Deaths And Funerals

MARVIN K. AYCOCK
Marvin Kenneth Aycock, 73, died Sunday, Oct. 23 in N. C. Memorial Hospital at Chapel Hill following several months of declining health.

Mr. Aycock was the son of the late James Lewis and Delia Shepherd Aycock. A retired merchant and postmaster of the Elberon community where he resided, he was a member of Sulphur Springs Baptist Church where he served as a deacon and as Supt. of the Sunday School and church treasurer; and member of the Junior Order and the Afton Ruritan Club.

Funeral services were conducted from Sulphur Springs Baptist Church Wednesday, Oct. 26, at 11 a. m., by the Rev. J. W. Crosswhite and interment was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Aycock is survived by his wife, Mrs. Frances B. Aycock of the home; two sons, Dr. Marvin K. Aycock, Jr., of Greenbelt, Md., and J. Benson Aycock of Garner; two brothers, Andrew Lewis Aycock of Winston-Salem, and Junius L. Aycock of Warrenton, a sister, Mrs. Thelma A. Blythe of Ahsokie, five grandchildren.

Active pallbearers were George Aycock, Hector Aycock, Fuller Aycock, Travis Aycock, Billy Fleming and Joe Blythe.

Honorary pallbearers were all members of the Board of Deacons, both active and inactive.

MRS. HENRY F. TWITTY

Funeral services for Mrs. Panthea Massenburg Twitty (Mrs. Henry F. Twitty) of Warrenton were conducted at 3 p. m. Sunday from Emmanuel Episcopal Church by the rector, Dr. Raymond Selby, the Rev. John Bowman, pastor of Shady Grove Methodist Church and the Rev. John Beckwith, retired Episcopal minister of Raleigh. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Twitty, 63, died Friday in Warren General Hospital after an illness of several months. She was a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Jamestown Society, the Colonial Dames, the Warren County Historical Society, the Piedmont Ceramics Association, and a member of Emmanuel Episcopal Church where she was a member of the vestry and served as president of Emmanuel Chapter of Episcopal Churchwomen.

Mrs. Twitty was a certified ceramics teacher and taught classes for Halifax Technical Institute and later for Vance-Granville Community College.

Long active in the UDC, early in October she was elected honorary president of the UDC at the annual convention of the State UDC in Winston-Salem. This is the highest honor that can be bestowed by a state division on a member. Only 25 women in North Carolina have been elected honorary president in the 81 years since the organization was founded.

Mrs. Twitty is survived by her husband, Henry F. Twitty of Route 2, Warrenton; a son, William Henry Twitty of the home; a daughter, Panthea Anne Crawford (Mrs. William G.

Crawford, Jr., of Winston-Salem); a brother, Walter Boyd Massenburg of Julian, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Homer P. Starr of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. William A. Jones of Atlanta, Ga.; and a grandson, Nicholas Crawford.

Pallbearers were James Poindexter, Gordon Poindexter, John Baird, Dr. Tom Holt, Pett Burwell and H. R. Geddy.

JOSEPH W. BURGESS

Joseph Walter Burgess, 63, of Rt. 1, Louisburg, died early Saturday morning at Maria Parham Hospital. He was the brother of Elwood Burgess of the Elberon community.

The funeral services were held Sunday at 4 p. m. at New Sandy Creek Baptist Church by the Rev. David Lee and the Rev. Aubrey Florence.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ruby Fulkner Burgess; two daughters, Mrs. Kenneth W. Renn and Mrs. Spencer Mosley, both of Henderson; a son, John W. Burgess of Henderson; four other brothers, Maynard Burgess, C. C. Burgess and W. C. Burgess, all of Henderson and Tom Burgess of King; and six grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Johnny Woodard, James C. Woodard, John T. Stevenson, Bobby Faulkner, Allen Faucette, William Wiggins, Ronnie Hayes, Perry Finch, O. S. Mosley, Dave Overton, Tim Ayscue, T. W. Ellis, Jr., James Strum and Curtis Jackson.

JAMES E. ALEXANDER

Funeral services for James Edmond Alexander of Wise were conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Locust Grove Baptist Church in Wise. The Rev. Robert Burnette officiated. Burial followed in the church cemetery.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Alexander; four brothers Richard Alexander and Robert Hunt of Wise, Dempsey Hunt of Cleveland, Ohio, and Willie Alexander of East Elmhurst, N. Y.; six sisters, Mrs. Jessie Battle of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Sallie Carter of Hartford, Conn., Mrs. Julia Graham of Richmond, Va., Mrs. Ellender Coleman of Wise, Mrs. Shirley Hayes of Norlina, Mrs. Esther Terry of Amhurst, Mass.; and aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews.

Minor Accidents Reported Here By Highway Patrol

Several minor accidents were reported in the area by the State Highway Patrol during the past week. Only two personal injuries were reported.

Last Wednesday about 7:35 p. m. Shirley Ann Upton was slightly injured in a bump up on U. S. 158 business near Three Points Service Station.

Trooper C. E. Lockley explained that the Upton vehicle was following in a line of three cars when she attempted to pass. As she was meeting a car, she cut back in, hitting the front car in the line operated by Dessie Egerton of Warrenton. The incident caused the Egerton vehicle to veer right into a ditch.

Charges of careless and reckless driving were lodged against Ms. Upton of Stoney Creek, Va. Damages were set at $1200 to the Upton vehicle and $225 to the Egerton auto.

Charges of following too closely were filed against John Henry Israel, Jr., of Norlina following a mishap on U. S. 1 just north of Ridgeway at 9:30 Sunday night.

Trooper Lockley said Israel was following a vehicle which slowed down. Israel was unable to stop and attempted to pass to avoid the rear-end collision. He subsequently lost control and ran off the roadway, hitting a tree which caused his vehicle to turn around and hit another tree.

No injuries were reported and damages were estimated at $1,000.

Cleophus Elam, 19, of Rt. 1, Norlina, was taken to Maria Parham Hospital and later transferred to Duke Hospital for injuries sustained after he fell asleep while driving on RPR 1107 about 2.3 miles west of Warrenton at 2:45 a. m. on October 22. Trooper A. M. Bennett reported Elam fell asleep and the vehicle ran right in a turn and struck a tree head-on.

No charges were filed. Damages to the 1972 Buick were estimated at $1800.

On October 20 about 8:05 a. m. Joyce Bullock, 18, of Rt. 1, Manson, was involved in a traffic accident about 7.5 miles north of Manson.

Bennett reported Ms. Bullock was headed south entering a slight curve, applied brakes causing her to run off the right side of the roadway. She then skidded back across the center line to the left shoulder, hit a ditchbank and overturned.

She was not injured and no charges were filed. Bennett set damages to the 1972 Chevrolet at $800.

Motorist Hurt

As Auto Flips

Flavious Vaughan, Jr., of Warrenton was injured with possible broken bones after flipping his Volkswagen Saturday night.

According to the Warrenton Police Department, the accident occurred on Ridgeway Street near General Claude Bower's about 10:05 p. m. They reported that Vaughan ran off the road, hit the fence and block wall causing the car to overturn.

He was charged with driving under the influence of intoxicants, according to Policeman C. E. Shearin.

Vaughan was taken to Warren General Hospital and the car was reported to be a total loss.

Warren Confab

Is Slated Monday

A reminder was issued this week of the upcoming Warren Conference on balanced growth and economic development set for Monday, October 31, at 7 p. m. at the Warren County Courthouse. This conference will give the public a chance to tell state government how the economic picture of Warren County can be improved.

Warrenton Mayor Renamed As Director Of League

Warrenton Mayor W. A. Miles has been re-elected to a one-year term on the 12-member board of directors of the N. C. League of Municipalities.

Miles's election came during the 68th annual convention of the League held last week in Greensboro. The Warrenton mayor, who is a former member of the League's Resolutions and Legislative committees, was named to help direct activities of the organization which serves 433 Tar Heel towns and cities.

Rocky Mount Mayor Fred Turnage was elected to head the League during the coming year, while Greensboro Mayor Jim Melvin was named first vice president.

Miles said that workshop sessions held in conjunction with the three-day meeting were particularly instructive this year, and that one theme sounded by state government officials in attendance was the need to bring about increased help at the federal level for small cities and communities.

Warrenton has been a member of the N. C. League of Municipalities since the early Forties, with Miles being the only Warrenton elected official to serve on the League's governing board.

LET'S NOT PUT WARRENTON BEHIND THE EIGHT BALL!!

I am genuinely concerned over the growing number of pool rooms in our central business district. Already we have five pool rooms and there are indications that a sixth is on the way. Pool rooms have their place, but I do not believe it is along Main Street, or in the areas where shops and stores should be encouraged.

With our town zoning ordinance we have the tool to make pool rooms a nonconforming use of business district property. This will not force existing pool rooms to close down, but it would prevent the establishment of additional ones. And it will make available space for business outlets which can broaden our tax base.

As a town board member who has worked for a comprehensive development plan, and a workable zoning code, I believe we can do much to protect the beauty of our Main Street and we can do much to encourage quality shops and stores in our business district.

As mayor, I plan to continue my efforts toward making Warrenton an attractive and financially sound community. I would like your help on November 8th, and afterwards, in making this possible.

HUNTSMAN

Airtight Woodburners built for years and years of use!

Here is a handcrafted, welded steel wood burner with the strength and durability for a lifetime of use! It is solidly constructed from 1/2" and 19/64" boiler plate, and lined with heavy-duty brick to prevent burn-out. It will hold logs up to 24" in length and is designed to hold a slow, hot fire overnight. Three controls on the cast iron door for draft adjustment allow a roaring fire for fast warm-up, or a slow burning fire for long periods of even heat. The extremely hot fire consumes normally unburned gases and most distillate such as creosote and tar, making the Huntsman a very efficient heater. Its special baffle design, found only in the Huntsman, returns any unburned material to the fire until it is used up, and also minimizes heat loss up the flue. This unusual baffling system, the draft controls that allow such precise adjustment of the fire, and rugged construction make the Huntsman a clean, efficient and economical wood burning heater that will last a lifetime!

The Huntsman's jamper and baffle system permit precise control of the fire and recirculate any unburned gases, creosote or tar to the fire until they are consumed. The heavy-duty brick lining makes the heater even more efficient.
