DEATH OF MR. J. J. GARRETT.

Passed Away Early This Morning at the Ripe Old Age of 81.

Mr. John J. Garrett, died this morning at 1 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. M. Barrow, after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Garrett was born November 19, 1829, at his father's home in Edgecombe county and was the oldest of six brothers, all of whom are now dead. Mr. Garrett grew to manhood on his father's farm and when quite a young man he went to New York to engage in business with one of his brothers. He and his brother became associated in the Thomas Chatterton Co., the pioneer wholesale clothing house in New York. They returned to their home in this State on the last steamer allowed to pass before the outbreak of the war. They both volunteered in the service of the Confederacy, but on account of an asthmatic trouble he was given an indefinite furlough, after two weeks of service in the army.

In 1861 he married Miss Henrietta Williams, of Edgecombe county, and to them six children were born, three of whom survive, Mrs. H. M. Barrow, of this city; Miss Kate L. Garrett, of Kings Mountain, and Mr. Frank W. Garrett, of Charlotte.

After the war he located on a farm in Edgecombe county adjoining that of his father. In 1875 he moved to Halifax and during his residence here his wife died. Like Mr. Garrett, she too was the last of a family of six children. The year after the death of his wife Mr. Garrett moved to King's Mountain and engaged in the mercantile business with two of his brothers. He and his two brothers were promoters, together with Mr. J. H. McAden, of Charlotte, in erecting the first hotel and in otherwise improving the property of All Healing Springs. In 1882 he moved back to Halifax county, where he was engaged in merchandising and farming until 1888, when he moved to Louisburg and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Barrow. He moved to Concord with Mrs. Barrow in 1892, and since that time he has made his home here.

Mr. Garrett was a man of many remarkable traits of character, and during the active part of his life was a leader in the life of the community in which he lived. He had been a member of the Methodist church for over 40 years and always took an active interest in the work of his church. He possessed a most remarkable memory, and during the latter part of life he could quote texts of sermons he had heard when a young man. Mr. Garrett was a constant reader of books and always showed great interest in the current events of the day, and in the late years of his life, after his health had given way he never failed to keep abreast of the times. Mr. Garrett's one motto in life was "Honesty" and he often remarked to his children that the only epitaph he wanted when he was dead was: "Here Lies an Honest Man."

The funeral service will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home, conducted by Rev. P. T. Durham and Rev. T. W. Smith, after which the remains will be sent to Tarboro on No. 12, and the interment made in the old family cemetery beside his wife.

Operatives Against McNinch.

The troubles of Samuel S. McNinch, the would-be near Democrat and near Republican candidate for Congress in the ninth district, seem to accumulate, says the Washington correspondent in today's News and Observer. The uprising of the cotton mill manufacturers against his candidacy, which has found expression in numerous letters to the press of the State, is now being taken up by cotton mill operatives and old line Republicans. In fact the McNinch candidacy has been received with so many expressions of disapproval that there is already talk of calling off the candidate, and the substitution of a regular Republican in good standing to make the race against Mr. Webb.

North Carolina Good Roads.

J. E. Pennybaker, the chief of the good roads bureau in the Agricultural Department, at Washington, has returned from a trip of inspection in the Southern States, which took him to Wrightsville, while the State Press Association was in session. He was pleased with the noticeable advance North Carolina is making in the way of road development, and had a good word for the action of the State Press Association in passing favorable resolutions. Mr. Pennybaker's department has received tentative reports which show that between the years 1904 and 1909, the increase in good roads building in North Carolina was 175 per cent. The showing is regarded as an excellent one by Mr. Pennybaker.

"Secretary Ballinger explains," notes the Kansas City Star. Needless to add, however, Messrs. Pinchot, et al, are somewhat hard of hearing.

INDICTMENT AGAINST COTTON SPECULATORS.

Textile Manufacturing Companies Named as Co-Conspirators—One Local Firm Included.

A press dispatch says that the government came out in the open Friday in its attempt to prove that manipulating the cotton market is against the law. James A. Patten, of Chicago, and seven lesser figures in the speculative field have been indicted, charged with conspiracy in restraint of trade under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Immediately the indictment was announced there was an excited break on the New York cotton exchange, July and August deliveries declining about $1.50 a bale.

Five counts are embraced in the indictments, which is in blanket form and contains 10,000 words. The first count charges that the defendants unlawfully did conspire with certain corporations not herein indicted to "demand arbitrary, excessive and monopolistic prices for cotton." Many mills in Georgia, North and South Carolina and Alabama are mentioned as co-conspirators, though not included in the indictment. There are only three of these from North Carolina, namely:

Cannon Manufacturing Company, Concord; Henrietta Mills, Caroleen; Mecklenburg Manufacturing Company, Charlotte.

Describing the inside workings of the alleged conspiracy the indictment says that the conspirators were to become members of and engage in an uniaxial combination in the form of an agreement under which they were severally to purchase for shipment from the South to New York all cotton not directly absorbed by the demands of foreign and domestic spinners and manufacturers in the ordinary course of business; in other words, as much as they could purchase from day to day without seriously enhancing the price, but nevertheless, to such an extent that they would long before the end of the crop year, have so much cotton in their possession in the city of New York that they could "by reason of the abnormal and artificial condition thus produced in said trade and commerce, severally demand arbitrary, excessive and monopolistic prices."

None of the "conspirators," continued the indictment, was able to finance the deal individually, thus proving in the government's logic "that none of the defendants was or expected to be a spinner or manufacturer and had no use for such cotton other than to sell it."

Success of Test Farm Work.

It is interesting to note that in the local test farm work under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture through which county commissioners designate with sufficiently public location and provide the cultivation and the State Department provides the expert supervision to demonstrate farming methods in the cultivation of various crops, the greatest interest is being awakened and fine results being attained. The applications for these demonstrations plots have increased from two on file early in the new year to over fifty at this time and wherever the farms are being cultivated the methods and results are being closely watched by the farmers of the section, showing that this is to be at once probably the greatest source of improvement in farming methods among North Carolina farmers.

Fiftieth Anniversary.

Mr. Editor:—On last Thursday, June 16, Mr. A. D. Crisco, in No. 1 township, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his birth, and had a spanking good time. His father and mother from Mooresville were there, besides a number of children and grand children. They gathered beneath the verdant shade of an ancient mulberry tree, where icecream was bountifully served; thence they repaired to the dining hall and helped themselves to all manner of good things, followed by songs in German, French and Chinese.

Pig Adopted by a Dog and Nurses With a Puppy.

A constituent of the Lumberton Robesonian reports an unusual incident. He says that Mr. C. K. Morgan, of Robeson county, found a pig on his place that had been deserted by its mother when four days old, and when found the pig was so weak it could not stand up. Mr. Morgan tried to feed the pig, but without much success, and finally put it in the yard as a hopeless proposition. Now in that same yard was a female dog, the mother of a litter of puppies, and all save one puppy had been taken from her. She saw the helpless pig and at once adopted it, nursing and caring for it as if it had been one of her puppies. The pig at once began to improve and now, at three weeks, old is doing fine. The pig and puppy play together, just as two puppies would. As evidence of the truth of the statement, the Robesonian editor has been furnished photographs of the pig in the act of nursing its foster mother.

POLLY.

Marriage in No. 4 Township.

On Wednesday, June 15, at 6 o'clock, p. m., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Winecoff, near Glass, Mr. Arthur W. Winecoff and Miss Mertie Winecoff were united in matrimony by the bride's pastor, Rev. C. A. Brown. Both groom and bride are well connected and popular young people. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

When we think of an innocent, honest man like President Taft being a Republican, we are almost persuaded that Republicanism is more of a disease than it is a crime.

THE LUTHERAN NORMAL.

To Be Held at Misenheimer Springs July 5 to 7 Inclusive.

The third annual Sunday school normal of the North Carolina Lutheran Synod and the North Carolina Conference of the Tennessee Synod will be held at Misenheimer Springs July 5, 6 and 7, at the Salisbury Post.

Every arrangement is being made to have the occasion a grand success. The hotel and spring authorities are putting everything in first class shape and promise to give all that goes to make the very best entertainment for such an occasion. Board and all complete at the hotel will be $1.00 per day for all who attend the Normal. Cab fare or conveyance from Misenheimer station to the springs, a distance of five miles, will be seventy-five cents for the round trip. Ten miles for seventy-five cents with the beautiful scenery thrown in is cheap enough for anyone who enjoys a ride in the balmy air.

The splendid water at the sulphur springs is itself worth the price of the whole cost. Then one enjoys a splendid quiet and rest from the busy scenes elsewhere. To this add the advantages of a splendid course of lectures and outline of study in regular class room drill on Sunday school work and workers, everything moving along the lines of correct pedagogical and psychological methods as employed in the school of today, all conducted in a congenial and inspirational atmosphere. It can readily be seen that no Lutheran can afford to be without representation in the teacher-pupil body that will gather at the place and time named. Every Lutheran Sunday school is urged to avail itself of this fine opportunity of increasing the efficiency of its teaching force.

Since the Normal is self-supporting no limit of representation is fixed. Any school may send as many teachers as it will provide for. The more the better for the individual teachers and for the increased efficiency of the schools.

The Hartis Verdict.

Charlotte Chronicle.

In view of the character of some recent verdicts recorded in Mecklenburg's Temple of Justice, the public was prepared for something mild in the way of a verdict in the case of the Hartises. It was not prepared, however, for what came—a clear and full acquittal. It had been expected that it would be acquittal for one and a term for the other. In the face of the charge delivered by Judge Pell, the intelligent observer could not see how the jury could get around a conviction, but it did so, and brought in a verdict that manifestly astonished the people. It is but stating a fact when it is said that public sentiment has received a shock. In this case, acquittal was based on the plea of self-defense. Many who heard the evidence do not believe there was any ground for this plea, but the jury so found and it did so in short order, and its verdict stands. We are expecting a shower of criticism and in meeting it, we will be entirely defenseless.

Fight May Be at Reno.

Tex Rickard, the fight promoter, yesterday announced that the Jeffries-Johnson fight will positively take place July 4, and if Governor Gillette and Attorney General Webb insist on the fight not taking place in California it will occur at Reno, Nevada. Both Jeffries and Johnson are anxious to fight on the day scheduled and are ready to move at a minute's notice to a place where the promoters can pull off the bout.

The State authorities seem determined to prevent the fight in California and will doubtless succeed in their efforts.

Crushed to Death Beneath Locomotive

Mr. A. B. Hatchett, of Inman, S. C., formerly supervisor of the Spartanburg division, but who has for some time been in charge of an extra track force of the Southern railway on the Asheville division, was instantly killed by being crushed beneath a locomotive at Marion Friday morning.

Mr. Hatchett's force of men were at work on the track in the Marion yards, and while walking along the track he failed to hear the engine of the work train which was backing up the same track behind him and was knocked down and run over. His body was terribly mangled.

"Has Roosevelt realized his mistake?" asks the Savannah Press. We advise the Press to ask Mr. Roosevelt, but to do so over a long-distance telephone.

The Man Who Didn't Sleep for 20 Years is Dead.

Alonzo Wire, former police chief of Hackensack, N. J., who asserted that he had not closed his eyes in sleep for twenty years, died recently

State Library he lungs and

Mr. Wire's strange ailment was believed to have been the result of a lightning stroke which grazed him thirty years ago, when he was driving a team of horses. The animals were stunned and Wire was deafened for a long period. Soon afterward he began to develop insomnia and ten years later he frequently would spend entire nights without sleep.

During the height of his strange malady he was engaged as night watchman for the Lackawanna railroad. During the day he would merely recline on a couch, but would not close his eyes. In spite of inability to get rest such as other people enjoy Wire did not seem to be affected, except that he lost a little in weight.

Throughout his recent illness he was just as wakeful as ever, and it apparently did not affect his vitality seriously.

Ex-Governor Odell informs Tim Woodruff that he will not be on the reception committee to meet Mr. Roosevelt today. Mr. Odell declines to give his reasons, but it is said that the relations between Odell and Roosevelt have been strained for several years.
