MRS. ARRINGTON

MRS. BROWN

Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Arrington Are Given 4-H Recognition

By GEORGE W. KOONCE
 4-H Extension Agent

One of the highlights of the North Carolina Volunteer 4-H Leaders' Association conference held Feb. 3-5 in Winston Salem was the presentation of district and state awards to 46 adult leaders or adult leader teams in 28 counties, among them Warren County.

Mrs. Eva A. Brown of Lickskillet and Mrs. Christine N. Arrington of Warrenton, were both recognized as outstanding leaders in the North Central District and installed as association officers.

Mrs. Brown was cited for her efforts in recruiting 4-H members, planning events, and conducting educational programs and workshops. She was also cited for her participation in county, district and state 4-H activities, among them local community service projects and work with county, district and state 4-H Leaders' Associations. Mrs. Brown served as a state-level vice president in 1988 and was elected and installed as state association president-elect in 1989 during the Saturday conference business meeting held at the Stouffer Hotel.

Mrs. Arrington helps to recruit 4-H members and boost leader participation in her local club, as well as the county and district 4-H Leaders' Association. She is a very active member of the Best Better 4-H Club leadership team in Warren County and has served as Warren County 4-H Leaders' Association president and president-elect of the North Central District 4-H association in 1988. Mrs. Arrington was also installed as president of the 11-county North Central District 4-H Leaders Association for 1989 during the Saturday business session.

Both leaders will receive awards and additional recognition at the 1989 North Central District 4-H Day to be held June 19 in Edgecombe County.

Six district 4-H Leaders' Associations from across North Carolina comprise the North Carolina 4-H Volunteer Leaders' Association. About 300 leaders from across the state attended the conference, which had as its theme "Informed To Make The Best Better." They discussed their particular involvement in county and district programs, participated in workshops and elected association officers.

In addition to Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Arrington, the other new officers for the North Carolina Volunteer 4-H Leaders' Association are: Patricia Clark, of Morganton (president); Kathy Pollock, of Currituck (vice president); Virginia Murphy, of Richlands (secretary), Dan Perry, of Snow Camp (treasurer); Sandy Brown, of Pineville (reporter); Jackie Bolden, of Clyde (historian) and Dwayne Renner, of Clinton (parliamentarian). Allen Stines, of Marshall, serves on the executive board as past president.

Mrs. Sandra S. Alston, of Warrenton, is the new treasurer for the North Central District 4-H Volunteer Leaders' Association. The other new officers are: Ralph House, of Smithfield (president-elect); Annie Bullock, of Henderson (vice president); Beatrice Walker, of Henderson (secretary); Harvey Ferris, of Apex (historian) and Dale Martin, of Zebulon (reporter).

Warren Pair To Be Guests

Two Warren County residents will be among the 20 farm couples from across North Carolina who will be the guests of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company in Winston-Salem during an executive development seminar for tobacco farm men and women.

Margaret and Rayford Pernel will participate in a two-day seminar to be held March 1-2, which will provide training sessions, tours of company facilities and presentations by various Reynolds Tobacco departments. They were chosen for their leadership abilities and community service.

Earlier, the Pernells attended two similar training sessions held in Raleigh, which were sponsored jointly by RJR, N. C. State University and the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service. Because the Pernells, like the other 19 couples, are farm management teams, in the earlier sessions, the family teams discussed farm responsibilities usually assigned to one or the other.

The seminar highlight will be a banquet on March 1, when Ralph Angiolo, president and chief executive officer of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco USA, will discuss tobacco's outlook for the future. "American agriculture is a major cornerstone for the high standard of living in the United States (and) we need the continued support of our nation's tobacco-growing community to continue producing superior products," the keynote speaker said recently.

Two From Warren Make Dean's List

Two Warren County residents have been named to the dean's list for the fall semester at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill: Julius Edmond Banzet, IV, of Warrenton, and Lisa Janelle Wilson, of Rt. 2, Warrenton.

To achieve dean's list status, a student must earn a 3.2 grade point average or higher, while taking 15 or more letter grade hours of credit, or a 3.5 average while taking at least 12 letter grade hours, with no grade below a C.

The Public Record

Deed Transfers

In recording deed transfers the law does not require that the amount paid for property be stated in the deed. However, the State of North Carolina requires a tax stamp on each deed at the rate of 50 cents for every $500 valuation or fraction thereof. This revenue goes into the General Fund of the counties.

Second Loss Reported

The Inez residence of a Warren County man has been the site of a second break-in in about as many weeks.

According to Sheriff Theodore Williams, a storage room at the Rt. 3, Warrenton residence of Lafayette Turner, which is located on E. A. Turner Road, was entered by a person or persons who removed one upright freezer valued at $600. Damages to the door and its frame have been estimated at $100. Deputy Ronnie Baskett was the responding officer, the sheriff said.

Announces Birth

Teresa T. Williams, of Warrenton, announces the birth of a son, Darrius Tyrannie Blaire Williams, on Jan. 19 at Halifax Memorial Hospital in Roanoke Rapids. The infant weighed seven pounds, two ounces and was 21 inches in length.

The maternal grandmother is Josephine Williams, a resident of Warrenton.
