Attends Meeting

Mrs. Bessie Shearin, dietary supervisor at Maria Parham Hospital in Henderson attended the fall meeting of the North Carolina Dietary Managers Association September 12-14 in Winston Salem.

Mrs. Shearin lives on Rt. 2, Norlina.

Members of the Warren County Committee of the Museum of History Associates attending a recent luncheon and orientation session in Roanoke Rapids were: (left to right) Mrs. Sally T. White, Mrs. Nell

S. Padgett, Richard E. Hunter, and Mrs. Nellie B. Gardner, county chairman, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Taylor, Mrs. Emma Lou Traylor and Mrs. Jan Perkinson.

Museum Associates Launch Campaign

The North Carolina Museum of History Associates began their 1984 Membership Campaign recently with a luncheon and orientation session at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie J. Long in Roanoke Rapids. The meeting, for campaign volunteers in east and central North Carolina, included the Warren County Committee:

Mrs. Sally T. White, Mrs. Nell S. Padgett, Richard Hunter, county chairman, Mrs. Nellie B. Gardner, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Taylor, Mrs. Emma Lou Traylor and Mrs. Jan Perkinson. The Museum Associates, a 9,000-member statewide support group for the North Carolina Museum of History and 24 state historic sites, provides educational programs and artifact displays for every county of the state. Campaign volunteers were the first to preview a new museum program, "North Carolina's First Ladies," which was produced and funded by the Museum Associates. The audiovisual program features gowns in the museum collection which belonged to the wives of 23 of North Carolina's governors, beginning with the Revolutionary period to the present. In addition to the gowns, the audiovisual shows portraits, artifacts, and memorabilia, providing the additional information about the personalities and accomplishments of this state's First Ladies.

Now that North Carolina history is once again a required subject at the eighth grade level after a 13-year lapse, the Museum Associates has funded several educational resources and audiovisual programs for every eighth grade classroom in the state, according to Mrs. Gardner.

Last year the Museum Associates used membership funds to provide an audiovisual entitled "The Roanoke Voyages/America's 400th Anniversary" for all schools in the state that include an eighth grade.

Later this year a cassette tape and film-strip of "North Carolina's First Ladies" will be mailed to every school in Warren County, which includes the eighth grade.

The "North Carolina's First Ladies" program reflects the role of women in North Carolina history; and, along with serving as an aid in teaching history, it will be shown at Museum of History Associate - sponsored Museum Days across the state. These Museum Days, for members and prospective members of the History Museum, will often include as guest of honor one or more of North Carolina's living First Ladies.

These governor's wives, who are also serving as Honorary Chairmen for the museum this year, include Mrs. Terry Sanford, Mrs. Dan K. Moore, Mrs. Robert W. Scott, Mrs. James E. Holshouser, and Mrs. James B. Hunt, Jr.

Mrs. Gardner noted that museum memberships begin at $15 and may be obtained by calling any member of the Warren County Committee.

Others attending the membership campaign meeting were Associate President Mrs. Sherwood H. Smith of Raleigh, Vice President Mrs. Robert J. Page of Chapel Hill, State Membership Chairman Mrs. Thomas F. Harrington of Eden, State Membership Co-Chairman Mrs. George W. Lyles of High Point, and Associate Executive Director Eve Williamson of Raleigh.
