Mrs. Fleming's Third Grade Class At Warren Academy Food Tasters

The third graders of Mrs. Fleming's health class at Warren Academy enjoyed an unusual treat on Tuesday, a tasting party.

Each child had the experience of tasting foods never tasted before or thought he didn't like. Some children who thought they didn't like carrots, loved carrots in a dip and carrot cake. Celery was served stuffed with pimento cheese and peanut butter and also in a delicious congealed salad.

Tossed salad, salami, bologna, venison, raisin sauce, banana nut bread, brick cheese, cream cheese and buttered wheat and honey bread were served with milk.

Besides having fun, the students learned that tasting foods could open up a new world of flavor and nutrition for them.

Energy Saving Tips

You can save energy in your laundry by keeping the lint screen in your dryer clean. It will dry more clothes faster if you remove the lint after each load.

One of the ways to save energy suggested by the Be a Badger (Better Actions Develop Greater Energy Reductions) Energy Saving program, followed by International Paper people is to dust or vacuum radiator surfaces frequently, to get the maximum heat out of them, since saving just ten barrels of oil a year can conserve enough energy to drive a car cross-country.

Plant shade trees and vines on the south and west sides of your home to provide protection against summer sun and to let in natural light in the winter.

News Of Warren Academy

Things took quite a turn last week, from one week that was not so busy, to a week that was almost overwhelming with activities and work. The students in kindergarten through grade six were busy with art decorations for Valentine's Day. We know that when Monday, Valentine's Day, arrived everyone received Valentines from favorite friends and had an enjoyable time at the parties that were held.

We would like to congratulate Mary T. White on being the winner from Warren Academy in the General Mills Search for Leadership in Family Living contest. Her paper will be entered in the judging for the State Family Leader of Tomorrow. Good luck to you, Mary T.

The kindergarten through grade six are busy these days practicing for the production of "Disney on Parade." Mrs. Harriet Banzet is in charge of this gigantic undertaking. The students and teachers are not the only ones who are busy. The mothers, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Ann Qualls and the teachers, are busy fitting patterns, cutting and sewing costumes of all kinds of materials that can be made into Disney character costumes.

If you remember the operetta that was presented by this group last spring, you know already that you have quite a treat in store. Be sure to mark the date, March 25, on your calendar and do it now! This production of "Disney on Parade" you must not miss!

Plans are underway for a Parent-Teacher Basketball game to be played on Friday, March 4. This should be good for a lot of laughs. We just hope it does not bring the gym down!

The J.V. boys were the only winners in the games played last week at Northeast Academy. They had quite an exciting game. Congratulations to them on their win.

Last Friday night Northeast was the winner in all four games. Our J.V. boys lost by one point in a hand-fought game. The varsity boys played a good game, but were unable to hold the lead in the fourth quarter.

Tuesday night the J.V. boys, the varsity girls and boys, played Hobgood Academy on their home court. Next week we hope the news will be good and that we will be able to report that all three Warren Academy teams were winners.

The J.V. girls will meet N.E.W. on Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. We hope that when the paper comes out on Wednesday afternoon they will be celebrating a victory!

Friday night is our last home game. N.E.W. is the team that we will be playing, and we hope that all the Warren Academy teams will be winners at their last home game. The games will start at 6 p. m. Three teams will be playing.

The senior boys who will be playing their last game at home are, Chip Capps, Carl Qualls, Harold Seaman, Al Williams, Charles Haynes, and Robert Porter. The senior girls playing their last home game are, Bonnie Greer, Katherine Brauer, and Jan Gardner.

The senior cheerleaders who will be cheering their team to a victory, we hope, are, Laura Burrows, Diane Waters, and Mary T. White.

The last time we played N.E.W. all three teams were victorious. If everyone will come out and give the teams all the support that can be mustered together, we will win all three games again! Do not let your teams down. Come on out to the final home game of the 1976-77 season.

Green Is Speaker At Auxiliary Meet

Gordon Green, manager of the local Carolina Power and Light Company was guest speaker at the American Legion Auxiliary on Thursday night.

The general topic was "Americanism," and Mr. Green discussed the free market in America, political vs. economic system.

A little government goes a long way, Green noted, and here lately in our country a great deal of government control is taking over. America must not lose its incentive for free enterprise, was the essence of Green's discussion.

Included in the usual business was the acknowledgment that the unit had sent $44 to the American Legion Auxiliary's Presidents Project, which is setting up audio-visual equipment in the North Carolina School for the Deaf.

Hostesses, along with Mrs. H. E. Shaw were Mrs. Frank Reams and Mrs. Edgar Wood.

1976 Good Year For United Federal

United Federal Savings and Loan Association found 1976 to be a year "of unprecedented growth and progress."

The good news was disclosed at the 75th annual shareholders' meeting in Rocky Mount.

Henry Gregory, president and chief executive, stated that "assets increased over $29 million (36 percent); savings, over $27 million (37 percent) and loans, over $24 million (34 percent)."

"The Association's assets exceeded $110 million at year-end."

In addition, Gregory pointed out, "Our home office completed major renovations to provide additional space for more efficient customer services. Our Charlotte office moved into its newly constructed building. And the Federal Home Loan Bank Board approved a second branch office in Charlotte."

United Federal has offices in Rocky Mount, Louisburg, Raleigh, Cary, Greensboro and Charlotte.

The condition, which is severe among young children, has caused state health officials to launch a statewide program, screening all young children of the public school system. The screening will be at all of the elementary schools in Warren County. (Staff Photo)

Directors To Meet Here

The State Board of Directors for the North Carolina Easter Seal Society will hold their regular board meeting in Warrenton on April 24. It was announced this week by the president, Mrs. Anna Butler. She said the meeting would be for the board, their families and staff and would be held in the Warrenton Depot at 10:30 a. m.
