DEATH OF MRS. R. S. WHEELER.

After Months of Suffering This Good Woman Passes to Her Reward.

Mrs. Robert S. Wheeler died this morning at 5:30 o'clock after an illness of over a year's duration of pneumonia. Mrs. Wheeler's condition had been considered critical for the past several weeks, and the announcement of her death will be no surprise to her large circle of friends in this city and throughout this section of the State.

Before her marriage she was Miss Mary Williams, of Reidsville, and she was married the 23rd day of October, 1900, to Mr. R. S. Wheeler, of this city. She was a member of Central Methodist church and always took part in the affairs of the church, being an earnest worker in the various noble undertakings instituted by her sister church workers. Mrs. Wheeler had been a valued member of the Virginia Dare Club for a number of years, until a year ago, when her health gave way, compelling her to withdraw from active membership in the club. As a tribute to the love and esteem in which she was held by the members of the club she was unanimously elected as a honorary member. She was 33 years of age on the 25th of last August, and is survived by her husband and four small children, Joseph, Susie, Catherine and Lucy Cole.

The funeral service will be conducted from the residence Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, conducted by the pastor of the deceased, Rev. Plato Durham. The following will be the pall bearers:

W. R. Odell, J. L. Hartzell, J. L. Crowell, A. F. Hartzell and W. C. Honston.

Mrs. J. L. McKay, of Kings Mountain; Miss Susie and Jessie Williams and Messrs. C. H. Fetzer and Will Williams, of Reidsville, are here to attend the funeral.

Charged With Larceny of Money.

W. J. Murray, an intelligent and well-appearing white man who has been in Salisbury for the past three months, for a time being connected with the Bijou theater and for some weeks past giving barbecues at the fair grounds, is in jail there charged with the larceny of $40 from the home of Mr. J. W. Klutz. One day last week Mr. Klutz invited Murray to accompany him home, they driving there in a cab, and while they were there Mr. Klutz gave his wife $65, which she placed in a drawer in a dresser and then went about her household duties. Later she had a suspicion that caused her to investigate and upon doing so discovered that $40 of the money had been stolen. She at once charged Murray with the theft and he denied having the money. She then charged the hackman, Moses Hargrave, with having the money and he stoutly denied any knowledge of the theft and proceeded to open his pocketbook to clear himself when it is said a ring belonging to Mrs. Klutz dropped out. Murray, Mrs. Klutz says, told her he knew where her money was and would get it for her if she would pay him $10. This she did and he left the house and did not return at all. Then the officers were notified and Murray was arrested in Lexington and brought to Salisbury. He and the colored cabman were given a hearing before Esquire Joseph C. Kestler Tuesday morning and both were bound over to the next term of Rowan superior court in the sum of $100. The cabman gave the required bond, but Murray is still in jail.

Gasoline at a Cent.

Automobiles are buying gasoline in Monticello, New York, today at 1 cent per gallon. For the past week gasoline retailers, R. S. Turner and Floyd Brown, have been conducting a gasoline war, each day giving the consumer of gasoline a cent lower. Monday morning a large sign informed the public that Turner was selling gasoline at 7 cents per gallon. Brown immediately reduced his price to 5 cents, and Turner then dropped to the unprecedented figure of 1 cent a gallon.

The news of the fight has been carried over the adjoining country by autoists, and there has been a steady stream of machines carrying away the cheap gasoline all day.

Brown says he may decide to give away gasoline in order to have the lowest price. If he does Turner will probably pay people for taking it. Gasoline costs these dealers 13 cents a gallon.

A reward of $200 was offered by Governor Kitchin Tuesday for the capture of Levy Maynard, accessory to the killing of Benjie Thomson, of High Point, through a criminal operation by Dr. Vestal, who, with his wife, is now in Guilford jail.

Chairman Eller has called a meeting of the Democratic State executive committee to be held in Raleigh at 8 p. m. August 1, to elect a State Chairman, secretary, etc.

VETERANS' BIG PICNIC.

A Great Time Expected on the Second Tuesday in August.

On last Saturday a meeting of Cabarrus County Camp No. 212 was held in connection with the Daughters of the Confederacy. Plans were made for a grand rally and picnic for the Confederate veterans and their wives, and it is to be hoped every one in the county will be here to participate and have a great time with their comrades. The picnic will be held on Friday, August 9. Everybody is expected to bring "well-filled baskets," so that all may have plenty to eat.

Music will be furnished by the Woodman band and the veterans choir. There will also be some speaking, the name of the speaker to be announced later.

Dry Detectives Fail to Show Up in Rowan Court.

A small sensation occurred in Salisbury Tuesday when three detectives who were brought to that city two weeks ago failed to appear in Rowan court as witnesses against seven Salisbury men who were indicted for retailing liquors, says a Salisbury special to the Greensboro News. The citizens indicted were J. B. McLean, D. M. Blackwelder, Homer Miller, Pink Moore, S. C. Miller, George Masters and C. H. Chaires. The detectives who worked up the indictments are H. K. Taylor, J. W. Schalts and W. A. Norvell. Upon the failure of the detectives to appear it was rumored that they had been assaulted and spirited away, but this report lacks confirmation, and the Salisbury officers are entirely in the dark as to what became of the detectives. The cases were continued until August 12. The affair has caused much talk and some excitement in Salisbury, and there is considerable conjecture as to what became of the three men who swore out the indictments. There are a number who hold to the belief that they were severely beaten last night and placed in hiding by their foes, and at this writing the affair is shrouded in mystery.

Rowe, Presiding Elder of the Salisbury district, will preside. The following is a list of delegates from the churches in this city:

Run Down and Mangled by Train.

The mangled remains of a white man supposed to have been those of W. M. George of Charlotte, were found on the Southern Railway Tuesday morning at 7:45 by a section foreman a mile and a quarter south of Lexington. It is thought that the man was being his way on No. 38 and fell. The head was battered off and portions of the body scattered for more than 100 yards up the track. On the clothes of the man were found a gold watch, smudged hat, a post card signed by W. M. George, a prescription written for Mrs. W. M. George by Dr. J. W. Summers of Charlotte. There were also some small photographs of girls and women.

A high standing Republican says Congressman Morehead will be forced to accept renomination and that the campaign is now on to elect him State chairman.

IT IS NOT MR. COOK.

Some Unacquainted With That Gentleman Have Another Guess Coming.

Tuesday afternoon The Tribune published a rumor to the effect that a former Democratic office holder would be the Republican nominee for the office of Clerk of the Court. Some one evidently not very well acquainted with Mr. Jno. M. Cook, and altogether unfamiliar with his past political record and real popularity throughout this county, picked him as the man the rumor referred to. For the benefit of a few such idle guessers we will state that in the first place Mr. Cook is a Democrat, a real live Democrat, and if any one doubts the fact as to his being a live Democrat as well as a most popular citizen, we respectfully refer them to the handsome majorities he rolled up on each occasion he was a candidate for office. There are several Republican politicians whom Mr. Cook put in the "also ran" class, who can bear testimony as to his being a live Democrat. It is hardly reasonable that a man would voluntarily give up an office when elected on the Democratic ticket simply to have the empty honor of being a candidate for the same office on the Republican ticket.

Frozen to Death As Cure For Heat.

Frozen to death in mid-July, with the temperature hovering around 90 degrees, was the fate of a young man known only as Paolo at Florence, N. J., Monday. Paolo was employed at the Florence iron foundry and in the intense heat of the works last Saturday he was overcome. Carried to his boarding house, a physician was called who, seeing that the man's condition was not serious, advised placing ice about his head.

The eager friends of the young man took the advice too literally and placed large cakes of ice about his head, his neck and his limbs. Becoming alarmed over the man's condition, the neighbors called in Dr. Baird, who discovered that the man had been dead some time. The physician said that too much ice had actually frozen the man. No one was held responsible for the death, due entirely to ignorance, and, as no relatives of the victim were known, his body was buried in the Potter's field.

The Congressional Nominee.

Statesville Landmark.

The result of the Democratic congressional convention in Statesville Friday was by no means unexpected. In fact there was a feeling, more or less general, that Mr. Doughton, having a strong lead at the outset, would eventually win; and it may also be said, without in any manner disparaging the other candidates, that there was a feeling that he was probably the strongest candidate, under the peculiar conditions existing in the district. In any event, the nomination of Mr. Doughton has given general satisfaction, not only in the district but throughout the State. This feeling is not a half-hearted assent to the will of a majority of the convention, but is sincere and loyal. It is a most auspicious beginning of a campaign for the redemption of the district.

In the Recorder's Court.

Son Moore, a 14-year-old colored boy, was tried in the Recorder's court this morning charged with larceny. Moore was accused of stealing a jug of vinegar out of the buggy of Mr. Ed. Johnson, of No. 3 township, who left his buggy in the back lot with the vinegar in it, while in the city Tuesday. The officers found Moore and the jug of vinegar at a negro woman's house on after the jug of vinegar was missed. He was committed to jail in default of a $25 bond.

Bill Suther and Mark Black, both colored, were called to the rack charged with an affray. They were both found guilty. Black was fined $5.00 and half the cost, while Suther was taxed with half the cost.

MANY COWS GO MAD.

Strange Epidemic of Rabies Among Cattle at Oxford, Pa.

Nine cows have been killed during the past week as the result of an epidemic of rabies which seems to be spreading over East Nottingham township, Pa. The township is greatly excited over the prevalence of the disease, and besides a large number of cows and horses, every dog in the neighborhood is under strict quarantine.

The disease is supposed to be due to a mad dog which pass through that community several weeks ago; but it is breaking out in places where no trace of the dog having been can be found. The latest victim is a cow, belonging to Hampton Ashby, which went mad Tuesday, and had to be shot to prevent her doing serious damage to others. It was not generally supposed that the mad dog was within two miles of the Ashby farm.

Others who have lost cattle are Charles Carroll, Harvy Johnson, John Sylvester, Miller Grey, Kirk Fulton and Amos Slaek. The strays part of the outbreak is that dogs, thus far, seem to have escaped. Many persons, however, insist that the species of rabies with which the dog was affected is peculiarly fatal to cattle, and much less so to canines.

DRAINING SOUTH COTTON.

Special Trains Run to Gotham To Fill July Contracts.

New Orleans, July 18th. As a result of the scarcity of spot cotton, which the so-called July squeeze has brought about in New York, the South is being drained of practically all available cotton.

Coastwise shipments from Savannah New Orleans, Mobile and Galveston have been heavy for a week or more, and with the jump of July options to 16.53c. in the New York future market yesterday, the highest price recorded since the Sully campaign in 1903, telegraphic orders began to pour into Memphis, New Orleans, Houston and other spot centres, calling for the shipment on special trains of all cotton that could be bought.

Local spot houses have made arrangements for special trains over the Illinois Central and the New York Central railroads to carry a part of this cotton to New York. One of these specials, carrying 3,000 bales, left New Orleans this morning, and another, also bearing a large shipment, went from here tonight. The railroads are under contract to put the cotton in New York within 96 hours, and the trains will be operated on fruit express schedules.

The Southern Pacific steamers Comus and Antilles carried heavy shipments of cotton to New York last week, and the Comus will carry a large cargo this week. Houston, Memphis and other important markets With middling cotton selling at 15 1-16 cents a pound in New Orleans, 15 cents in Memphis and 15 3-4 cents in Houston, the Southern shippers, will make profits averaging about $4 a bale.
