

THE ZEBULON RECORD

Volume XXX. Number 58.

Zebulon, N. C., Tuesday, April 24, 1956

Theo. Davis Sons, Publishers

HAWKS BETTER BEWARE OF ROSENBERG

35 Dead Hawks Hang in Tree

D. D. Chamblee and W. D. Gay are shown standing before a hawk tree which has attracted considerable curiosity throughout the state. The hawks were killed by Paul Hall, a sawmiller. He used a 20.70 sporting rifle with a telescopic sight.

The hawk tree near W. D. Gay's store on Highway 64 has created quite a lot of curiosity.

The 35 hawks hanging on the tree or on the ground surrounding the tree have caused many a person traveling along the highway to stop and look.

These hawks were killed by one man, Paul Hall of Troy. He killed them with a 20.70 sporting rifle with a telescopic sight.

Hall said he killed as many as four in one day, some as far as 300 yards distant.

Hawks had been taking a heavy toll of the poultry in the community before Hall began his raid on the flying prey. The community is indebted for his efforts in destroying the hawks.

Hall is a sawmiller by trade.

Local Women's Clubs To Be Participants In Federation Meet

The Senior and Junior Women's Clubs of Zebulon will participate in the North Carolina Federation Women's Clubs 54th Annual Convention to be held in Durham at the Washington Duke Hotel April 24, 25, and 26.

Mrs. A. S. Hinton is attending the convention, representing the Senior club as a delegate. From the Junior club will be Mrs. Gilmer Parrish and Mrs. Norman Screws.

At noon Tuesday there will be a luncheon at the hotel honoring the district presidents and vice presidents. Among those so honored will be Mrs. Screws' 8th district vice president.

Mrs. Screws became the 8th district vice president when she was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Fred Dorsey of Raleigh. In 1955 she was elected to serve one term as district vice president. Her tenure expires this year.

The district presidents and vice presidents, both outgoing and incoming, will march in the processional during the convention ceremonies.

Upon the formation of the Wendell Junior Woman's Club, Mrs. Screws was the installing officer.

Mrs. Walter C. Burgess of Wendell is the new incoming district vice president, succeeding Mrs. Screws.

The Zebulon Junior Club received a 100% rating at last year's convention.

Mrs. Gilmer Parrish, president of the Junior club, will be a part of the receiving line and direct the guests to the refreshment table.

Mrs. Exum Chamblee, president of the Senior club, will be unable to attend the convention due to having to fulfill her classroom duties as Wakelon school.

The formal opening of the convention will get underway at 7:45 p.m. in the Durham High School auditorium. Following the opening (See MEETING, Page 5)

Mrs. A. S. Hinton

Wilson Minister Men's Speaker

The Rev. R. W. Bradshaw, pastor of First Methodist Church in Wilson, will be the guest speaker at the Zebulon Methodist Men's Meeting in the Fellowship Hall at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday.

The Rev. Bradshaw, popular Methodist speaker throughout North Carolina and the Methodist Conference, will use as his subject "Stewardship and the New Budget System."

All members are urged to be present for the meeting. All men not members are invited to attend this meeting and join the fellowship.

Andrew Jenkins, secretary-treasurer of the group, is to be contacted if you are planning to attend.

Substitute

Mrs. Armstrong Cannady is replacing Mrs. Bobby Sherron during Mrs. Sherron's absence from her secretarial duties at the Baptist Church.

Mrs. Sherron is a patient at Rex Hospital and will undergo a major operation this week.

A total of 151 persons, representing 33 foreign countries, received training at N. C. State College last year under the Foreign Technical Assistance Program.

APPRECIATION SUPPER

Canvassing of the Wakelon district has begun for selling tickets to the School Appreciation Banquet May 1.

Dr. Charles Carroll, superintendent of N. C. Public Schools, will make the address for this occasion. He served as Superintendent of Schools in High Point before accepting his present position.

The proceeds from the School Appreciation Night will go to pay the librarian's salary for next year. All receipts above last year's expenses went for paying for this for the school year 1955-56.

Mrs. Frank Massey and Mrs. Armstrong Cannady are in charge of the home-to-home solicitation. Those helping these ladies are: Mrs. Julia Draughon, Mrs. Jack Mitchell, Mrs. Eloise Eddins, Mrs. Fred Wood, Mrs. Tom Kimball, Mr. Robert Sawyer, Mrs. Ben Thomas, Mrs. Ed Hales, Mrs. W. A. Allman, Mrs. Thurman Murray, Mrs. Eldred Rountree, Mrs. Garland Godwin, Mrs. Al Batts, Mrs. James Creech, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs. Randolph Hendricks, Mrs. James Alford, Mrs. Wilbur Debnam, Mrs. Garland Richardson, Mrs. Billy Privette, Mrs. Hardin Hinton, Mrs. Sidney Eddins, and Mrs. Douglas Finch.

Covering the business section and school area are Ed Hales, Thurman Murray, Randolph Hendricks, Billy Hopkins, H. H. Eddins.

CASHIER

Robert D. Massey

Robert Daniel Massey has assumed his duties as cashier of Peoples Bank & Trust Company here. He was appointed to this position at a meeting of the Board of Directors in Rocky Mount.

Massey is a native of Zebulon, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Massey. He is married to the former Frances Barrett of Kingston. They have three children, Robert Daniel Jr., 13; Guy Barrett, 8; and Frances Barrett, 3.

Ceremonies at Independence Unite Zebulon Native and Miss Truman

Miss Margaret Truman became the bride of E. C. Daniel, Jr. Saturday. The vows were spoken in Trinity Episcopal Church in the bride's home town of Independence, Mo.

The bride was radiant in a beautiful pale blonde ankle-length wedding gown of 17th century Venetian lace and tulle. The neckline had a yoke of pleated tulle frosted by the lace. The dress was designed and created in Rome by Fontana, one of Italy's leading fashion coutouriers.

Her headdress was a tiny crown of the same Venetian lace, with a tulle veil that hung about five inches below the shoulders, in front and at the sides, and to about four inches below the waistline. Her shoes were of matching beige, with lace applique on the toe and tapered heel.

Miss Truman carried a prayer book given to her by her Grandmother Wallace when she was confirmed in the Episcopal Church in 1940.

The church was decorated in green and white. The gray pews bore string smilax. The chancel was a clustered bank of the green and white of woodwardia ferns, chrysanthemums, and white stock. Candelabra with 18-inch tapers were placed through the church.

Attending Miss Truman were Mrs. John E. Horton of Los Angeles and Mrs. William Coleman Branton of Kansas City. Mrs. Horton wore a full dress of iridescent green peau de soie, street length with three-quarter-length sleeves, and matching shoes. Mrs. Branton's gown was of yellow silk taffeta, with full skirt of three-quarter-length. Their small hats were of gold leaf.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of embroidered gray Swiss silk, and the mother of the groom wore one of turquoise.

The groom wore semiformal day dress, gray waistcoat, Oxford gray jacket, gray tie, shepherd's plaid trousers.

Daniel's best man was John

Knox Barrow, an old friend and classmate. The two ushers were George Backer of New York and Turner Catledge, managing editor of the New York Times, for which Daniel has been a foreign correspondent and now is an assistant to the foreign news editor.

After the ceremony, the new husband and wife kissed before (See TRUMAN, Page 5)

FIRE

Fire of an undetermined origin caused damages estimated at $2,000 to a timber shed belonging to Wake Builders Supply Company Saturday, the Zebulon Rural Fire Department reported.

The Department reported the timber shed as located between the main building and where the sawdust is burned.

The blaze was reported to the Fire Department at approximately 5 o'clock.

MAIN STREET SCENE

Daughters & Granddaughters

Pleasant Sights: Mrs. Charles Creech making her daughter's dance revue costume . . . Mrs. Irby Gill helping her daughter select her wedding invitations . . . Mrs. Ralph Talton eating ice cream with her granddaughter Cristy . . . Mrs. Kermit Corbett hosing her tulips that line her walk . . . Mrs. Armstrong Cannady weeding the shrubs around her home . . .

Overheard . . . this person saying when people ask him where he is from he used to say, Wendell, 17 miles east of Raleigh. Now when he is asked he says, Wendell, 4 miles west of Zebulon.

Rumors . . . Is a former physician returning here to resume his practice? . . . Are plans in the making for a motor court just outside of town? . . . Isn't another grocery store due to open soon? . . .

Crewcut . . . Mrs. Fred Page received some pictures of her son recently . . . and like all mothers was delighted . . . that is until she noticed his hair . . . It was cut oh so very short . . . G. I. style . . . and she was sweetly angry for a moment . . . She likes his hair longer . . . so it can be combed with the hint of a wave showing . . .

Mrs. Ida Hall clips amusing and funny cartoons from medical periodicals . . . pastes them on cards . . . and sends them to her friends who are ill in the hospital.