Brown Still Collector, and Likely to Remain So.

Statesville Landmark.
When Mr. Henry Reynolds was appointed collector of internal revenue for this district last spring it was stated that he would take charge July 1st. But the nomination was not confirmed, July is well under way and Mr. Geo. H. Brown is still collector. The Landmark hears that Congressman Cowles stated, when he was in town last week that no recess appointment would be made the same report has come from Washington and is understood to be correct. It is doubtful if Mr. Reynolds will ever be collector; and it is more than probable that Mr. Brown will continue in office for a long time.

Col. Brown Goes to the Convention.

Col. James N. Brown, the veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars, and a Democratic veteran from away back, left this morning for Charlotte to attend the State convention. He wanted to be on the ground early, and will not return to Concord until the convention is over. Col. Brown attended the first Democratic convention held in Charlotte 52 years ago, and he has attended every one that has been held in that city since. "Col." Brown says that he is always given a royal reception in Charlotte and he never misses an opportunity to attend the Democratic convention and the Confederate reunions, when held in that city.

COOKS SOMEWHAT SCARCE.

Six Families in a Row of Seven Houses Deserted.

The following is a dispatch to the Baltimore Sun, from Chestertown, Kent county, Maryland:
The servant problem is a perplexing one here. As many as a half dozen families in a row of seven houses have lost cooks in the last ten days.
Some of the kitchen queens left to attend funerals, some to rest, some to go to the seaside. The following notice appears this week in the Kent News:
Cook Wanted—Good plain cook by a family of three in Chestertown, in a house with seven rooms. To such a woman we promise to be respectful and courteous and to refrain from meddling or criticizing in any of her duties. She is expected to have breakfast ready not later than 8 o'clock in the morning, dinner at 1 o'clock and supper at six o'clock. We agree to let her leave the moment she is through washing up the dishes at night. Three afternoons a week she can leave at 2:30 and the mistress of the house will get supper. She can attend one funeral a week, on an average. It will be the duty of the head of the family to attend to the furnace in winter and to make the fire every morning in the kitchen, but the cook must be there at 7:30 so as to have breakfast ready at the hour named. She can eat all she requires and take with her everything left—in paper, not our dishes.

The cook can entertain her guests in the parlor or on the porch Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, but we reserve the use of the piano and couch. She is expected to keep the kitchen clean, the floor of which must be scrubbed twice every week, one of which scrubbing will be performed by the lady of the house. If the food furnished the family is not satisfactory to the cook, she is to have the privilege of ordering for her own use not exceeding $3 per week. We also require that she shall come neatly dressed and in order to do so we to furnish dress and aprons, but no shoes nor hats. For a woman willing to accept this place we will pay such wages as she may demand, provided she wishes a permanent engagement. Address P. W., care Kent News.

Southern Loan and Trust Co.

The board of directors of the Southern Loan and Trust Co. met Tuesday afternoon in the offices of the company here. A four per cent, semi-annual dividend was declared and ordered paid. The officers of the company are as follows: President, W. W. Flowe; Secretary and Treasurer, C. A. Isenhour; Manager of the Insurance Department, T. W. Smith; Directors, L. J. Foil, D. B. Coltrane, W. M. Smith, W. W. Flowe, Paul Barringer, R. S. Young, R. J. Mebane, C. A. Isenhour, W. C. Houston, J. A. Cannon, C. W. Swink, T. W. Smith, J. F. Goodman, J. P. Allison and J. M. Cook.

Eld's Charlotte Store to be Remodeled.

The Charlotte papers say that the big department store there of Eld Bros. is to be made over, a plate glass and white pressed brick front to be put in. The floor of the two stores will be put on a level, new flooring entirely being put in. This will give the Eld Department Store the largest amount of floor space, and the largest plate glass front in the city. New ceiling is to be put in new shelving added and the whole interior put in elegant finish and style. The front will be raised to give the effect of a much higher building. The contract for the new fixtures has been given. They will be of the most modern and elegant. Work will begin August first and will be rushed so as not to interfere with the fall season.

Death of Mrs. J. P. Hornbuckle.

Mrs. J. P. Hornbuckle, wife of Rev. J. P. Hornbuckle, pastor of a Methodist church in Reidsville, died early this morning at her home there of pelagra. Mrs. Hornbuckle had been ill of the disease for about two years. She was 39 years of age, and was the daughter of the late Mr. John Means, of Concord. She leaves her husband but no children. The body will arrive in Concord on train No. 11 Thursday and the interment will be made in Oakwood cemetery. The burial service will be conducted by Rev. W. L. Hutchins at 10:30 o'clock.

Hon. Charles Stewart Rolls, one of the foremost of English aviators, the millionaire who recently flew from Dover to France and returned in a Wright biplane, was killed Tuesday by a fall from an aeroplane at the Bournemouth aviation meeting. Rolls was competing for the "Alighting Prize" when the machine collapsed. He was not at a great height, but the wrecked machine and heavy motor fell on him, killing him instantly.

CITY ALDERMEN MEET.

Policeman Isenhour Resigns—Another Street Roller to be Purchased—No Jeffries-Johnson Fight Here—Dr. Houston Declines to Serve on Water Board.

The board of aldermen held the regular monthly meeting last night. There was no special business of importance to come before the board and the usual routine was gone through with.

The following are some of the business matters that came up for their consideration:
The colored members of the fire department requested the board to appropriate $50.00 to aid them in defraying their expenses to the tournament, which meets in Winston-Salem in September. Referred to the proper committee, with power to act.

Policeman Isenhour tendered his resignation as a member of the police force of the city. The resignation was accepted but the board deferred the election of his successor.

Dr. R. M. King called attention to the fact that the street force needed another roller for packing streets. He was authorized by the board to purchase one.

At only one time did anything like an even near-discussion arise and this was when Alderman Propst, suggested that the board take some action as to whether the pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight should be exhibited here. Two of the aldermen very candidly admitted that they possessed a desire to take a peep at the pictures but the three other members of the board present evidently entertained different views and the vote was three to two against the exhibition of the pictures in Concord.

Dr. W. C. Houston formally notified the board that he declined to serve as a member of the water board, to which position he was recently elected. Dr. Houston was forced to take this step on account of the press of other business affairs. The members of the board did not hesitate to express their regret over the inability of Dr. Houston to serve and since the time it has been known that he would do so they have brought every pressure to bear on him in the hope that he might reconsider his action. The matter of selecting another member of this board was postponed for the present. The water board is preparing to issue bonds and make extensive improvements on the plant.

The ordinance in regard to bill posters was again suspended for thirty days.

The city attorney was requested to draft an ordinance governing the closing hours of all restaurants and drug stores in the city. The ordinance will be presented and passed at the next meeting of the board. Alderman Barrier, who made the motion for such an ordinance, said that there had been a number of complaints made on account of young men loafing around these places on Sunday, and especially during the hours of service at the churches. Every member of the board expressed himself as favorable to such an ordinance.

The board adjourned until Tuesday night when it will meet with the members of the police force to complete the work of preparing a new city code.

Democrats Swarm Into Charlotte.

The militant Democracy of North Carolina is assembling in Charlotte today in great numbers preparatory to holding the State Convention Thursday.

Every train all day Tuesday and throughout the night unloaded delegates, and the friends of the two men who will figure in the principal contest in the convention.

Many of the most prominent party men from all over the State are already on the scene, and the augury is that the balance of them will land in Charlotte within the hours left between now and the assembling of the convention.

Monday night someone entered the barns of Mr. J. L. Stone and Mr. H. B. Wilkinson and stole a set of harness from each of them. As yet the thief has not been apprehended.

Horse, Wagon and Driver in a High Dive Act.

A horse belonging to Mr. A. B. Pounds and hitched to one of his coal wagons ran away, or rather made a high dive off the high embankment on Corbin street, at the intersection of Skipwith street, this morning about 11 o'clock. A party of young people were in a machine en route to the depot when they met the horse. When the machine first made its approach the animal showed no indications of being frightened but the instant the machine glided past him he made one mad dash toward the embankment and horse, wagon and driver were precipitated to the gully below. It is remarkable that the outfit escaped with so little damage. The shafts and harness were broken but no other damage was sustained. The horse was driven by Mr. Butler McCurdy.

John Featherstone, who was sent up from Rowan in 1896 for robbery, according to the News and Observer, was shot and killed at the Tillery State Farm last Friday while attempting to escape.

PREACHER AND CONSTABLE HAVE A FIGHT.

Rev. A. J. Crane and D. W. Teeter at Newells Have a Round.

There was a sensation at Newells Monday caused by a fight between Rev. A. J. Crane, pastor of the Newell Presbyterian church, and Constable D. W. Teeter. Mr. Crane was formerly pastor of Poplar Tent church, in this county and Mr. Teeter is an old Cabarrus man. The Observer says of the affair:

Mr. Teeter, it is said, met Mr. Crane's 16-year-old son Monday morning. The latter reported to his father that Teeter abused him in the vilest terms and criticized Mr. Crane's recent sermon. The young man made no defense. But Mr. Crane met Teeter at 6 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Newell postoffice and asked him about what his boy had told him. Teeter, the story goes, denied with oaths the truthfulness of young Crane's story and then cursed the preacher. The latter replied by knocking him off the porch and gave him another, whether a right or left is not known, and sent him to the ground again.

Some of Mr. Teeter's friends claim Mr. Crane struck him with a piece of iron about eighteen inches long. There is a scratch over Mr. Teeter's left eye and the flesh is bluish black around it. No motion pictures were taken, so there will be no necessity for the enactment of a city ordinance to forbid their being shown.

Mr. Crane is stated clerk of Mecklenburg Presbytery and one of the most highly esteemed and best beloved ministers of the county.

The bad feeling is said to have had its origin in certain acts of Mr. Crane in his official capacity as pastor of the Newell church, which offended Teeter. And although it is stated that fearless sermons against blind tigers and the like served to bring the matter to head, there is little doubt that the genesis of the trouble lies further back.

Mr. Dexter Petrea, of Kannapolis, came to Concord Sunday quite sick, and has been for several days at the home of his brother, Mr. Delma Petra. He is now much better.

GENERAL NEWS.

The hottest period of eight days ever recorded at the El Paso, Texas, Weather Bureau was broken Tuesday night by a heavy rain. For eight days the maximum temperature averaged 99.8 degrees. The Rio Grande at this point is entirely dry.

Rev. R. N. Merrill, of the Methodist Episcopal church, at Mahoningtown, Pa., advertised that he would preach in the dark last Sunday night. The lights were extinguished because of the heat. The church was crowded when the minister entered the pulpit and more than three-quarters of the congregation were young people.

The British government has no power to prevent the exhibition of pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight, according to a statement which Winston Churchill, secretary of state for home affairs, made in the house of commons this week. There seems little disposition in England to exhibit these pictures. Leading music halls have declined to show them.

Fourteen persons died from the heat Monday in Greater New York. Another New Yorker died in Bayonne, where she had gone hoping to get relief. Though the weather was several degrees cooler than on Sunday, it didn't seem so. Thirty cases of heat prostration were reported, and everybody was taxed to his or her utmost trying to devise means of keeping cool.

Tied up at Newton.

At 1 o'clock this morning with the vote on the 344th ballot standing 55 for Finley, 50 for Jones and 43 for Cline, the thirteenth judicial convention at Newton to nominate a judge seems to be hopelessly deadlocked and at present there is no sign of adjournment. After nine hours of balloting, with practically no change in the vote since the 80th ballot, the end seems indeed far away.

Card of Thanks.

We hereby desire to sincerely thank our friends for their kindness to us in the sickness and death of our dear little son. Their kind offices in our bereavement will never be forgotten.
