

Riggans Spend Time At Opry

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Riggan of Wise left Thursday for the Opryland Hotel in Nashville, "Music City USA," Tenn., where they spent the weekend.

The "Nashville Travel Adventure" was given to them as a surprise by their children, Jack Riggan of Orlando, Fla., Mrs. Brenda Riggan Scott of Columbia, S. C., and Jay Riggan of Lexington.

Mrs. Riggan's brother, Bill Adams, and his wife, Arnett, of Newport News, Va. accompanied them.

On Friday night, they attended the "Nashville

Now" show with Ralph Emory (seen locally on cable TV). The Friday night program featured various country music stars.

Also appearing on the show was the Democratic presidential primary candidate, Gary Hart. They were among the select few allowed to go back stage to meet the stars and to have their photos made with Ralph Emory, Jerry Whitehurst and others appearing on the show.

Saturday and Sunday they toured points and places of interest in and around Opryland and Nashville including the Grand Ole Opry matinee on Saturday afternoon.

The Riggans returned home Sunday night from a most enjoyable trip.

Folding Their Tents

Jordan's estimated 250,000 Bedouin, who make up less than 3 percent of the nation's population, have largely folded their tents, abandoning their desert migrations. Many now live in settlements created by the government, National Geographic reports.

South Warren Pupils Hear Mrs. Burwell

Mrs. Dolly Burwell, legal secretary for John Henry Banks of Henderson, spoke to South Warren's fifth and sixth grade social studies classes recently, providing information on the 1984 presidential candidates and the campaign process.

Mrs. Burwell, who has served as an active youth volunteer since 1965, suggested ways for the students to support their candidates. Mrs. Burwell urged students to become informed on the candidates' issues, and suggested that perhaps they pass out campaign literature in their neighborhoods and at the polls. Mrs. Burwell asked students to encourage their parents to register and vote.

"We were delighted to have Mrs. Burwell visit with us and found that she did an excellent job of enlightening the students as to their future responsibilities in politics," said Melody Parker, fifth grade teacher at South Warren.
