

SAFETY FIRST
You need have no fear when your physician inspects your refrigerator— if you own an Automatic. He will find your food properly refrigerated, pure and wholesome. No danger of foods becoming tainted in the Automatic. He will find your food properly stored from the AUTOMATIC WATER COOLING SYSTEM of the proper temperature and without ice in the water. There is always danger from drinking water with ice in it—even typhoid sometimes results.

LOCAL MENTION

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arrington, of Greenville, S. C., died Tuesday, according to messages received by friends of Mrs. Arrington here.

Mr. C. E. Lowe and family, of Kanawha, have gone to Brevard, where they will spend the summer. Mr. Lowe has the agency for the sale of Foran in Transylvania county, and will open a garage at Brevard.

Misses Virginia Reed and Laura Virginia York will go to Camp Keystone, at Brevard, next month. They will be accompanied by Misses Margaret Witherspoon, Theresa Maroney, and Elizabeth Holmes, of Salisbury.

A big force of hands has been at work on West Depot Street today and fine progress has been made with the widening work. As soon as the excavation work is completed a concrete base will be laid on the new part of the street.

The McClellan 5-10-25 Cent Store will open its new quarters in the Fetzer building on Saturday of this week. The building has been entirely changed since vacated by the Parks-Bell Company, and is ready for the McClellan stock of goods.

Only two persons were tried in recorder's court yesterday. They were charged on the same warrant with an affray and were fined $10 each. The other case docketed for trial yesterday and charging abandonment, was continued at the request of the defendant.

R. D. Goodman, County Farm Agent, will go to Statesville tomorrow afternoon to make a study of grain and fertilizer tests conducted at the Fredell County Test Farm. All agents in this district have been invited to the test farm to watch the demonstrations, which will be conducted by experts who have made the tests and demonstrations.

Dr. J. M. Grier, who came to Concord Tuesday night to conduct the funeral of W. Lee Watson yesterday, returned yesterday afternoon to his home in Newton. Dr. Grier this week is moving into the manse of the First Presbyterian Church of Newton, and for that reason he was unable to stay longer with friends here.

Dr. S. E. Buchanan, county health officer, is this week expecting a dentist to report in this city to complete the school dental clinic started several weeks ago. Dr. H. B. Foster, who started the clinic, resigned several weeks ago and since that time Dr. Buchanan has been unable to get a dentist here to complete the work.

A Story Telling Hour for children will be observed at the library on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Mrs. Richard Reed, the librarian, stated this morning. It has not yet been decided who will conduct the hour this week, but some one who has had experience in this work will be on hand to entertain the children.

Mr. Reuben Utley has given up his work as carrier boy for The Tribune and is now employed in the mechanical department of the Times-Tribune office. Reuben carried papers for eight years and proved one of the best carriers the paper ever had. His younger brother, Jim Utley, has been carrying papers ever since he was old enough to hold a job under the State Child Labor Law.

The first of the commencement exercises for the city schools will be held this evening. The exercises this evening will be given by the students of the graduating classes of Central School and No. 2 School and will be held in the auditorium of the two schools. Plays will be presented by each class, and the entire program will be of interest. The general public is invited.

"How about the half holiday for the business houses of the city this year?" This is a question one hears very frequently here now. For several years all business houses observed a half holiday each Thursday during the summer months, but the custom did not prevail last year and as nothing has been said about it this year, it is practically certain that no half holidays will be observed this year.

Major W. A. Foil, tax commissioner for this county, stated this morning that the tax books would be open in Cabarrus county until June 9th. "We were just a little late in getting the books open," Major Foil stated, "and for that reason they will be kept open until June 9th and persons can make their returns any time until that date." It was originally planned to close the books today, the last day of May.

Babe Ruth, king of swat, is slowly but surely climbing to the head of the list of home-run hitters. The Babe started off slowly, but so far he has secured eleven four base clouts, having gotten one in each game of the double header the Yankees played yesterday. Ruth is now leading the American League in home runs, but is running behind Cy Williams, of the National League, who has secured 18 homers this season.

Mr. E. F. Correll informs us that he remembers well when Mr. William Elkins left Concord for Texas. Mr. Correll also states that he went to Loebert with Mr. John Elkins and, was employed in Mr. Elkins' store there for a number of years. These facts were mentioned by Mr. Correll in connection with an article which appeared in this paper this week in which Mr. G. C. Goodman was quoted as saying that he could remember but four living men who were here when Mr. Elkins left for Texas.
