

Eagles Face Season's First

"Inconsistency, we were just inconsistent," said Frazier. "I was disappointed in our offensive line play, and we need some work on our secondary," added the veteran coach. "We had good spots and bad ones."

Among the good spots in the scrimmage was the play of transfer quarterback Davis Gapps, a junior who came over from Warren Academy. Coach Frazier also said Ron Jackson "showed potential" at quarterback.

Frazier said Lawrence Harrison, Charles Green, and Alvin Williams looked good at the running backs. Derrick Davenport, a possible starter, missed the scrimmage game with a virus, but is expected to be ready for the opener.

Coach Frazier said two receivers, Richard Frazier and Montellus Williams, "looked good and caught some balls."

"We also looked good defensively," said Frazier, citing the play of ends Destry Jordan and Williams, and the lay of linemen Harrison and James Fitts. Frazier said he has spent little time on defense, and will spend more this week.

While the Eagles are a young team, Frazier expects to play a lot of guys. "We will almost be a two-platoon team," notes Frazier.

So, while Warren County looks like an inexperienced team, the numbers are there, with depth at almost every position. How well the newcomers perform will tell what type of year the Eagles can expect in '82.

In another area clash, Oxford Webb meets Henderson Vance at Veterans Field.

New Curriculum Announced

LOUISBURG — Louisburg College plans an innovative academic service this fall to prospective students whose working hours during the week prevent them from attending college. The new service is the Week-End College Curriculum, beginning September 11 and 12 for 2½ hours on Saturday and Sunday, twice monthly.

Students would register for two courses in each of the fall and spring semester and one course in the summer for the next four years to fulfill the 64 semester hours of basic requirements for the A. A. degree.

For the first year, English composition, American history, and environmental biology would be scheduled, followed by algebra, state and local government, science and psychology the second year. Additional home study with written assignments would be required, and physical education credit could be earned through participating in National Guard physical training. Credit for military educational experience may be granted also according to standards established by the American Council of Education. The N. C. National Guard offers a Tuition Assistance Program for which students in the Guard may be eligible. Also, financial aid may be available from the College's Office of Financial Aid. ## Warren Roadsides Slated For A Thorough Cleaning

Warren County roadsides are scheduled for a thorough cleaning by young people Saturday, September 11. That is the day set aside as Clean Up Litter: Youth Involvement Day throughout North Carolina.

The day is a special opportunity for the state's youth to participate in the Clean Up Litter Week in North Carolina, September 11-17, sponsored by the N. C. Department of Transportation (DOT).

The youth clean up project is being coordinated by the Youth Advisory Council in the N. C. Department of Administration's Youth Involvement Office. Last year 100 youth groups participated in the event, and Gov. Jim Hunt joined one group as they picked up litter along a Raleigh roadside. Coordinators hope to double participation this year.

"Last year these youth groups demonstrated that young people care and are making our state a better place to live," said Shelby Shore, chairperson of the Youth

Advisory Council. "Past efforts have shown that many communities have a new sense of pride after conducting a clean up and participants enjoy this satisfying work."

Young people who participate in clean ups tend to avoid littering and are quick to remind others to follow their example, according to Mrs. Shore.

During Clean Up Litter Week, civic clubs and organizations pick up litter along highways in their area. Since the program's inception, citizens have been responsible for removing litter from approximately 30,000 miles of the state's highways. DOT employees, who collect the bags of litter, will work on Saturday to assist youth groups participating in Youth Involvement Day.

Any group of young people, with adult supervision, may participate in the project. The group may be any youth organization or group who can organize themselves to get the job done, or a group of youths sponsored and organized by an adult organization.

For more information about how your group can help, contact Debby Bryant, Youth Involvement Office, 121 W. Jones St., Raleigh, N. C. 27611, or call 919/733-5966 by September 1.
