Pottsyille, Pa., June 22.—A letter written and mailed at Pinedale, 12 miles south of this city. It years ago was delivered here today. Both the writer and the person to whom it was addressed have been dead a number of years. The letter was directed to E. A. Beddall, once a leading lawyer here, and was in reference to a mortgage which a Pinedale woman wished to be placed.

The letter was directed this morning to Thomas Beddall, son of the dead lawyer. Just where it has been reposing on its long journey has not been explained. Mr. Beddall merely remarked: 'Uncle Sam always gets there—some time." It was not gromised nor announced and has not even been christened; but just off North Kerr Street, at the end of Misenheimer Avenue, on a beautifal, slope crowned with stately oaks, happy children gather at all hours of the day and amuse and enjoy themselves with an outfit of the most modern playground equipment. SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quicks est by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The simples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist. Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowies mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

The Pilgrim's Dwelling-Place

By DR. HENRY OSTROM

TEXT—His soul shall dwell in go—Psa, 25:18. Rented rooms, hotels, and homes are all lodging places. From the atorm, the cold, or the heat, we are there wrapped in a real or an imaginary shelter. They are to us what a fortress would be in war, or what a shelter. tered harbor would be after the stormy voyage. Our Scripture for place, whether by night or by day, "his soul shall dwell in goodness. Said Jesus to the rich young ruler, "Why callest thou me good, there is none good but One, that is God." It is from such reaching that we come to know who alone possesses goodness, and consequently, who alone can pro-vide the dwelling-place for the soul. This home-nest for the soul cannot be of human construction; it is a bestowed lodging located in the heart of Him who alone is good. It is not ours to be the architects or the builders; rather it is ours to be the dwellers. When will we consent to believe in provided righteousness, provided goodness and a provided home for those who accept our Lord Jesus Christ?

We live in a world of distress and tears. What a contrast between our soul's lodging and the neighborhood! When attacked on all sides by fierce and subtle enemies the soul takes and subtle goodness of God. Just as a schoolboy runs home when too closely pursued by a group of attacking boys, conscious of his parents' pro tection and feeling an almost infinite contrast between it and the schoolboy world. We may prefer surrounding that are apparently more peaceful and safe, but who can hold back the raging floods of circumstances? Rather let us escape. Let us hide in goodness when the neighborhood rocks with badness. He who provides the lodging alone can control the circumstances. Thus, too, can we lend the best influ ence toward improving the immediate at home in goodness! The dread of change gone. The fondness for self-will abandoned. Hatred of iniquity substituted for love of sin! The man who lodges in goodness must possess a fondness for holiness. The thought of even approaching God consciously may have been a dreaded thing for years, but now it has been made congenial. The change is a miracle. Yes-terday "in the tents of wickedness," today "in the secret place of the Most High!" Yesterday out of the way, High!" Yesterday out of the way, today in the place of rest! Is it not goodness indeed that a saved sinner while on earth is designated "in the heavenlies in Christ Jesus?"

One may be a stranger vainly call-ing at the post office in a foreign land for mail, but at the same moment be at home with God. There is more than a slight hint of the cure for homesick-ness here. For, who could want a better, a lovelier, a safer lodging than our text promises? "Pilgrims and strangers on the earth?" Yes, but pilgrims at home while going home. When you come to see that the literal meaning of the Psalm is "He that dwelleth (by day-time) in the secret place of the Most High shall have a night's lodging under the shadow of night's lodging under the shadow of the Almighty" you grasp its meaning. God's goodness now, God's goodness tomorrow, God's goodness on earth, God's goodness in heaven; this is the program for those who will accept the one outstanding token of his goodness, the gift of His Son for our sins. Goodness! These is a sense of sound-Goodness! There is a sense of sound-ness in the word Goodness! It savors of prosperity, cleanness, safety, love! The longest stretch of the strongest imagination cannot picture it that a poor, lost, homeless sinner should be so changed that be lodges in the goodness of God. It takes faith to grasp that. It took revelation to disclose it, and a sense of being at home wherement diversells on earth is, in it. soul shall never again say that it is homeless.

You wish to communicate with me, then. You ask for my city. You desire to know my street and the number of my house. You inquire, do I live in the valley or on the hill? My address is four words; it answers your inquiry. It is "The Goodness of God."

The Rock of Agea.

This is Jesus' own application of the story of the Two Ancient Builders. Whosoever hearest these sayings of mine and doeth them not is like a man who built a house upon the sand without a foundation, and the floods came, and the winds blaw and beat upon that house, and it fell. But he who hearest these sayings of mine and doeth them is like a wine man who built his house upon a rock; and the rain descended and the floods came and the winds blaw and beat upon that house and it fell not; for it was founded upon a rock. There is a life which digs deep and rests upon a rock. It is the Rock of Ages. Beat life must so down to realities, and the greatest reality is the life of Jesus Christ as the foundation of every true life.
