The TOWN THAT FORGOT GOD

Directed by HARRY MILLARDE

"For the first time since we got up and yelled for someone to rescue Lillian Gish in 'Way Down East,' we were face to face with a storm so terrifying so catastrophic, so beastly real that we actually forgot such a thing as a motion picture camera ever had been invented—It is the storm of storms!" —N.Y. WORLD

JANE THOMAS AS THE TEACHER
BUNNY GRUBER AS THE BOY

The story of a town where the ten commandments are broken every day and the golden rule every hour. It Proves again that "the wages of sin is death."

A scathing indictment of the wickedness of Main Street.
A hotbed of infamy in the heart of America.
How the Modern Sodom and Gomorrah was destroyed for its iniquities.

Rome was purged by Fire—Babylon was destroyed by Vandals—This Infamous Town was Destroyed by Flood and Fire.
They knew neither Faith, Hope Nor Charity—and were scourged for their Sins.

Harry Millarde Has Hit the Mark Again Says Film Magazine

"You recall, with satisfaction, 'Over the Hill,' because of its human interest appeal. Here we have another, made by the same director * * * and he has hit the mark again as surely as he did with his masterpiece. In addition it presents the greatest of all storms yet to reach the screen. It is a picture that will command reverence, gratify admirers of thoroughly clean entertainment and satisfy followers of world while motion pictures."—Motion Picture News.

WILL THERE BE A HUMPHREY IN YOUR NEW HOME?

The greatest convenience you can possibly plan for your new home—the greatest aid to cleanliness, health and comfort—is an abundant, ever-ready supply of hot water.

HUMPHREY Automatic Gas Water Heater

belongs in every modern home in the same way as a modern lighting or heating system. With a Humphrey, five cents pays for 50 gallons. No fuel waste. Gas burns only when water runs. Use hot water all day in the laundry, kitchen or bathroom, runs piping hot as long as a faucet is open—closing the faucet automatically shuts off the gas, and expense stops. Made in five sizes—a proper size for every service. Why not have this service in your home?
