Exchange Student Is Rotary Club Speaker

A charming Chowan College coed from Zaandam, Holland, spoke to the Warrenton Rotary Club on Tuesday night at the club's regular meeting at Hotel Warren.
Aletje W. M. Van Aardenne, who attends Chowan College, Murfreesboro, on a scholarship sponsored by Rotary District 771, related events of interest she has experienced since coming to North Carolina for a year of study.

MISS VAN AARDENNE

Among the things that she does not like about America are the commercials on TV and the rock-and-roll music on the radio. At first, she said, she liked the music, but it has become very tiresome. There are no commercials on the government sponsored TV in Holland, she said, and defended these programs during a question period following her talk.
Holland is the most crowded country in the world, Miss Aardenne said, and what struck her most was the room in America. She said that she was somewhat appalled at the waste in this country. She had also been led to believe from magazines that she had read that everyone in America was rich, relating that a favorite expression in Holland is that "I wish I had a rich uncle in America."
It was a little hard for her to get used to seeing people eat corn on the cob in this country as in Holland corn is only fed to swine, but she said that it was equally as hard for Americans to get used to eating herrings raw as is done in Holland, where they are considered a delicacy.

and Jimmie Webb, received engraved penholders containing a statuette of a basketball player. Each player received a statuette of a basketball player engraved with his name and the season of play. The engraving was done by A. C. Fair, local jeweler, as a tribute to the coaches and players.
The presentation of awards followed a women's basketball game in which the teachers proved no match for the parents. Actually it was more comedy than basketball, as many comic stunts were pulled by players during the game, such as having three boys dressed as girls with blond wigs enter the game at one point, the using of a catalogue as a ladder under the basket, and other monkeyshines. It was anything for a laugh, but the teachers were downed in spite of this.
During the intermission of both the men's and women's games, spectators got an opportunity to see basketball players of the future as Coach Bud Gaston fielded boys and girls teams from the Nathaniel Macon School at Macon. Considerable talent was indicated in spite of a lack of practice on the part of the young people.
Al Mustian and William Thompson were the referees for all the games.
The men teachers and the men parents early indicated that they came out to play basketball with no foolishness. The teachers had to dip into the school board for one of its players A. C. Blaylock, to field five players. Others were allocated to the county.
The commissioners received another example of an unplanned sub-division on Kerr Lake, when John Piland of Raleigh appeared to request that the county ask the State Highway Commissioners to take streets in the Kimball Landing subdivision into the county system. He said that while only 40 feet had been provided for street right-of-ways in the development, that property owners had agreed to cut off enough of their lots to give a 50-foot right-of-way.
Piland was told that the commissioners had an appointment with District Engineer Roger Dowtin to inspect nearby Rose Hill Development—where right-of-ways were too narrow—on Thursday and that they would inspect the Kimball Landing development at that time.
The commissioners ordered that $50.00 be appropriated for the burial of Walter Robinson, a pauper.
A. P. Rodwell, Jr., Tax Collector, reported taxes collected to date in the amount of $312,007.36. Of this amount $7,961.33 was collected in March. Rodwell said that collections were running slightly ahead of collections for the same period a year ago.

Land Sales To Be Held On First Monday In June

The Board of County Commissioners on Monday ordered that real estate upon which 1961 taxes have not been paid be advertised for sale in May and sold at the court house door the first Monday in June.
In other action before the board, the commissioners appropriated the sum of $400 for treating the Health Department for termites. Dr. W. Burns Jones, Health Director, told the commissioners that termites were causing considerable damage to the health building and that he had received a bid from the Orkin Company in the amount of $400 for their elimination. He said that the Health Department had a balance of some $250 in its maintenance fund that could be used for this purpose. The $150 difference was ordered charged to the emergency fund.
Hope that the State Highway Department would harden a road leading to Fairview Cemetery from highway surplus funds was killed when a letter from the department was read stating that the road did not qualify for such funds. The department said that the road would have to be put under the county's priority system and paved with funds

379 Farms Signed For Feed Grain Program

Producers on 379 Warren County farms had filed forms indicating their intention to participate in the 1962 feed grain program at the close of the signup period on March 30, T. E. Watson, officer manager of the local ASCS Committee, said yesterday.
In an effort to increase farm income and to stop the build-up of feed grain supplies, the program provides special payments to corn and grain sorghum producers who agreed to divert a portion of the acreage formerly planted to these two crops to an approved conservation use, Watson said. While the program was voluntary, corn and grain sorghum producers will not be eligible for price support on those commodities unless they cooperate in the feed grain program, he added.
Watson reported that 2782 acres of corn and 85 acres of grain sorghum on the "participating" farms have been signed up for diversion to conservation uses. These farms have 1959-60 base acreages totaling 4,435 acres for corn and 123 acres for grain sorghum. The minimum and maximum diversions for a particular farm are calculated from its 1959-60 base acreage.
Advance payments for diversion from corn and grain sorghum production total $32,460.91. This advance payment is less than half of the total payment. Final payment will be made after the farms are visited to measure diverted and planted acreage.
