LACK OF FINANCIAL SUPPORT THREATENS McLENDON SERVICES

Evangelist Announces He Cannot Continue Another Week on Basis of Last Week's Contributions.

Rev. B. F. McLendon talked straight business finances at both services yesterday.

He told his congregations that the contributions of the past week had not been sufficient to pay the running expenses of the McLendon staff, not to mention reducing the initial cost of starting the campaign in Greensboro.

"I'm laying all my cards on the table, folks," he said, "I'm talking to you frankly, and I say this to you: the contributions last week were not enough to enable me to stay here and conduct this campaign another week. I haven't got any money; I'm a poor man. I'm counting on you to back me up."

"Why, look at this crowd," he said, and it hung wide his arms out toward the night congregation that must have amounted to nearly 8,000 persons.

He talked of the expenses of this organization. "I'm carrying eight or nine persons with me and they are the very best I can find in the United States. This is no tin horn, pinwheel outfit. There's Mrs. Goodie, at the piano, and the congregation, especially the choir, drowned him with applause."

He talked more seriously about money than at any service yet and devoted longer time to it. The largest single contribution has been $10, from a man, and the next largest $15, from a woman.

There have been a few gifts of $10, and a few of $5, he said, but most of the contributions have been small.

"Not a dollar of this money goes to me," he said. "It goes to pay the expenses of the tent, the seats, the lights, the student, the freight. If you had gone to any other evangelist in the United States he would have made you give him a guarantee. He would have made you furnish him a tent and that would have cost $2,500, not to mention the freight. You would have had to pay his traveling expenses. You would have had to buy lumber and build seats," and he enumerated other expenses.

"I didn't ask a dollar of you before I came, but the weight of this whole campaign is resting on me. Now, Greensboro, I'm asking you to help me hold a real revival here. Why, I never saw a town in all my life so ripe for a revival. You help me out."

COUNTY-WIDE DRIVE AGAINST TYPHOID NOW UNDERWAY

All the Leading Community Centers in the County Will Be Visited by Health Officer During the Drive.

Following his usual custom of carrying the campaign against typhoid fever and diphtheria to every section of the county, Dr. S. E. Buchanan, the county health officer, this week began his county-wide drive to give the typhoid and diphtheria serum to every man, woman and child in the county.

The diphtheria serum is for children between the ages of six months and six years. The typhoid serum is for everyone. Persons who have never taken the serum should by all means take it. Those who have not had it during the past three years need it, and others who think they need it, or who want it, can get it.

FOR TWO WIVES TO A MAN

But Plan Offered Parliament of Czechoslovakia Starts Riot.

Prague Dispatch. Compulsory bigamy, proposed as a means of making up the losses in population caused by the war, caused a riot when it was debated in the Czechoslovakian parliament.

Mlle. Berta Kerpiskova, a woman deputy, introduced a bill to compel men to take two wives, wherever their personal inclinations might be. Heavy penalties were suggested for men who shirked their duty.

In presenting the bill, she explained that the war had weakened the Czechoslovakian nation and that great gaps in the population were waiting to be filled.

"How are we to do this?" she asked. "It is quite simple. Distribute the surplus women in the proportion of two to every man and the problem is solved."

Great enthusiasm in the chamber greeted Mlle. Kerpiskova's remedy. Men deputing stood on their chairs and cheered loudly and vigorously, but other quarters were to be heard from.

Hardly had the men's cheers subsided than there came loud and angry protests from the gallery, where the wives of the deputies were sitting.

These married women shouted indignantly that the nation would benefit by the granting of two women to every man, and demanded that the president of the chamber call Mlle. Kerpiskova to order.

A Christian Gentleman to Stand Four-Square to Every Wind That Blows

By "A HEADMASTER" of a Preparatory School.

At this point it seems to me well to pause and consider what we are really after and the obstacles in the way of attaining our ideal. Is not this what we are really after—to turn out a Christian gentleman to stand four-square to every wind that blows and take his part as a leader of this nation? Such is our ideal.

The modern American business man is so wrapped up in dollars and cents and in getting his results therefrom that he applies to the education of his boy the same principle which he applies to his business; he sends his boy to us with only one object in view, it seems to me, and that is to put that boy into college. That is all, in his opinion, the school is for.

It is a very sad thing to confess but in my experience with the school parent I believe that I could count on the fingers of my two hands the parents who have ever said a word to me with regard to their boys' characters and what they want us to do in that respect.

HENRY FORD WILL ENTER PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

In the Northwest His Name May Figure in the Republican Primary.

Special to Greensboro News. Washington, July 13.—Supporters of Henry Ford say there can be no question about their hero entering the Presidential preference primaries. In some of the northwestern states his name may figure in the Republican primary, but they expect to make a far better showing in their bid for Democratic support.

Events of the past few days, the yin-sinist, make the Ford candidacy inevitable. In the first place, certain publications have been conducting straw votes, and it is pointed out that the result of such enterprises has disclosed the fact that the Ford movement is something more than the mere uncovering of an interesting cross section of public opinion destined to divert the folks during the hot season. It is argued that it is a self evident proposition that the people want a change, so why not let Henry do it?

Airship Hangar Could House Large Office Building

At Scott Field, Ill., the Army Air Service has erected, at a cost of more than $2,000,000, a large airship hangar. The huge structure could contain a 10-story office building with a 50-foot tower on the roof. The hangar, which is built of steel, concrete, and glass, is 825 feet long and 225 feet high. At the end are large steel doors opened and closed by electric motors that travel on railroad rails.

Red Finger Light to Aid Night Auto Signaling

A small red light worn on the finger like a ring, has been made to aid night signaling by motorists. As the driver extends his arm and hand to signal a turn, or whatever it may be, the lamp automatically lights up the fingers of the hand.

The cord connection can be plugged into the dash-board of under the driver's seat.

Modern Jove Juggles Million Volts

At an electrical show held at a western university not long ago, one of the students mystified the crowd with a display rivaling the mythical feats of Jove, who was believed by the ancients to be the wielder of the thunderbolt. Seated in a chair separated from a table by seven-ply insulators, the youth grasped a zigzag rod in one hand and in the other a wand with which the lightning effect was emitted. The impunity with which he handled the 1,000,000 volts is explained by the low amperage value of the current passing through his body and the insulators under the chair legs, which prevented the electricity from going to the ground and thereby establishing a flow of current that would have been disastrous to the daring young experimenter.

A variation of the "dunning" letter is used by a Western firm, with agreeable results. Its notice is headed with four bars of music. The words are also given, being a parody on an old Scotch folk song. They read: "May a body ask a body. Please remit today."

Attachment on Spade Saves Shoes

The illustration shows a simple attachment for a spade, to save the shoes while digging. The attachment consists of a short length of 1/2 or 3/4-in. pipe, about 4 in. long, with a hacksaw slot cut through it lengthwise as shown, to permit it to be pushed onto the spade. The slot should, of course, be of such a width that the spade will be gripped firmly. The use of this attachment not only saves the shoes, but it is not so tiring on the foot.

World's Largest Cable for Atlantic Ocean

Completion of the laying of a new cable in the Atlantic Ocean, between New York and London, is expected by August 1, next, according to a recent announcement. It will be the largest ever laid in the Atlantic, or anywhere else in the world, and will have a capacity twice that of any other cable now in service between the United States and Europe. Engineers charged with the design of the new cable estimate that it will permit a sending speed of approximately 600 letters per minute in both directions at the same time, or a total of 1,200 letters per minute, making it the fastest cable in the world. Its conductor requires an average of 1,100 pounds of copper per mile, as against an average of about 700 pounds of copper per mile for the heaviest now in service.

Be Just to All.

We believe in giving every tax payer in the county an absolute square deal, but no more nor no less. That is why we wish to urge the men named to revalue certain property to go slow before they lower the tax value of any person, firm or corporation. There are some tax payers asking for reduction in valuation in their taxable property. Some of these claims for reduction may be meritorious, if so, all well and good, but the time has come when the small man is not going to pay more than his just portion of the taxes of this country. It is just as unfair to let down on a little man and add the deficiency on a big corporation's taxes as it is to reduce the taxes of a big corporation and put the difference on the backs of the small fellows. There is no difference, and the person, firm or corporation who would damn otherwise is dishonest, and ought not to be given more serious consideration than those who are willing to come across with their just portion of the taxes. Fairness in revaluation is the thing which the men named to revalue certain property should keep in mind. To these men we would say, be careful not to add one cent on any big corporation or large individual property owner that may not be entirely fair.
