Get Experience On Job

Two manpower enrollees are now working for the Town of Warrenton. They are Mrs. Deborah Clary and Bobby Davis.

A 1974 graduate of John Graham High School, Mrs. Clary has been working on the program for four months and performs general office work. The youthful wife and mother said "I really enjoy my work and would like to further my education in bookkeeping, typing and shorthand in order to get a permanent position."

Bobby, a seventh grade drop out, helps with the operation of the water plant and related areas. Since working on this program, he has progressed to the tenth grade level through remedial education sponsored by Vance-Granville Technical Institute. He is mechanically motivated and wishes to pursue a career as an automobile mechanic.

Mrs. Miriam Coleman, town clerk, said "These two persons are very helpful and efficient workers, get along well with others, and we are very delighted to have them."

The Manpower Program is sponsored by Franklin-Vance-Warren Opportunity, Inc., a Henderson-based Community Action Agency. Mrs. Maxine L. Parrish, deputy director of the Manpower Work Experience Program is field coordinator for Warren County.

annual banquet of the North Carolina Academy of Trial Lawyers held at Raleigh on Jan. 16, according to a news story in The Franklin Times last week.

The award, planned by the Academy is an annual award to a judge each year, the newspaper stated. Judge Hobgood is the first recipient of the award.

Bill Thorpe of Rocky Mount presided over the meeting of some 350 lawyers at the banquet with presentation of the award being made by Eugene Phillips of Winston-Salem. The award cited Hobgood for his distinguished and exemplary service as a Superior Court Judge. The award states:

"Be it known to all people that on the 16th day of January in the year of Our Lord the one thousand nine hundred seventy-six, in the year of American Independence the Two Hundredth, The North Carolina Academy of Trial Lawyers in convention assembled at Raleigh, North Carolina, in recognition of his distinguished and exemplary service as a Superior Court Judge presented the Walter Clark Award to Hamilton H. Hobgood. Ever mindful that judges must first honor the law and control themselves before they and the law can justly control others, Judge Hobgood has been fair by being considerate; has been firm by first being forbearing; has been equitable and merciful by first being patient and understanding; and has been just by first adhering to the law. By quietly and persistently so discharging his judicial duties, in all seasons and at all places, he has contributed significantly to the security of our people, the effectiveness of our system of justice and the peace and dignity of our state."
