks for cotton and the party payments. The first compliance papers plus the first parity payments will amount to $61,000. This does not mean that we have the checks on hand and I am requesting all persons not call for their checks until they have been notified that they are here.

Flour Mill Force Play Firemen's Part

Members of White's flour and glu force, led by Hugh Holt, proved their fire-fighting qualities on Monday when they left their work to check the blaze which was eating its way into the home of Pattie Harris, negro residence located a short distance from the gin.

The fire was reported to Mr. Holt who phoned in the alarm before gathering his force and hurrying to the home to render aid. Reaching the scene they used chemicals kept at the gin and had the fire under control before the fire company arrived and took charge.

Damage to the home was comparatively slight. The fire is believed to have originated from a faulty flue.
