

Governor's Wife, Mother Visit Here

By HELEN HOWARD

Mrs. James B. Hunt, Jr., and Mrs. James B. Hunt, Sr., wife and mother of North Carolina's governor were among those assembled at the Warrenton Depot Tuesday for a Second Congressional District Workshop for Democratic Women. The Warren County Chapter of Democratic Women was host.

Using a theme, "Democratic Unity in 1977," the meeting got under way at 10 a. m. with a coffee hour honoring Mrs. James B. Hunt, Jr.; Mrs. John L. McCain, chairman of the Democratic Party in North Carolina; Mrs. Fred K. Elkins, president of the North Carolina Democratic Women; Mrs. James B. Hunt, Sr., and Mrs. L. H. Fountain.

Mrs. Alice Wilson, director of the 2nd Congressional District, presided over the morning session. Mrs. Eva Clayton, chairman of the Warren County Democratic Women, extended greetings to the group.

Reports from county presidents were given and the business session was held. Mrs. McCain and Mrs. Elkins were speakers during the morning session.

The Warrenton Woman's Club catered the luncheon with Mrs. Jessie Walton giving the invocation.

Mrs. Anna Butler, president of the Warren County Democratic Women, presided during the luncheon. Mayor W. A. Miles of Warrenton brought greetings from the town.

The luncheon was enhanced by a musical program given by Ron Walker, Third Century artist sponsored by the Warrenton Arts Commission.

"A Young Man Looks at the Democratic Party," was the luncheon address by Gus Tulloss of Rocky Mount, immediate past president of the North Carolina Jaycees.

The Pledge of Allegiance led by Mrs. Claude Bowers closed the meeting.

Other special guests at the meeting included Luther Hodges, Jr., of Charlotte, U. S. Senatorial candidate; Mrs. James Speed of Louisburg, and Mrs. Hunt's secretary, Mrs. Geneva Warren.

Approximately 75 attended from the 12 counties of the Second Congressional District.

Mrs. Fred Turnage of Rocky Mount, left, secretary of the North Carolina Democratic Women, and Mrs. Anna Butler, right, president of the Warren County Chapter, meet with Luther Hodges, Jr., who has announced his candidacy for the U. S. Senate.

Mrs. Anna Butler, at podium, president of the Warren County Chapter of Democratic Women, presides over the luncheon while Mrs. James B. Hunt, Jr., left, wife of the Governor, listens.

A group of ladies assembled for the Democratic workshop on Tuesday enjoy a break in the meeting for lunch and conversation.

Bloodmobile To Be In County May 10-11

By RUSSELL CURRIN
Warren Co. Blood Chairman

The Warren County Bloodmobile will be at the Norlina Firehouse on May 10, and at the Lions Den in Warrenton on May 11. Hours for each location will be 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Each person who is physically able to donate blood is asked to visit one of the locations. If your appointment schedule is prohibitive for one day perhaps you can donate the other day.

Here are just a few prerequisites for the donor: Donor age limits are 17, with parental consent, through age 65 that is until the 66th birthday, weight 110 pounds or more, no serious illness in past month, no hepatitis, no diabetes or heart disease.

Please eat a good breakfast before donating but should you just not be able to eat breakfast then eat a good lunch and donate in the afternoon. Come on out and support this effort. Many of our Warren County Citizens have donated blood in the County and many lay volunteers are donating their time to make these visits successful. Now all we need are the donors.

Just because the visits are at Norlina and Warrenton doesn't mean that all the other areas are not involved. Persons outside Warrenton and Norlina city limits also bleed.

I received lists upon my desk indicating our Warren County citizens have received the free Warren County Red Cross blood at various hospitals. No longer do our citizens have to pay for the blood they utilize during an emergency or otherwise. The patient only pays the processing charges incurred by the hospital. Again, the Warren County blood is free to all our citizens and has been since December 8, 1976 when we had our first bloodmobile. Only your body can manufacture this life-saving resource, so please give blood — the gift of life so others may live.

Neither Red Cross nor Warren County need blood — people need blood.

To pledge your pint of blood contact in Norlina Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lloyd at 456-2828; in Warrenton, Mrs. Mabel Davis at 456-2729; or from any location in the county call Russell Currin, 257-3385 during duty hours or 257-3757 at home. I will be available day or night to receive your pledge. Recycle Life—Donate Blood.

Good Market Is Seen For Crop

The market outlook for cotton is one of the brightest spots on the 1977 farming horizon, according to North Carolina State University agricultural extension economists.

"The cotton outlook has never been brighter," said Jim Allgood, marketing economist. Considering the December future prices which have been in the low 70s (cents per pound), the profit margin for cotton "is considerably more favorable compared to corn and soybeans."

The NCSU economist believes Tar Heel farmers will respond to this favorable outlook by increasing plantings by around 15,000 acres over last year. That would give the state a crop of around 90,000 acres.

A number of factors are working together to make the 1977 cotton marketing forecast so bright. For one thing, exports and U. S. use of the fiber are expected to exceed last year's crop production by a million bales.

The carryover stocks next August are expected to be near three million bales, which would be the smallest since 1952.

New Gun Placed On Fire Truck

The Warrenton Fire Truck was in Rocky Mount yesterday being fitted with a newly purchased deluge gun.

Manager Bill Davis said that the truck was expected to return yesterday afternoon, and on Thursday afternoon the local firemen will hold a special meeting to test the gun.

A deluge gun is a high pressure nozzle which provides maximum volume and force.

Local Optometrist Attends Convention

Dr. Joseph F. Wiggins of Henderson, was among those attending the 54th Annual Southern Educational Congress of Optometry held this month at the Hilton Hotel in Atlanta. Dr. Wiggins also practices in Warrenton.
