

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

PERSONALS

Our readers in Concord, Kannapolis, Mt. Pleasant and elsewhere in the county are requested to telephone any personal or social items to Miss Cottrell Sherrill, telephone No. 78, Concord, between the hours of 9:30 and 11:30 a. m. each day, where it is not convenient to send by mail. It is much preferred that all items be mailed when it is practicable.

Kosmos Hostess to Delegates.
Chattanooga Times.
One of the most elaborate social affairs tendered in compliment to the delegates attending the convention of the Tennessee Federation of Music Clubs, which is in session here this week, was the tea yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George J. Hall, on Vine Street, with members of Kosmos Club as hostess.

About two hundred visitors and local club women called between the receiving hours, 4 to 6 o'clock.

The lovely home was a bloom with gift flowers and blossoms from the gardens of the members of Kosmos. In the living room where the guests were received, baskets of lilacs, irises, snowballs and lilies of the valley were placed on the mantels and tables. Tall baskets of flowers were placed at one end of the room where the members of the receiving line stood.

A color of green and white was developed in the decorations of the hall and winding stairway. Large wicker baskets filled with dogwood and sprays of greens ornamented the newel post and fenders arranged on the landings of the broad stairs. At one end of the hall was arranged a screen of the white blooms, behind which was stationed Brenner's orchestra.

The floral arrangement of the dining room was effective in pastel colors. A bowl of colymbiums and violets was placed on the buffet, while carnations, snowballs and other spring flowers ornamented the serving table.

The dining table was covered with a handsome, shiny lace cloth, centered with a silver basket of orchid sweet peas and tulips in rose shades. Smilax was encircled about the base of the basket and also at the edge of the table, giving a pleasing effect. Dainty refreshments, consisting of leets, sandwiches, tea and nuts were served.

Mrs. George Hall wore a beautiful afternoon gown of apple green crepe and silver, fashioned draped effect. Her corsage was sweet peas of various tints.

Miss Kavanaugh wore black crepe with accessories of black.

(The above taken from the Chattanooga Times will be of interest to many Concord people. Mrs. Hall was before marriage Miss Daisy Groner, of Concord, a sister of Mrs. R. V. Blackwelder. — Social Editor.)

Will Graduate in Music.
The friends here of Miss Lula Belle Paris, of Marion, but who formerly lived in Concord, will be interested to know that she will graduate in music at Randolph Macon Institute at Danville on May 14th.

Graduation Recital.
The graduation recital given at Mont Amoen Seminary, Mt. Pleasant, Friday evening, May 4th, by Miss Wilma Luella Strevwalt and Miss Mary Margaret Barrier was well attended. Miss Strevwalt and Miss Barrier are pupils of Miss Mae E. Smily, who is head of the music department. These young ladies have really accomplished some fine work both in piano and voice, and both showed to advantage Friday evening. Miss Strevwalt has a mezzo soprano voice of good quality, and was at her best when she sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" (Samson and Delilah) by Saint-Saens and her best piano number was Mozart's Fantasia in C. Miss Barrier has a very pleasing lyric soprano voice. She sang Lockstone's "A Birthday," as one of her numbers in a very pleasing manner. And she is to be complimented on her playing of Rachmaninoff's "Prelude Op. 3 No. 2." Both of the young musicians showed splendid promise.

The closing number, Mother Goose Arabesque, was well sung by the chorus of young ladies of the Seminary conducted by Miss Smily.

Woman's Auxiliary of Episcopal Church to Meet.
The Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. T. N. Lawrence at the rectory.

Supper at the "Y" Next Tuesday.
Don't forget the supper to be given at the "Y" Tuesday, May 8th, by the Cabarrus Black Boys chapter of the D. A. R. The doors will be opened at 4:30 and besides the supper, candy, flowers and fancy work will be sold.

With Our Sick.
The condition of Rogers Barnhardt, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Barnhardt, who has been critically ill for the past week with pneumonia, is reported today as improved.

Susie Katherine, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muid, is confined to the home of her parents on South Union Street with an attack of measles.

P. H. Scarborough, Jr., is confined to his room at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scarborough, on Ann Street, with a case of measles.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

"A Bunch of Fun," Presented Friday Evening Proves Highly Entertaining.

The play, "A Bunch of Fun," presented by the Senior Class of the Concord High School Friday evening, was a wonderful success.

It is the custom for the Senior Class to give a class play each year, and the play given Friday evening was one of the biggest hits in recent years.

"A Bunch of Fun" was a farce in three acts. The place was Heathersdale, near New York; time, the present. The entire action took place in the living room at the rectory. This cozy, home-like room proved an extremely popular place. In the first act the "bunch" arrived at the rectory. This "bunch" was a crowd of pretty college chums of Alice Hunting, and as Dr. and Mrs. Grandon had consented to take them in at the rectory for two weeks, they hurriedly accepted, and were on their way almost before Miss Martha, Dr. Grandon's sister, had time to clean up the numerous rooms in the rectory. Raymond Hunting, a live wire, at the same time was entertaining a number of his college chums at a camp a short distance away. There young men became deeply interested in the girls at Dr. Grandon's, and were frequent visitors there. The second act presented the "bunch" in action. Christina, a Swedish maid of the rectory, was one of the outstanding characters in the play. She adored the movie and "The Perils of Pauline" were her delight. She chewed gum incessantly. In the third act, the "bunch" chose partners. As usual, love found a way, and the "house party partners" became partners for always. Vera Matherson, a baseball fan, made a home run, for she ran straight into the heart of "Tacks" Mulford, a famous football star. Ray Hunting, who was charmed by Cecily Moorland, the mandolin girl, found that Cecily could play on her strings as well as mandolin strings. Murray Kent, a college playwright, won the heart of Nina Lee, a stage aspirant. Sylvia Stewart, the dancing girl, danced straight into the heart of Lynn Lockur, a jolly young fellow, whom Christina called "the man with a dozen faces." Mrs. Selina Blair, a pest in the parish, added much humor to the play. Mary, Dr. Grandon's wife, who became "flustered on occasions," was the charming head of the household.

Each player acted his part to perfection, and each deserves special mention. Much credit is due Misses Woodhouse and Bell, whose untiring efforts in rehearsing the play, made it a success.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Rev. Stephen Grandon, D. D., rector of St. Paul's—Engene Ritchie.
Mary, his wife—"flustered on occasions"—Martha Bost.
Martha, his sister, "a trifle warped"—Blanche Armfield.
Christina, a Swedish maid, "stuck on the movies"—Mary Ridenhour.
Raymond Hunting, a live wire—W. C. Walker.
Vera Matherson, a baseball fan—Leon Long.
Nina Lee, a stage aspirant—Mary Elizabeth Blackwelder.
Cecily Moorland, the mandolin girl—Margaret Morrison.
Sylvia Stewart, the dancing girl—Mary Donnell Smoot.
Lynn Lockwood, the man "who takes off his face"—Joe Barrier.
Alice Hunting, the entertaining girl—Elizabeth Dayvault.
Murray Kent, a college playwright—George Batte.
"Tacks" Mulford, a football star—Wesley Walker.
Mrs. Selina Blair, a pest in the parish—Grace Ridenhour.

Clover Leaf Cords Undergo Test at Government Hands.
Charlotte Observer.
M. W. McConnell, president of the Paul Rubber Company, advises that the United States government requested the Paul Rubber Company to send one of their Cloverleaf cord tires to Washington to be tested for tensile strength which test was made and similar tests on practically every other make of tire. The executives of the Paul Rubber Company were very much elated over the news received from Washington a few days ago advising that the Cloverleaf cord stood at the top of the list for tensile strength.

"This confirms our claim," says Mr. McConnell, "that Cloverleaf cords, made in Salisbury, are the best tires on earth."

Mr. McConnell says that while the Cloverleaf cord has only been on the market one year, yet there are instances after instances where car owners have secured mileage in excess of their guarantee of 12,000 miles. Kirk's auto service in Salisbury have used a large number of Cloverleaf cords, and report that the first tire they bought has already given in excess of 20,000 miles of service, and is still in good condition, being used on a bus at the rate of about 1,000 miles a week.
