Needlework Exhibit Held Here

By SUSAN SIMMONS

Katherine Robinson's hobby and delight comes from her diligent work at knitting and crocheting. This month Mrs. Robinson is one of the 14 local craftspeople displaying work in an exhibit called "Needlework Plus." The exhibit, sponsored by the Warrenton Arts Commission, held at the Warrenton Town Hall, features needlepoint, crewel, cross stitch, count weave, crochet, weaving and knitting. The exhibit is free to the public and will be open Mondays through Fridays until Friday, April 23.

Mrs. Robinson's pieces in the exhibit include two crocheted afghans. One worked in off-white yarn is of the square triple-hitch pattern. Mrs. Robinson's other featured piece is multicolored. It is an afghan in the zigzag pattern. The yarn was extra small pieces left over from her mother's knitting. Years ago, Katherine made this afghan using those small pieces. The afghan is pleasing to look at because the wool, though different hues is of similar intensities. Hue, or color, and intensity, or brightness, to dullness can be employed by all artists to make their piece have an air of totality.

Katherine lives in Warren County. She is married to E. M. Robinson. She has been making afghans for several years. Presently she has three pieces in the works. Granny squares are a popular pattern for Mrs. Robinson. Many of the afghans she has sold are composed of granny squares—that is a blanket made entirely of small squares attached to each other at their outer edges.

Since spring weather has arrived the adult painting class at the Studio, held on Tuesday mornings from 10 to 12 will begin concentrating on landscape painting. We will be going to various sites around town to paint. If you wish to join us come to the studio on Tuesday mornings at 10 when we will depart for painting. The studio is located at 101 South Front Street behind the Agricultural Extension building in Warrenton.

Through these "live" landscape paintings we will be learning about shading and color and the effect of sunlight as well as foreground, background and perspective. And you don't even need to know how to draw a straight line to do this. We will be working at learning what these principles mean and how to do them.

Norlina Town Board Pays Tribute To White

Norlina commissioners Monday night recorded their admiration of their late police chief, G. E. White, by ordering a resolution of honor entered in the town minutes.

The resolution was read during the regular monthly meeting of the town board by Mayor Bill Perry and ordered placed in the permanent town record. The resolution reads as follows:

"George Edmond White, a public servant to the people of Norlina for 24 years, died on January 28, 1977 at the age of 67 years. He was born in Warren County on April 9, 1909 and was a life long resident of the county. He was a member of Zion United Methodist Church.

"George Edmond White, known to friends and acquaintances as 'Buck' or as 'Chief,' began his public service to the people of Norlina on January 15, 1953 in the Norlina Police Department. He became chief of the Norlina Police Department during 1957 and also assumed the duties of superintendent of the Street and Water Departments for the Town of Norlina. Chief White was best described by the four traits of fidelity, dependability, courtesy and affability. He was a true servant of the people of the Town of Norlina.

"It is altogether appropriate, therefore, that this body pause to honor his memory.

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

"That the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Norlina, North Carolina, in its regular meeting assembled on the 4th day of April, 1977, honor the memory of George Edmond White, Christian gentleman and distinguished employee of this Board for many years, and that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this meeting as a permanent record of the Board and a copy sent to his widow, Ethel Jones White of Norlina; and to each of his children, George Edmond White, Jr. of Alexandria, Va., Clarence E. White of Friendswood, Texas, Carl T. White of Henderson and William W. White of Norlina and a copy to The Warren Record for publication in its next edition."

Education Board Meets

Business marked only a part of a three and one-half hour meeting of the board during which few items were on the agenda, but those discussed were of considerable length.

Mrs. Polly Brown of Route 2, Warrenton, appeared before the board to ask that her niece and nephew, Maxine and Tom Towns, be permitted to enter South Warren School. She said the children had attended Head Start in Warren County before moving with their parents to Newark, N. J. They wanted to come back to Warren County, live with her aunt and attend school in Warren County, Mrs. Brown said. She said that their parents were on welfare in Newark.

Efforts of the board members to persuade Mrs. Brown to send the children back to Newark to finish the present term were to no avail. After Mrs. Brown and the children, age 10 and 11, and in the fourth and fifth grade, had departed, the board members discussed the plight of the children, whom they said were their principal concern. They decided that Mrs. Brown was to be notified that if the sum of $25 each is paid for the children's tuition, they could attend South Warren School if room is available.

The board was in executive session for nearly an hour conducting a hearing over the suspension of a John Graham High School student. The executive session was held and names not published at the request of the board to avoid embarrassment to persons concerned.

Following the hearing, regular business was resumed. Supt. Peeler told the board that he had contacted the State Board of Health, the State Board of Education, and the State Department of Water and Air concerning suitability of the site selected for a proposed consolidated high school. These departments will all inspect the site. The board agreed, that if the soil is found suitable for the use of septic tanks that permission to use these be obtained even though it is later decided to hook up to the proposed Warrenton-Norlina section of the Soul City-Warrenton sewage line, a contract for the construction of which was awarded Monday morning.

The board also briefly discussed "policy concerning sales and solicitations" during school hours and suggested that the policy might be revised at another meeting.

The matter of ownership of cars by the Board of Education for principals and department heads was discussed, but action was postponed to another meeting.

Late play at school tournaments has caused complaint of several persons living in the neighborhood of the playing fields. The board decided that while these tournaments will be permitted and even encouraged, that no inning should be started after 10:30 p. m.

Supt. Peeler briefly reviewed several items that should be included in the 1977-78 school budget. He said that this budget must be submitted to the Board of County Commissioners by May 1 and that for this reason a special budgetary session should be held on April 25.

A study on a policy on confidentiality of student records was delayed until a later date.
