The Hardship of the Farmer.

The difficulty with which the farmer has to contend is that the price of his goods is regulated by the price at which he sells his surplus in the markets of the world...

Is it any wonder that he finds it difficult to make both ends meet? He finds it impossible to get ahead in the world? He is the hewer of wood and drawer of water, in deed and in truth...

Yet he is largely in the majority in this country. He is the great body of the population. He is entitled to equal rights and privileges under the government with all other citizens.

The Old Fashioned Girl.

She was a little girl until she was fifteen years old, and she helped her mother in her household duties. She had her hours of play, and enjoyed herself to the fullest extent.

Fashion Fancies.

Watered velvet is the thing in millinery. Cameos are again coming into fashion. Gray bonnets are favored by ladies who are leaving off mourning.

Black velvet bodices are often worn with delicate tints such as pale blue, pink, light brown and other shades. Some of the new silk stockings for wear at balls and operas are open-worked and embroidered with tinsel.

A very new bracelet is a mere thread of gold holding a large oval stone—topaz, rough emerald, moonstone or amethyst—or else an ancient scarabaeus.

Dressy bonnets are made of white cloth with Turkish embroidery of gold, the cloth being employed as the soft crown, with dark velvet edging the front.

All street jackets have some sort of braiding. The handsome show tinsel braiding on the waistcoats but very popular are those of dark blue, edged all around with a cording of black astrakhan and black braiding of rich and heavy design.

How to Save Ice.

I have read with much interest recent directions in your journal as to the best manner of constructing ice-houses, writes a correspondent of the "Country Gentleman."

In filling the ice is thrown in promiscuously, and after each few loads the surface is broken into fragments, that the interstices may be partially filled.

care being taken to have it reach the bottom at every point. The process is continued until a perfect wall of sawdust surrounds the mass.

The entire cost of the building, including excavation, was less, perhaps, than $50, and no further outlay will be required than a new roof at intervals of twenty or more years.

Christianity.

In a truly Christian community—a community in which the principle of doing to others as we would have them do to us, the principle of equal rights and equal freedom, permeated laws and institutions—there would be no poverty, no prisons, no almshouses, no paupers and no tramps, no monstrously rich and monstrously poor.

Household Hints.

Decayed vegetables should not be left in the cellar, and cellars should be whitewashed to be kept sweet and clean.

Put salt in the water to prevent black calicoes from fading when they are washed.

Half a teaspoonful of common salt dissolved in a little cold water and drank will instantly relieve heartburn.

A good substitute for buttermilk is a thin batter made of flour and tepid water, and allowed to remain long enough to sour.

Many very fine cooks will not use baking-powder, soda, or cream of tartar in cake-making, while others think it impossible to do without it.

When laid away for any length of time linen should be washed, rough dried without bluing and laid in loose folds without much weight on it.

Button-holes in children's garments are apt to tear out, especially in waists and drawer-bands. If you will stitch a strong cord immediately in front of the button-holes you will have no more trouble of this kind.

Since so many women have to spend so much of their lives in the kitchen it should be made a place of comfort. Be sure and have a lounge or easy chair there.

For a good tooth-powder mix together one ounce of powderedorris root, one dram of gum camphor, two drams of powdered myrrh, half an ounce of prepared chalk.

Women who do their own work regard their rough hands with very great distress. To make and keep them soft wear old gloves at night, just rubbing in an ointment made by beating the white of an egg to a froth and stirring it into a cup of melted lard, to which is added one teaspoon of glycerine.

Great care should be taken in washing milk-cans and all vessels into which milk is set, as milk "turns" very readily when put in an unclean dish.

Temperance News and Notes.

Marblehead, Mass., has increased her valuation $100,000 under prohibition.

The city of Fargo, Dakota, has raised a sum of $20,000 to enforce the Prohibition law.

Governor Larrabee, of Iowa, reports that 82 out of the 99 counties in that State have no saloons.

"The Help-Myself Society" is the name of one of the Gospel temperance societies of London.

Dakota Prohibitionists will meet in Huron to organize the party in that Territory on July 17.

The Catholic church of Dubuque, Iowa, has started a movement for total abstinence in that city.

It is said that since prohibition has been enforced in Kansas church membership has increased forty per cent.

Imprisonment having utterly failed to lessen drunkenness in the British army, it is now proposed to punish the offender by stoppage of pay.

The time is coming when the people will put an end to the arrogant dictation of the saloon in politics. It is absolutely necessary for the safety of the people and the welfare of the Government that this is done.

There is a story from Marquette, Mich., that ought to make a good many new members of temperance societies out there. It was only a drunken man who pounded his wife to death with a heavy iron tea-kettle filled with scalding water.

Placed side by side the New York city charles would reach seven miles to gin mills and lager beer saloons fifty-six miles.

The National Temperance Society has taken up the matter of locating past-offices in saloons as is done in Wisconsin, and will have such action prohibited by Congress.

The United States District Court at Dubuque, Iowa, has decided that all liquor cases are to be remanded back to the State courts. This will prevent delay in trying violators of the law and will result in closing every saloon in that State at an early date.

A Lady's Perfect Companion.

PAINLESS CHILD-BIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dyer, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in childbirth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome.
