VOTERS MUST CONTROL TAXATION

In 1927 the major departments, commissions and bureaus of the Federal government cost the taxpayers $1,964,000,000.

In the 1932 fiscal year they cost $3,195,100,000—an increase of 63 per cent. The cost of one department increased 220 per cent in that time—another jumped 117 per cent—two others went up 113 per cent and 106 per cent respectively.

The most amazing phase of this is that we were in a far better position to pay in 1927 than in 1932. Those were boom days, when extravagance was taken almost as a matter of course. In the last three years businesses and individuals have been forced to cut costs and adjust output to reduced income. Only the governmental departments and commissions and bureaus and whatnots have demanded that an unending stream of dollars be ready for them to spend. The meaning of all this should be clear enough by now. We face the specter of tax bankruptcy. We are experiencing a tax policy that is forcing money into tax-free bonds, throttling business and creating unemployment and distress. Government extravagance and waste strike deep into every pocketbook.

There is but one solution—drastic cuts in the cost of government. There is but one instrument for achieving that—the demand of the people, who pay the taxes and cast the votes. This is the final word. Until that word is spoken emphatically at the polls, the economic future of America must remain closed by doubt.

Pleasant Hill News

We have had dry weather for quite a while in this section. The crops and gardens are dried up and lots of wells are most dry.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Flowers of Knightdale spent Saturday night at the home of Mr. O. W. Thorne.

Miss Estelle and Iradell Gray have been visiting relatives here for several weeks.

Waverly Phillips of Washington is spending some time here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Phillips, and Carl Watkins of Washington is also home for a few days.

Misses Savon Starnes and Lucy Mae Modoy spent Saturday night with Miss Mabel Puryear.

Mr. Joe Knott lost a barn and tobacco by fire last Friday morning.

Misses Savon and Sherley Starnes visited at Mrs. Keith's in Wakefield last Tuesday.

We are sorry Mrs. Addie Whitaker fell and fractured her arm; also other bruises last week.

Miss Ruby Mae Joyner of Raleigh spent the week-end with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gay.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weathers were visitors at Mr. Rojer Privetts Sunday.

Orlando Puryear spent Sunday with D. L. and Joseph Moody near Rolesville.

Mr. Lorenza Eddins is staying at Mr. Charlie Hawkins for a while.

Mrs. Addie Whitaker entertained a number of small girls and boys Saturday afternoon in honor of her little grandson's birthday, Junior Whitaker. Cake and candy were served.

Mrs. H. E. Whitaker has many callers while she is recovering from her recent illness.

On last Wednesday little Inez Earlie Hood was honored with a party to celebrate her sixth birthday. Games were played in the yard from 4:00 till 5:30, when the children, warm and tired trooped into the dining-room.

The six-canded birthday cake was cut and saucers full of ice cream were served, as was fruit also. Present were: Janette Horton, Joe Thomas Knott, Margaret Ann Horton, Lois Bele Williams, Elmer Glenn Blow, Edith and John Bridges.

It makes a long, aggravating day of it to hold in your temper.

PARTIES

The advanced class of Lees Chapel Baptist Sunday school held its regular monthly meeting Saturday night with one of its members, Miss Lizzie Price, a large number being present. A very interesting program was rendered by the class, after which sandwiches and punch were served. There were several visitors present. Little Miss Marie Driver entertained a bunch of little folks Saturday afternoon. Several games were played, after which followed an ice course.

Those present were: Rachel and Edward Stallings, Naomi, Marjorie and Ina Margaret Driver, Bettie Hopkins, Margie Kemp, Ella Morgan, Maud, Edsel and W. J. Johnson.

BIG GOLD SHIPMENT

W. L. Cotton, Stanly county's leading gold miner, forwarded to the Philadelphia mint on Saturday $1,045.00 worth of the yellow metal. This gold was mined in the Sibley and Crowell mines in this county, and is metal of fine quality.

This constitutes the largest single shipment of gold from this county in thirty years. Interest in gold mining in Stanly was revived recently and two stamp mills are being operated at the mines mentioned above.

MEMORIUM

In loving remembrance of our dear daddy and husband, J. G. Mullen, who died four weeks ago today, August 6, 1932.

Today recalls sad memories of A love one gone to rest,

And those who miss him most. Today are those who love him best.

So sad, so sudden, was the call, His death was such a shock to all;

But with his trials, God knew best And took our daddy home to rest.

Four long weeks have passed, Dear Daddy since you went away,

What would we give to see your face And so would many others, to clasp

Your hand and hear your dear voice. Called in the bloom of manhood,

Just in the prime of life, Away from the world of sorrow,

To the land where all is bright. This world may change from year to year,

My life from day to day, But the love and memory of you, dear

Daddy, Shall never fade away.

His Wife and Children.

Holloway's Hits

By James Holloway.

Dear Mr. Editor:

It was a great pleasure to stand on the streets of Raleigh Saturday night and watch the happy smiles on the faces of the people as they passed along. A most remarkable change has taken place in the expression on faces of people the past thirty days. Heretofore a strained anxious look was noticeable in the countenance of every one you met. Unhappiness seemed to be universal, now all that has passed and people are looking forward with hope and faith to happier days ahead. This has been brought about by the improvement in the business outlook. Mourning over the depression is about over and if we realize our hopes even partially it will be good for the nation.

It does seem after what we have gone through with the past three years the people would not forget the cause of their trouble and strive to avoid a repetition of similar conditions in future. The farmer has been caught between the upper millstone of big business exploitation and the lower millstone of an almost vanishing buying power because of the great amount of unemployment in the nation. Having lost entirely all semblance of control of the selling end of his products he is now completely at the mercy of the price fixing gangs who have exploited and preyed upon him since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. Overproduction is not the cause of the farmer's plight but under consumption has brought all his troubles upon him, coupled with his dependence on men and organizations who have never had his interest at heart. Until he succeeds in divorcing himself from the yoke of bondage they have so securely fastened upon his shoulders he will continue to be a slave and vassal of the soulless corporations.

Who built all the Tobacco factories of this nation, the Cotton Factories, the Peanut factories, the oil mills, the Tobacco warehouse, the bonded warehouses, the Tobacco Stemerics, the prize houses covering hundreds of acres of land and other big enterprises too numerous to mention? The farmers of this country built all these enterprises by the sweat of his brow but he has never enjoyed the fruits of his labors and never will so long as he continues to close his eyes to the facts and refuses to heed advice and warning of his friends. In the city of Winston-Salem alone he has creatof his profits created the Duke Power Company and established the Duke Foundation. This great foundation bought both body and soul one of the largest Protestant denominations in this nation and since the purchase was consummated not one word has been uttered by any dignitary of this great church against the use of the cigarette by immature boys and girls of this country. Before this deal was made the preachers of this denomination denounced cigarette as one of the cardinal sins. Had the tobacco farmers of this state received as much as one-half of the value of his crop, they would today be the richest farmers on the face of this earth, instead of being well off and financially independent the Tobacco farmers are steadily growing poorer while the crop of Millionaires continue to increase by leaps and bounds. The Tobacco Companies were caught red-handed stealing last years crop of tobacco and the indignation which followed alarmed them to such an extent they are now paying the farmers a few cents more for the present crop. Just how long they will do this remains to be seen. If President Hoover is reelected in November, you may mark this prediction, Mr. Editor, prices will drop almost immediately and they will circulate another false report about the inferior quality of the crop. They worked this lying alibi last year successfully but men who know tobacco are now saying that the last year's crop was the best quality tobacco which has been produced in the past five years.

The troubles of Treasurer Mangum continue to multiply and it begins to look as though his bondsman will be called upon to pay at least a part of the County money which Mr. Mangum lost in bank failures. The treasurer's office is an entirely needless expense and should be abolished along with that of Auditor. Neither office is worth a plugged nickel to the taxpayers of Wake County and the few duties they are supposed to perform could easily be handled by the Sheriffs, Register of Deeds and Clerk of Court office if they would get rid of the inefficiency in those offices and employ capable men and women to perform the duties in a capable manner. If the people of Wake County really knew of the amount of inefficiency which exist in their county offices they would rise in their indignation and make a clean sweep of the whole outfit.

There seems to be a remote possibility that the people of Raleigh may get a ride about town for a nickel if the City Commissioners can be prevailed upon to divorce themselves from the control of the Carolina Power and Light Company and grant a franchise to a new Jitney line. It may necessitate a change of the city administration before this can be brought about as from all reports each of the present city commissioners sneeze every time Paul Tillery of the Carolina Power and light company takes snuff. They know their masters' voice as well as the North Carolina Corporation Commission does any relief from the present excessive street car fares and public service rates will have to await a more opportune time. The present crowd would not dare antagonize this great corporation by attempting to give the people of Raleigh any relief.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB HOUSE

Mrs. S. H. Hoyle

Home Demonstration club members of Wakefield own an attractive club house and the land on which it is built. That the club might have a permanent meeting place the late D. S. Joyner, a former resident of the community deeded the building lot to three trustees of the club and their successors. The logs were cut, sawed, and skinned largely by the women themselves with some assistance from their husbands and the boys of the community. One man was hired to build the house. The building was put up at the low cost of $486.15 of which only $138.42 was donated in cash and this was given in amounts ranging from five cents to ten dollars. No one gave more than ten dollars and only three people gave that much cash. $22.28 of this amount was lost in a bank failure. The balance of the money was raised by members of the club serving meals at fairs and tobacco market openings, selling rummage, making a quilt, selling ice cream and cold drinks at ball games, and selling canned goods. The most profitable endeavor was a play from which was realized $108.45.

Our dream is realized. Our house is paid for and the little village of Wakefield has a club house that can be and is used as a community center. Monthly meetings of the club are held with the county agent teaching the women how to run everything, about the home more efficiently. Lessons and demonstrations in cooking, serving, canning, finishing floors, garden planting and a number of other things have been given. We wish to express sincere appreciation to all who have so generously contributed, furnishings, materials, cash, or labor. In the near future we are planning to entertain all who have helped us make our dream a reality. Watch the Record for further announcement.
