

Scenes From Warrenton-Norlina Game Tuesday Night

Clinton Neal and Carl White battle for the ball following unsuccessful shot as Herman Rooker (41) and Billy Fuller look on. In the background is Al Blalock.

Chocky White of Warrenton is down court on a fast break for the lay-up. White's basket in the final seconds of play on an outside shot won the game for Warrenton.

Billy Rogers (35) and Norlina's Bobby Jones, Billy Fuller, and Buck Wiggins battle for ball following jump at foul circle.

Carl white of Norlina fails to block the shot of Warrenton's Chocky White. Coming up on the play are Norlina's John Perkins (5) and Hayes.

Industry Expansion At New Area Peak

Henderson— A record 81 new industrial plants and 136 expansions—representing investments of $194.8 million—were announced during 1964 in the two state region served by Carolina Power & Light Company.

The 1964 figures top last year's $103 million and 1962's $110 million.

Dan E. Stewart, CP&L, vice-president for area development, describes the growth record as "an all-time high which demonstrates the close operation and hard work put forth by State and local industrial development agencies other utilities and individuals."

Stewart said the industrial growth will create directly about 16,000 new jobs and add $56 million a year in payrolls directly to the economy.

The 1964 expansion brought to the CP&L area seven more of the nation's 500 largest industrial firms, making a total of 54 companies among Fortune Magazine's "Big 500" which now have 108 plants in the CP&L region.

JFK Shrine

Washington— The historic meadow at Runnymede, England of which the British Government plans to set aside an acre for a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy, has had previous American connections.

The 160-acre meadowland once was part of a large estate owned by an American-born woman, Lady Fairhaven, says the National Geographic. She died in 1939, leaving the historic grounds to the British Government. The Runnymede meadow now is held jointly by the British National Trust and the local county council.

What to do until an emergency happens

Emergencies have practically no sense of fair play. And almost always pick the worst possible time to happen.

People seem to prefer the day your insurance lapses to trip on your sidewalk, for example.

And the car usually waits until your bank account registers empty before demanding expensive repairs.

There's no fighting it. But you can be ready. By tucking away some reserve funds in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds, themselves, are emergency proof. You can't lose the money you invest in them, even if fire, flood, robbers or plain carelessness causes you to lose the Bonds.

And when something expensive happens, you can just take them into any bank and get yourself solvent again.

In the meantime, Uncle Sam uses your Bond dollars to handle other urgent matters, like taking care of your freedom.

Buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Get yourself really prepared and you might even discourage a few emergencies from ever happening.

Keep freedom in your future with
