Agriculturally Speaking

By L. B. HARDAGE County Extension Chairman

Hope that all the county has gotten good rains. It has varied from community to community; however, most have had some rain and all crops look real good.

Monday and Tuesday, Mrs. Hardage and I took off and went to Northeastern Soybeans are not nearly as good as here. Grain wheat just finished harvesting. Those farmers are in for some rough times this Tobacco is growing very fast. Will be time on a lot of the crop to spray a contact, some needs to be sprayed now - week of June 30. Most will need this for sucker control soon. A lot of Warren County farmers put on two contact spray for sucker control. I hope also to use MH 30 after the contact spray or sprays. For further information, contact this

So far there have not been any large amounts of insects on the tobacco crop. Some farmers are probably using too much insecticides that are not always needed.

Cantaloupes are looking real good and should be of Many farmers it seems have trouble curing tobacco, especially the bottom primings in bulk barns. If there is any interest in bulk curing, I am sure we could get Mr. S. N. Hawks down for a night meeting to discuss this problem. If you have any interest in this, call my office at once and we will schedule a meeting.

Industry Board Vice-Presidency Is Awarded Hayes

Charles Hayes, Industrial Director for Warren County, was elected vice-president of the North Carolina Industrial Directors Association at the annual convention held at Wrightsville Beach on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week.

Hayes, former secretarytreasurer, was accompanied to Wilmington by his secretary, Mrs. Clinton Capps, Mr. Capps and son, Davis. Also attending the convention from Warren County were Frank Reams of Warrenton and Frank Robinson of Soul City.

session at which Hayes was elected vice-president, the Association also endorsed the passage of a proposed $260 million bond issue and a $300 million clean water state winner and territorial

Final Meet Held By Roads Council

The North Carolina Secondary Roads Council met last week for its final official meeting.

The Council approved additions, abandonments, and improvements to North Carolina's secondary roads.

Each of the 14 members received a letter of appreciation for serving on the Council, signed by Governor James B. Hunt, Jr.

The Governor wrote to J. L. McInnis of Henderson, "You have worked hard to finalize the improvement priorities for secondary roads for each county in your Division." Governor Hunt also urged McInnis to "continue to assist with the secondary roads gram.... McInnis represents Division 5 which includes Durham, Franklin, Granville, Person, Vance, Wake and Warren Counties.

The members of the Secondary Roads Council were appointed by Governor Hunt in March. The Council was abolished by the 1977 General Assembly. Responsibility for secondary roads will now be vested with a new 24-member Board of Transportation.

Like sour cream, yogurt is smooth, elegant and versatile. A thick, custard-like dairy product, yogurt is made by fermenting milk with a special bacteria culture.

When cooking with yogurt, there are some special rules to follow, say agricultural extension agents at North Carolina State University.

Always be sure to spare the heat. Like sour cream, yogurt may separate under high temperatures and long heating times. To prevent separation, stabilize yogurt by adding a small amount of flour or cornstarch.

Fold, do not stir, yogurt into other ingredients and it will keep its consistency. For baking, use only 1/2 teaspoon of baking soda for each cup of yogurt used.

Extension Agent, 4-H A 4-H orientation meeting held June 21 in the Russell Union Church Community with 15 youth and adults attending was most beneficial. The group had scheduled an organization of 4-H club during the meeting but postponed it until July 12 so that proper orientation of all members of the club could be held.

Meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Terry at 8 p. m., the group received information and exhortation from volunteer leaders, Costel Evans, Leon Terry, Alvin (J. B.) Hawkins, and G. W. Koonce, 4-H Agent.

All youth between the ages of nine and 19 living in the Russell Union area and wishing to join the club to be organized should attend the meeting scheduled to be held at the Terry's on July 12 at 8 p. m. The club will be open to membership and leadership without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.
