Magazine Depicts Local Ingenuity

An original idea of Mrs. Chris Holtzman, adult volunteer 4-H leader of the Wise-Paschall 4-H Club, has appeared in print through the pages of the National 4-H News magazine.

Mrs. Holtzman, frequently recognized for her outstanding service in various civic capacities, has likewise been recognized often in 4-H circles.

When she received her 25-year 4-H service pin in 1975, it marked the fifth pin she had received from the Warren County organization. First had come the Silver Clover, a five-year service pin. Next, the Gold Clover for 10 years of leadership; then the Pearl Clover for 15 years, the Diamond Clover for 20 years and lastly the Emerald Clover for 25 years.

"It seemed too much to put all five individual pins on my coat or dress when wearing my pins to special meetings," Mrs. Holtzman recalls. "So, after further thought, this design came to mind."

With this design, Mrs. Holtzman proceeded to her jeweler, A. C. Fair of Warrenton, who set the five clover pins on a round gold piece.

"Further thinking at that time on my love for 4-H and hope for continued service led me to suggest to Mr. Fair that the gold plate be made large enough to acomodate three more future pins leading to 40 years service."

A photograph and description of Mrs. Holtzman's creative project appears in the December edition of National 4-H News.

Mrs. Holtzman was recognized at the Annual 4-H Achievement Dinner last week for 27 years of continuous service to 4-H.

PTA Feted To Program

The North Warren Middle School student body presented "Christmas Potpourri" at its annual Christmas program on Dec. 15. Approximately 300 parents and patrons attended the event.

John Davis, band instructor, directed the Christmas choir, made up of students from grades 4-8. Their selections included "Deck the Halls," "God Tell It On The Mountain," "O, Come All Ye Faithful," "Oh Christmas Tree," and "Silent Night."

Also "Carol of the Bells," "Joy to the World," "What Child Is This?" and "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem." The carols were performed between acts of the drama presentations.

The fourth grade presented "Christmas Throughout the World," including customs from England, Holland, Norway, Sweden, and Russia. "The Shepherd Who Couldn't See the Light" was also presented by fourth graders.

The fifth graders dramatized "Christmas in Central and South America."

"Christmas in Asia" was presented by the sixth graders. Customs in Japan, Iran and Iraq were included in the skits.

Seventh and eighth graders dramatized "Christmas Spirit."

A speech chorus, made up of fourth, fifth and sixth graders, recited "The Night Before Christmas."

Prior to the Christmas program the regular business session of the Parent-Teacher Association was held. W. S. Fuller offered greetings. The invocation was given by Lisa Martin and Connie Fogg. Richard Greene, PTA president, presided.

Moseley To Head W-P Ruritans

Herbert Moseley was installed president of the Wise-Paschall Ruritan Club at the monthly meeting held Dec. 12. W. D. Little of the Norlina Ruritan Club was a guest and installed the officers.

Others installed were Marvin Epps, vice-president; W. C. King, secretary; Wayne Paynter, treasurer; and Bobby Ingle, three-year director.

Joe Cobb conducted the meeting. The club approved motions to pay all club bills, to change the meeting night to the second Monday night instead of the third Monday night of each month, to name William "Skeeter" Paschall a honorary member of the club and to name

J. W. Wilson of Warrenton a new member to the club.

The club also decided to send a gift certificate to senior citizens in the Wise-Paschall district for Christmas.

In a board of directors meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 14, a motion to give five dollar gift certificates was passed as was a motion to give 50 Christmas baskets to senior citizens in the district.

A meeting was scheduled for Dec. 18 to prepare the baskets.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. J. R. Palmer has returned home after being a patient in Warren General Hospital for ten days.

4-H'ers Meet

By CHARLIE FIELDS, JR. The Norlina Youth Improvement 4-H Club held its last monthly meeting for the year of 1977 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greene. The meeting was called to order at 6 p. m. by vice-president, Deborah Kersey. Devotion and minutes followed.
