BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE UNTAMED TONGUE.—He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life; but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction.—Prov. 13:3.

FAR-REACHING EFFECTS OF THE FIRE.

A representative of the American Red Cross, who hurried to Camden, S. C. when the news of the Cleveland School disaster was broadcasted, gives some idea of the far-reaching effects of the fire when in a preliminary survey he shows that 42 orphans, 14 widows, two aged paralytics and eight seriously injured persons will require permanent relief and that others probably will be added to this list.

SOUTH STILL LEADS.

Cotton spinning showed decreased activity in April as compared with March, but the South still is leading in spindle hours, the monthly report of the Census Department shows. Active spindle hours during April totaled 8,787,897, an average of 236 hours for each spindle in place, compared with 9,531,002,951 or an average of 255 in March this year, and 6,642,139,932, or an average of 180 in April last year.

Statistics for cotton growing states follow:

Active spindle hours 4,808,775,761, or an average of 295 hours per spindle in place, compared with 5,116,534,762, or 3-4 hours per spindle in March. Spinning spindles in place April 30 totaled 16,326,754 of which 16,072,152 were operated at some time during the month, compared with 16,318,156 and 16,065,554 for March.

After many delays and interference work on the Kannapolis road has progressed to a point where it is taking on definite shape. Preliminary surveys and excavation work on a good portion of the road has been completed, and the asphalt coating is being laid now on one stretch of the highway. The road is classified as an A-1 road in specifications of the State Highway commission, and while it is not being built entirely new, it will be practically a new road when completed. The grade crossing at Cook's

Crossing will be eliminated on the new highway, and the tracks will cross the road at an underpass. The construction of the underpass will mean that an entirely new roadbed will have to be constructed, but the distance will not be very great, and the work should not delay the opening of the road very long. The contractors on the job apparently understand the wishes of the public, for as soon as they completed the base work on a reasonable stretch of the road they started laying the asphalt, and that stretch of the road will not be held up while the entire road is being completed.

LOOKING FOR WHISKY, FINDS BODY OF BABY

Sheriff Talbert of Davidson County Led to Spot in Silver Hill by Informant. Lexington, May 22.—Summoned last night by an informant, who said he could lead to a place where whisky was buried, Sheriff R. B. Talbert went to Silver Hill township, seven or eight miles from Lexington, removed a heap of brush and dug in the ground. To his surprise the body of a baby was unearthed. The informant is said to have admitted that he suspected what was buried under the brush, but that he wanted the officer to make the find himself.

All But One Davidson Man Are Members of a Church.

Davidson, May 22.—An announcement just made here concerning the Davidson college student body that will be of great interest to all churches throughout the south is that of the 555 students now enrolled at the Presbyterian institution 554 are members of the church of their choice and that the one non-member will enroll under the Christian banner early this summer.

Gigantic Buying Movement to Force Up Cotton Price.

Orangeburg, S. C., May 22.—A gigantic cotton buying movement throughout the south is to be pushed by the American Cotton Association in an effort to remove cotton from the market and to put its price where cotton farmers of the south can make a legitimate profit. J. Skottowe Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton Association in an address here this evening before the Orangeburg Rotary club.

League of Nations Drive.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Under the auspices of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association, of which Judge John H. Clarke, late of the Supreme Court of the United States, is one of the chief promoters, a public meeting takes place at Continental Memorial Hall this afternoon in furtherance of the movement to induce the United States to enter the League of Nations. The scheduled speakers, in addition to Judge Clarke, include President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, Dr. Linsley R. Williams, Miss Grace Abbott, director of the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, and Royal Meeker, State Commissioner of Labor of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Elizabeth Earnard, postmistress of Tampa, Fla., and the highest salaried woman in the United States postal service, began her career as a stenographer.

GENERAL SYNOD OF THE REFORMED CHURCH

Meets South of Mason and Dixon Line For First Time in Sixty Years.

Hickory, N. C., May 22.—For the first time in the sixty years of its history the General Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States will meet in friendly session south of the Mason and Dixon line when it convenes here this evening. The church has its greatest strength in North Carolina and more than 350 delegates already have made plans to come from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Illinois, New York, New Jersey and Canada.

At the general session in Reading, Pa., Hickory was chosen for the 1923 session, over Indianapolis, Ind., and members of the church in this section which was organized in 1869 have long been making plans to entertain the visitors.

Hickory nestles on the eastern edge of the Blue Ridge mountains and among the special events provided will be an automobile trip to Blowing Rock over the new state highway which gives a view of wonderful mountain scenery in the country. At Blowing Rock, some 5,000 feet above sea level, an old fashioned barbecue will be served. There will be other nearby trips also.

TODAY'S EVENTS.

Wednesday, May 23, 1923.

This is the national fete day of Romania. One hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the birth of the poet, Thos. Hood.

Four hundred and twenty-five years ago today the famous Italian priest and reformer, Savonarola, was burnt at the stake in Florence.

The annual meeting of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in North America begins its sessions today in Buffalo.

Important questions affecting the future policy of the Baptist denomination are to come before the annual meeting of the Northern Baptist Convention, which opens today at Atlantic City.

Davidson College Finals to Begin June 3.

Davidson, May 22.—The 87th annual commencement of Davidson college will be held this year on June 3 to 6. The graduating class will number about 80 men. The principal speakers for the occasion will be Dr. John R. Vandermeulen, who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon; Key, D. N. McLaughlin, D. D., who will give the annual sermon before the Young Men's Christian Association, and Dr. G. Campbell White who will make the annual literary address.

The college considers itself fortunate in having obtained three men so representative of the best that Christian education can produce. Dr. Vandermeulen, president of the Louisville Theological Seminary, is a widely known figure, who won his way into the hearts of every Davidson man when he conducted the life work conference on the campus last year.

Rev. D. N. McLaughlin, of Norfolk, Va., is a Scotch minister of more than state-wide reputation. He is prominent in Christian education and church work throughout the south. Dr. McLaughlin has been called on to deliver the literary address at Flora Macdonald this year.

Dr. G. Campbell White of the White Bible Institute is another well known figure in the field of Christian work, as well as a deep student of religion.

Andrew Johnson Memorial. Greenville, Tenn., May 23.—This city will be the scene of an unusual ceremonial on May 30th, when there will be dedicated the State's new memorial to Andrew Johnson, seventeenth President of the United States.

When faith in God goes, man, the thinker, loses his greatest thought.

LAWLESSNESS AT RIDGECREST

Official Reveals Startling Story of the Work of Hoodlums.

A story of lawlessness, of the sanctity of the church itself invaded by drunken men who intimidated those conducting the services, of house-breaking and wanton damage to private homes is revealed by Dr. Lucena Spalding, of Ridgecrest and Asheville, upon her return here last night from the nearby conference grounds of the Southern Baptist Assembly.

That such desperate conditions demand immediate and drastic measures to suppress, is the assertion of Dr. Spalding, who with other members of the Ridgecrest colony is up in arms over the situation caused, many believe, by the steady growth of a whiskey ring that has never been broken up in several years past.

Very recently, according to information secured by Dr. Spalding who is a member of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Assembly, and who has a summer home at Ridgecrest, a prayer meeting in the church there was entered by rowdies who made as if to injure the speaker and spat upon him.

In another instance recently the home of one of the colony was severely damaged by a similar group of rowdies who bore a grudge against the house owner. Another home was entered and things of value removed, and the lock so tampered with that the owners, arriving yesterday, were not able to secure entrance with their keys.

Groups of men, identified with what she terms the whiskey ring of that section, have been seen prowling around the homes of other members of the colony, so that the entire community has reached a state of nervousness that makes life almost unbearable.

Conscious that this state of affairs is a most serious handicap to the growth of Ridgecrest about lines in keeping with the spirit of the assembly, Dr. Spalding asserts it is her plan to communicate at once with officials of the church urging drastic action. She plans also to see officers who can be of aid in bringing to an abrupt end such lawlessness.

Several arrests have been made, Dr. Spalding asserts, and many witnesses have been subpoenaed for the trials which will probably be held in Buncombe Superior Court during the next criminal term.

Raider of Still is Shot From Ambush.

Asheville, May 21.—Bill Burleson was instantly killed by a bullet from ambush while aiding Sheriff Statford, of Avery county, in destroying a still near Spear, from which two blockaders ran as the officers approached, according to reports reaching here. The bullet was fired from the top of a ridge and was the only shot fired, Burleson falling instantly. A 60-gallon copper outfit was being destroyed by the officers. The entire community is aroused over the shooting, and a reward of $100 has been offered for the arrest of the man firing the shot.

The records of the U. S. Patent Office show that during the past few years more than 5900 patents have been granted to women.

Mothers of Famous Men

The Mother of Henry Wilson.

"Handsome, fond of reading, sensible, and industrious. Her eyes were very keen and piercing." These words describe Abigail Colbath, the mother of Henry Wilson, Vice President of the United States with Ulysses S. Grant. All the qualities that are indicated by those words were inherited by her illustrious son in his day the best known statesman in the country, one of the hardest fighters for liberty, one of the leaders of the United States Senate for twenty years, and finally Vice President, a man who set out as a shoemaker at twenty-one and made himself great.

Abigail Colbath, his mother, had a great deal to do in shaping Henry Wilson's future. She lived in great poverty, for her husband was only a day laborer, who worked in a saw mill. They lived in a tiny little house on the bank of the river Cocheco, in New Hampshire, not far from the saw mill. The tiny house stood on a hill, so that Abigail often said: "I like to sit here, when I get a chance to sit at all, and just look off at the river. It's so peaceful-like." When she wanted anything at the village she had to walk a good mile along a dirt path, and another mile back, so her visits to the village were few and far between. "We just raise up as we want," she explained. "Winthrop makes the garden and I look after it."

Abigail Colbath was busy enough. She did all her own work, and that work meant spinning and weaving cloth for the family clothing, and afterwards cutting and sewing. When she swept her small rooms she did it with brooms that had been made in the house. At certain times of the year she "dipped candles" to provide light for the evenings. In spite of all her work, the good woman found time to read to her son, and when he was old enough, to send him every day to a Mistress Guy, who taught him "the three R's." She dressed her son in homespun, patted him on the back, gave him an apple or two, and set him on the long road to the Vice Presidency of the United States.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Advertisement for Sage Tea. Includes text: 'If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell'.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustrous and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.
