

Groom, Brewer and Booth Are Queens Homecoming Queens Elected At Hawkins

By JULIA BURRIS
Brewer, Groom, and Booth are the names of the homecoming queens of Hawkins Junior High School announced Monday during half-time activities at the John R. Hawkins Gymnasium. The activity was sponsored by the Athletic Department.

Ana Brewer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brewer of Norlina. Ana is a 13-year-old eighth grade student and a member of the Hawkins Honor Society and attends church in Henderson. She enjoys bike riding, swimming, and being with friends. She said she feels that it is an honor to be a Hawkins Homecoming Queen.

Julia Groom, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Groom of Soul City, is an eighth grade student and is active in campus organizations. She is a member of the Hawkins Honor Society, John Graham-Hawkins Band and Cheering Squad. Her hobbies include writing and photography. Someday she would like to become a writer.

Sheila Ann Booth, born May 8, 1961, in Warrenton, is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Rene Booth. Sheila is a ninth grade student born under the sign of Taurus. She likes to think of herself as "nice and polite." After high school, she plans to attend college and major in engineering.

The queens were crowned by Kenneth Bobbitt, captain of the boy's team. Bouquets of flowers were presented to the queens by Beverly Williams, captain of the girl's team. Gifts were presented to the queens by the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade classes.

Several performances were given in honor of the queens. "The Way We Were," was sung by Miss Gayle Bullock, an eighth grade language arts and history teacher of Hawkins. "Falling In Love" (special dedication) by Almeda Moore, Shaft Dancers 76, one selection from the school band, and "This Is Your Life" sung by Diane Davis, Dorothy Davis, and Steve Hyman.

Following the game and activities, a dance was held at the John R. Hawkins Gymnasium, with music by The Funkie Connection Band.

Students Walk Dinosaur Paths

By GAIL MURRAY
On Friday, Jan. 23, students from Mrs. Cora Hawkins' 10th. grade biology classes took a trip to the North Carolina Museum of Life and Sciences in Durham.

At the museum they visited the aerospace building with the space suits worn by John Glenn and Frank Borman, the geology building with the footprint of a dinosaur and the dinosaur and jungle trail with life-size models of prehistoric creatures. They saw primate and carnivorous animals, crocodiles, and salt-water aquariums teeming with marine life.

They also visited the Redstone Rocket and the Z. Smith Reynolds Space dome which houses one of the nation's finest aerospace collections. The live animal collection is what fascinated everyone most. Some liked the lions and the peacocks, others liked the barnyard collection's horse and the forest's most graceful animal, the deer.

Others watched with interest the various snakes, gazed in wonder at the size of the python and shuttered at the vision of what that powerful snake could do, but everyone enjoyed watching the monkeys perform their humorous and human-like antics.

It was a day to remember. Students who visited the museum were Hattie Milam, Gale Murray, Nadine Harris, Josephine Davis, Barbara Alston, Dorothy Richardson, Rita Rivers, Shirley Hudgins, Lucy Brown, Vivian Webb,

Workers Recognized

The Northside School Food Service has been recognized for its outstanding promotional effort in carrying out the Bicentennial themes each month.

The Food Service Staff, along with the students and some faculty members, work earnestly to make this project a success.

Mrs. J. A. Young and Mrs. J.

R. Whitmore, faculty members, make outstanding contributions to the effort by making and displaying the Bicentennial Poster in the cafeteria each month.

The Food Service Manager has been awarded a Child Nutrition Bicentennial School Banner by the State Director of School Food Service for this work.

Conn Is New

Arcola 4-H President
Eddie Conn was elected president of the Arcola 4-H Club at the organization's January meeting held at the Arcola Club House earlier this month.

Other officers named to head the club were Tim Harris, vice president; Cory Conn, reporter; and Claude Odom, reporter.

In addition to making plans for the coming year, club members selected 4-H projects.

Honor Society Meets At JGHS

By KAREN HILLIARD
The National Honor Society at John Graham High School held its January meeting earlier this month and received a newsletter from Jamey Smith, which stated the date of the State National Honor Society Convention as being the 19-21 of March. Members were reminded to sign the list in Mrs. Cora Hawkins' room if they plan to attend the conference.

Nominations of candidates to compete for the National Honor Society Scholarship were discussed also. The project of the society this month will be to sponsor a "Teacher Recognition Day" on Feb. 12, but of course, the candidate's name is being withheld.

A Senior Citizens' Conference is scheduled for March. At that time approximately ten senior citizens will be invited to the school to discuss certain ideas and topics. Other plans will be made later.

After Long Holiday, Normalcy Returns

By ANNIE L. BULLOCK
Students at Norlina High School are getting back into the swing of school after a long Christmas vacation. It did not take them long to remember what school is all about since report card time is here again.

Along with taking tests, students are working on research papers and book reports in the library. Winter weather should help students to develop better reading and studying habits.

Students and teachers are pleased to know that more tape recorders are available for their use in the library. Our new filmstrips, records, and books will also make school more interesting for students to learn.

Teachers, Pupils Will Do Battle

Teachers from North Warren Middle School will play members of the Aggie girls and boys basketball teams as a project to raise funds for their annual athletic banquet. Both games will be played on Monday night, Feb. 2, starting at 7 p. m. at the Norlina High School gym. Admission will be 75 cents for students and $1.50 for adults.

Cards Of Thanks

Joseph Burton and family wish to express their appreciation to Warren General Hospital's staff and Dr. Patel for their services to him, while in the hospital. He is home now and doing fine.

May God bless each and every one.

WIFE AND SON

I would like to thank all my friends, relatives, my sharing group and the choir of the Norlina United Methodist Church for their prayers, visits, cards, phone calls, flowers and other thoughtful deeds extended me during my illness. A very special thanks to my four children.

smoke signals FROM WARREN ACADEMY

With a great sigh of relief, Warren Academy students have begun their "last leg" of the 1975-1976 school year. Last week the high school was involved with mid-term exams and on Monday, all report cards were sent home.

The parents had the opportunity to visit with teachers on Monday night when Parent Conference Night followed the monthly meeting of the Warren Academy P.T.O. These conferences afforded both parent and teacher a chance to discuss a child's progress and readiness for the next school term.

"Books are alive and well" was learned by the second and third grade classes last Tuesday when they visited the Warren County Library. Mrs. Limer gave an educational and enjoyable tour of the library with The Children's Room being a special highlight. She presented book markers to the class upon leaving and encouraged them to "come back again."

With Warrior basketball season passing the halfway mark, all teams are planning tournament strategy and eyeing the calendar for the week of February 25-28. The Warriors will participate in this tournament.

NWS Library Club

Gets New President

Shenee Green was elected president of the North Warren Middle School Library Club at its initial meeting on Jan. 21. Phyllis Smith was elected vice-president with Mildred Russell being chosen secretary and Kathy Powell assistant secretary. Cleo Mason was elected parliamentarian and Annette Greene was chosen reporter.

The purpose of the meeting was to outline the duties of each member of the club and to elect officers. Members who were selected were considered industrious, responsible, able to maintain good grades, and interested in reading and good citizens.

ment to be held at Cape Fear Academy near Lillington.

According to the Junior Varsity calendar, the Triangle Area Conference Tournament will be held at the Warren Academy Gym on the 23rd and 24th of February. All teams look for support from you for the remainder of the season and at tournament time. Go Warriors!

A famous artist has been discovered at Warren Academy. Billy Pernel was chosen to design a new package cover for a local flour company. Billy's work can now be seen in many area grocery stores. Just look for a buffalo!

Young Students Hear Symphony

By PAUL THOMPSON
On Thursday last, the North Carolina Symphony, under the direction of Mr. Cook, gave an excellent performance to 925 elementary students in the John Graham gym. Although the high school students were not allowed to hear the orchestra, this writer was able to listen in order to get some photos for the yearbook. It was magnificent!

The Yellow Jackets had a rough week last week. The varsity boys lost two, one to Bunn and another to Vaiden Whitley. The girls beat Bunn last Tuesday and were inactive the rest of the week. The Jayvees lost to Vaiden Whitley but beat the Norlina jayvees. On Tuesday the Yellow Jackets travelled to Louisburg. Friday they will face Franklinton. Both games are away.

The first semester ends Wednesday. To the vast relief of the students, the school year is half over! No school will be held Thursday or Friday this week in order to enable the teachers to go over the grades accumulated in four and a half months. Report cards will be issued Tuesday, Feb. 3. That's all the news for this week, folks.
