Nancy Alford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Alford, Route 2, Zebulon, and Dottie Privette, daughter of Mrs. Doris Privette, Zebulon, have been chosen to represent Wakelon School and the Zebulon American Legion Auxiliary unit at the 16th Annual Tar Heel Girls' State to be held June 12-17 at the Woman's College in Greensboro, it was announced today by Mrs. Pat Farmer, Girls' State Chairman of the local Auxiliary unit.

Each year two outstanding girls in the rising Senior class are selected by their principal and teachers to attend this event.

The Tar Heel Girls' State was originated and established in 1840 by the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of North Carolina, as an Americanism project to provide for high school girls of the State an opportunity to study and practice citizenship in a democracy.

For fifteen years it has developed within several thousand young leaders a deeper sense of their responsibility as citizens, and proved to be a practical source of instruction in the structure and operation of the State government.

Registration to Be Tuesday Morning For Summer School

Registration for the Wakelon summer school will be held beginning at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, according to Principal Franklin R. Jones. Regular classes will begin on Wednesday.

The school has been organized primarily to assist students in making up work on subjects failed during regular sessions and improving their knowledge of subjects where they are weak.

The only advance work offered during this summer school will be for those who need to improve their class standings because of previous failures. The North Carolina requirement of 75 hours for remedial work will be observed.

Classes will be held at a time most convenient to the students attending. The time will be announced Tuesday.

Members of the regular teaching staff at Wakelon will instruct the school. Because no state support for summer schools is available, a nominal tuition charge will be charged.

The tentative program of instruction will include seventh and eighth grade English and mathematics, high school English, I, II, III, and general science or biology, and social studies.

Persons interested in enrolling in the summer school are asked to contact the Principal.
