Local Chamber Selects Ferd Davis as President Easy on Zebulon;

Ferd Davis, local lawyer, was elected president of the Zebulon Chamber of Commerce for the 19-55-56 term at the organization's meeting Monday night, August 15. Mr. Davis, currently president of the Zebulon Rotary Club, also served as president of the Chamber of Commerce during the Chamber's 1953-54 year.

Elected while attending the National Guard summer encampment at Fort Bragg, Mr. Davis succeeds outgoing president Tom Monk.

The local Chamber of Commerce also elected Ed Hales and J. R. Alford as directors for a three year term at Monday night's meeting at Town Hall.

Lester Rose, general manager of Raleigh's Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker at the meeting and told the Zebulon organization of the need for a Chamber of Commerce. He outlined the functions and aims of any good Chamber, and pointed out the benefits to be derived by the town from the existence of such an organization.

Mr. Rose said that the cooperation of all business men in the community is necessary for the success of the Chamber of Commerce, especially in a small town.

The Zebulon Chamber of Commerce decided that the organization's directors give further study to a proposed plan for opening a full time office for the local out-

Move to Field

The Guardsmen will move out into the field for the second week. Field exercises will be conducted under near-combat conditions, with Aggressors simulating enemy invaders.

In addition to training its own troops in offense, the unit will have to prepare and maintain a complete defense against the invaders.

The 30th Infantry Division is commanded by Major General Claude Bowers of Warrenton. Its growth has been rapid since North Carolina resumed responsibility ty Selectice Service Local Board for the half-division formerly in Tennessee.

> The highlight of the first week will be the annual parade on Saturday, August 21, when Governor Luther Hodges, commander of the North Carolina National Guard, will review the troops.
