At the opening of the 50th Congress last Monday, Mr. Carlisle was elected Speaker.

Washington Letter.

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5, '87.

The city is alive with Congressmen and politics are being discussed in all comfortable places where the chosen men of the states can congregate these cold days. The contest for the speakership has waxed warm, and as it grows in interest the two prominent candidates seem to be the ones least apt to get the prize. Breckenridge of Kentucky is working day and night to defeat Donohoe, and Hurst is being bitterly opposed by his rival's supporters. It looks now as if a dark horse will have to be brought forward. The caucus is called for Saturday night, and before eight o'clock that night it will be known who will be the next officers of the House. Carlisle and Randall have met several times at the Capitol to discuss the tariff problem but have had no full discussion because of the numerous interruptions by Congressmen dropping in on them. It seems to be thought that Carlisle will appoint Breckenridge of his own state chairman of the Ways and Means committee. Last session Morrison was chairman, and Willis of Kentucky was chairman of the River and harbor committee. Both are very important committees, and the Speaker seems determined to have his own state represented at the head of one of them. The Republicans will hold their caucus at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. They have no chance of electing officers, but will probably go through the form of nominating. They will, however, discuss the course to be pursued by the party on the important questions to be brought forward. Now that Hiscock has been transferred to the Senate the question is as to who shall lead the Republicans in the House. It lies between Reed of Maine and Butterworth of Ohio. Both are aggressive men, and while Reed is the ablest man of the two, Butterworth has some qualities that better fit him for the position of leader.

The situation on the Senate side is also interesting, as the two parties are equally divided. At present Riddleburger holds the balance of power and he is an unknown quantity, although he has in the past almost uniformly acted with the Republicans. Turpie, the new Democratic Senator from Indiana will probably be allowed to take his seat without much opposition. He has all along drawn his salary although a Republican—Ingalls—has been the president of the Senate in the interim between the last and the present Congress. His name has also been placed on one of the chairs, which fact together with the republicans in the ascendancy and all the Senate officials republicans, rather looks as if the dominant party conceded his right to the seat. There is some talk of the Democratic Senators insisting on a division of the offices, and it so, there may be a sharp contest over the admission of some of the Senators, and over the organization, as the Republicans will surrender none of the offices.

The session of the Cabinet on Thursday was one of the most protracted held for many months. The President's message was under discussion, and all the subjects were discussed in all their phases and bearings. Nothing could be learned as to whether there was any difference of opinion on any of the subjects or not.

From Busfus.

The farmers' club, at their meeting December 1st, (it has leaked out) decided to have a little "set up" during Xmas holidays in way of an oyster and turkey dinner for their enjoyment. If they decide to have it it may be counted as a success, for the club is composed of the very best men in this or any other community, section, state or country. We learn a good sum, say 25 or 30 dollars was subscribed readily and many members were absent. Farmers need such recreations and socials and

I am glad they are going to have it. I shall attend a wedding on the 7th. Of that more hereafter.

There is a right smart clash between the patrons and the free school committee of this district. Indignation meetings and so on. Can't say which will whip yet, but it seems the far must fly. It don't make much difference anyway, the free schools are a nuisance, so is all the machinery of it.

The foxes are getting a numerous around here that a number of our people are providing themselves with bounds with which to scare them away if they don't catch any.

Capt. Fowlkes of R. & D. R. R. has some pretty game chickens, said to be excellent fighters also. Game chickens are a great rage here now.

The boys report the hare crop short this year, the foxes have destroyed them. Business very heavy over R. & D. R. R. now. Trains running continuously night and day and night telegraph operators have to be put on at all important places.

SARGENT BUZZARD, Pelham, N. C., Dec. 5, 1887.

Flooding Sam is glad to hear from the Superintendent.

MR. EDITOR: The full and lively article of our superintendent afforded me much gratification. It of itself is calculated to do much good. He very fittingly reminded the public that the free schools cannot be removed, and the earlier we all go to work together to make them more useful, the better it will be. It does seem to me that the same teacher can do just as good work in a public school as in a private, if the parents will just do their duty and send their children to school regularly. I have taught both public and private and can see no difference in results, when the children are sent to school all the time. I would be glad to hear from some one else on this subject. "Maj. Thompson suggests a "Teacher's Council" for the purpose of getting the teachers and other friends of education together, and thereby improve the schools of our county. This is just what I have been wanting for a long time, and I am now ready to meet him in Yanceyville almost any Saturday he will set for that purpose. I hope he will set a day and call on the teachers of the county to attend. But will it interfere in the least with our corner in the News? Will they not be splendid co-operatives? I think they will work together, each one enlivening and aiding the other. I will gladly try to do all I can for both. It is well that the teacher is modest. But no extreme is desirable. Notwithstanding his modesty he should be willing to enlarge and improve his profession, and more especially so when so much depends on it as does in this case. "Magnify your office." Don't follow a vocation that you are not proud of, and then try to make it proud of you. I hope the teachers will think of it soberly, lay aside some of their modesty and let us hear from all of them very soon. It has been my experience in the past that a superfluity of modesty has been as deadly to our teachers meetings as to the correspondence in the county paper. It must be that or some similar disease that is so destructive to some of them. The meetings are very good, but by supplementing them with a correspondence in the News, we will meet so many parents, besides meeting each other so much oftener. I hope to hear from Maj. Thompson again at once on this subject. I am willing to whatever will promote the school interest.

Very truly,
FLOODING SAM.

HOW DO WE DIG OUR GRAVES?

We must eat or we cannot live. This we all know. But do we all know that we die by eating? It is said we dig our graves with our teeth. How foolish this sounds. It is fearfully true. We are terrified at the approach of the cholera and yellow fever, yet there is a disease constantly at our doors and in our houses far more dangerous and destructive. Most people have in their own stomachs a poison, more slow but quite as fatal as the germs of those maladies which sweep men into eternity by thousands without warning in the times of great epidemics. But it is a merry that, if we are watchful, we can tell when we are threatened. The following are among the symptoms, yet they do not always necessarily appear in the same order, nor are they always the same in different cases. There is a dull and sleepy feeling; a bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning; the appetite is changeable, sometimes poor and again it seems as though the patient could not eat enough; dullness and sluggishness of the mind; no ambition to study or work; more or less headache and heaviness in the head; dizziness on rising to the feet or moving suddenly; furred and coated tongue; a sense of a load on the stomach that nothing removes; hot and dry skin at times; yellow tinge in the eyes; scanty and high-colored urine; sour taste in the mouth, frequently attended by palpitation of the heart; impaired vision, with spots that seem to be swimming in the air before the eyes; a cough, with a greenish-colored expectoration; poor night's rest; a sticky slime about the teeth and gums; hands and feet cold and clammy; irritable temper and bowels bound up and costive. This disease has puzzled the physicians and still puzzles them. It is the commonest of ailments and yet the most complicated and mysterious. Sometimes it is treated as liver complaint, and then again as malaria and even heart disease. But its real nature is that of constipation and dyspepsia. It arises in the digestive organs and soon affects all the others through the corrupted and poisoned blood. Often the whole body—including the nervous system—is literally starved, even when there is no emaciation to tell the sad story. Experience has shown that therein put one remedy that can certainly cure this disease in all its stages, namely, Shaker's Extract of Roots or Mother's Curative Syrup. It never fails but, nevertheless, no time should be lost in trying other so-called remedies for they will do no good. Get this great vegetable preparation, (discovered by a venerable nurse whose name is a household word in Germany) and be sure to get the genuine article.

GIVEN UP BY OTHER DOCTORS.
Shaker's Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup has raised me to good health after seven doctors had given me up to die with consumption. — So writes R. F. Grace, Kirksville, Todd Co., Ky.

HE FEARED IT JUST IN TIME.
"I had been about given up to die with dyspepsia when I first saw the advertisement of Shaker's Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup. After using four bottles I was able to attend to my business as well as ever. I know of several cases of cholera and fever that have been cured by it." So writes Mr. Theo. Pullum, of Taylor, Geneva Co., Ala.

WORTH TEN DOLLARS A BOTTLE.
Mr. Thomas P. Evans, of the firm of Evans & Bro., Merchants, Hometown, Accomack Co., Va., writes that he had been rick with digestive disorders for many years and had tried many physicians and medicines without benefit. He began to use Shaker's Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup about the 1st of Jan. 1887, and was so much better in three weeks that he considered himself practically a well man. He adds "I have at this time one bottle on hand, and if I could not get any more I would not take a ten dollar bill for it."
