HOW TO TRUST:—Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and let not into thine own understanding all the ways acknowledge him, and shall direct the paths—Prov. 3.5,

WANT MOST MOST DIRECT ROAD.

A number of citizens of No. 10 township have been in this office recently, and each of them has expressed favor with our opinion that the Cabarrus County road commission should build a road from the Cabarrus line to the Union line along the most direct route. This is the only logical way to build any road, we have maintained from the beginning, and though the road commission's policy has not been amounted we feel certain that when it is possible to do so, it will construct its roads along the most feasible routes, in the straightest possible line at the least cost, regardless of whether or not the roads cross or run close to the farm of every farmer in the community.

The road to No. 10 has been badly needed for several years, but heretofore it has been impossible to get the people of that township agreed on a route, and as a result nothing has been done. We hope the commission will make the building of this road one of its first moves, and that it will put the road where the engineers say it should go, regardless of whose land it crosses or does not cross. The money to be spent for the road comes from the pockets of the people and it is not JUNIOR AND SENIOR. ship have been in this office recently, and each of them has expressed favor

There Will Be the Usual Number of Changes Among the Teaching Force.
Raleigh, N. C., May 25.—Reports reaching Raleigh indicate there is a general tendency of school boards to retain the same superintendents in both cities and counties, according to the Placement Bureau of the Teach, ers' Association, which has been watching out for changes in the administrative side of the schools for another year, Jule B. Warren, Secretary, announced today. For the most part few of the larger superintendencies in the cities will make changes, Mr. Warren stated. Salisbury Offers Proposition to Have Catawia College Established There. Hickory, May 25.—Members of the Reformed Church Synod in session here went to Newton late today to visit Catawha College, which syned has been asked to take over.

Newton and Catawha county people have become busy on account of the action of the board of trustees of the college considering and unknown proposition from Salisbury for the removal of the college.

This has been a busy date for Hickory in many respects. The local Royard Club had 100 guests at luncheon, among them about 20 visiting Rofarians, and talks were made by Emery L. Coblenz, Dr. Jose A. Apple and Rev. Mr. Keifer, of Frederick, Md., after a welcome to the sunny south-by Dr. Jake Shuford in behalf of the local club.

In his talk, Mr. Colbenz, stressed

In his talk, Mr. Coibenz, stressed the importance of song and fellowship and declared that Rotary was nothing less than the application of the Christian religion.

A trip to Blowing Rock tomorrow afternoon is dependent on the weather. Another shower in the mountains will put a crimp into local plans to take nod delegates on the motor trip.

The Synod ioday referred to a special committee the request of the trestees of Catawba College at Newton to extend to the institution greater moral and financial support. Several weeks ago the North Carolina Reformed Classis adopted a resolution to overture the Synod in behalf of the college.

The resolution de clares that the Synod approves of the work among the negroes but that because of the insignificant amount done by the boards its abandonment is recommended.

President Leonard spoke in favor of the church giving up the work, terming the activities of the board as feeble efforts to deal with a situation too big for it. The Synod, however, recommended co-operation with other churches in negro work.

Following Dr. Bartholomew's address tonight, greetings from Japan were presented by Rev. T. Hang and from China by Prof. David Hsuing, their talks being part of the program of foreign missions evening.

Why Not the Uwharries?
Albemarle News-Herald.

The Morganton News-Herald presents Linville Mountain and Linville Gorge as an ideal place for the developm nt of a state park. That paper urges that the idea of the development of the Linville territory into a state park should materialize. The Morganton paper further cites an article in "Natural Resources," the publication of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey, entitled. "State Must Save Natural Beauty For Common Sense." The article cited is very interesting, and, no doubt, does not exaggerate Linville Monntain and Linville Corge, but we just wanted to say this, if the State really wants a state park in the most beautiful spot located within the borders of any other state in the union, for that matter, it can find that place in the Uwharrie Mountains of Eastern Stanly and Western Montgomery. This may sound like a loke, or an exaggeration, to those who have not stoop upon one of the highest peaks of this range and seem the magnificent beauty of the Uwharries, but we challenge any admirer of the beautiful to stand on Morrow's Mountain at sunset, on a fair day, view the unequaled beauties of the Uwharries, and say that a prettier spot can be found on the face of the earth. Some of these days the state as a whole is going to appreciate the Uwharries. Unjountains for their real worth. The time is comng when the outside world will be forced to recognize the fact that, not only is that section the best place on the face of the earth to build the big gest aluminum factory in the world, buy that it is the garden spot of

Is Considering Only Charlotte Men Now.

Raleigh, May 25.—Informing a delegation who came to him in the interest of Judge W. A. Devin, of Oxford, that for the present he is considering the appointment of an attorney from Charlotte to succeed the late Platt D. Walker as associate Justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court, Governor Morrison today narrowed the field of candidates and suggested candidates, but gave no indication as to who he will appoint or when he will make the appointment.

The majority of the recommendations which are pouring/in upon the chief executive from all parts of the state by letter and telegram are for Heriot Clarkson, but the tide for T. C. Guthrie, also of Charlotte, rose higher this afternoon.

While Mr. Guthrie's recommendations are coming almost exclusively from lawyers. the recommendations for Heriot Clarkson come from the bur and lay citizens.

Governor Morrison, who was today too ill to come to the office, received his mail at the mansion and tonight stated that he had not yet given the matter as much consideration as would warrant an appointment.
