

SIXTEEN BULLETS SENT INTO VILLA'S BODY BY ASSASSINS

Seven Unidentified Assassins Shot Him From Ambush on the Outskirts of Parral Friday Morning.

FOUR OTHER ALSO SHOT AND KILLED

The Assassins Fled to the River Bed and Sped Off on Their Horses, Which Had Been Hidden Near By.

Parral, Chihuahua, Mexico, July 21 (By the Associated Press).—The body of Francisco "Pancho" Villa, Robin Hood of Mexico, the most interesting character of contemporary Mexican history, a strange combination of horse sense and a fiery impulse, lies in the city hall here with thousands of persons flocking to see it.

Heavily guarded as always, a part of his military strategy learned in a hard school of experience, Villa met death yesterday morning about 8 o'clock on the outskirts of Parral when seven unidentified assassins from ambush sent sixteen bullets into his body and head.

Col. Miguel Trillo, Villa's secretary; Rosalio Morales, one body guard, and one bystander whose name has not been learned, also were killed. One Villa guard was wounded.

The attacking band totaled seven, the bandits' unlucky number. The assassins were on foot while Pancho's men were mounted, leaving Parral on a happy journey to his ranch at Canutillo, Durango.

The assassins fled to the river bed and sped off on horses which had been hidden in the river bed near the bridge.

General E. Martinez, commanding a detachment of 300 Federal soldiers, captured three of the attacking seven late yesterday near here.

General Martinez, who hurried here from Chihuahua City for a personal investigation, is holding the men under orders from President Obregon. The general said the assassins used 30-30 rifles. Military detachments left Jimenez and Valle de Allende to trail the band.

Federal troops have gone to Camutillo in anticipation of possible disorders at the Villa ranch. Affairs affecting Villa's estate admittedly are mixed, and some opinion is openly stated here that the ranch may revert to the state.

Two theories are advanced by authorities here investigating. One is that the writers from Villa's guards committed the killing. The other is that of revenge.

Villa Will Not Be Buried With Full Military Honors. Mexico City, July 21 (By the Associated Press).—President Obregon's plan to accord full military honors to Gen. Francisco Villa, former bandit chieftain, who was killed yesterday, will not be carried out, it was announced officially at the War Department late last night, because Villa's name was not carried upon the official military rolls of the government.

VILLA'S DEATH CONFIRMED Friends of Dead Rebel General Say Murderers Will Be Captured Soon. Chihuahua City, Mexico, July 20.—Official telegrams received at military headquarters confirm the death of Francisco Villa near Parral this morning and exonerate his secretary, Miguel Trillo, of all blame for his death, earlier telegrams having said Villa was killed by his secretary.

The assassination of Villa and the brief fight which followed are said to be the outcome of political disturbances. General Eugenio Martinez left here at 11 a. m. today with 100 soldiers on the way to Parral.

According to the official reports, Villa left Parral accompanied by Trillo, two guards and a chauffeur, early this morning. While going over the Guajuato bridge near Parral, the party was assaulted from both sides by a number of men.

Villa and Trillo were killed at the same instant, together with their companions, the official telegram says. The bodies were taken to Parral.

Last December and on April 10, of 1923, wild ducks were picked up helpless on the New Jersey coast at Cape May. The oil-coated waters gunned the feathers of the birds and prevented them from flying.

THE KIWANIS MEETING

Interesting Address Made by Mr. R. D. Goodman and Mr. W. B. Brown. A meeting full of interest was held by the Kiwanis Club at the local Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, when addresses were made by Mr. R. D. Goodman, farm demonstration agent for Cabarrus county, and Mr. W. G. Brown, the new Road Superintendent for this county.

The Kiwanians were also fortunate in having with them Miss Sarah Barnhardt, who furnished the music for the meeting in the absence of Miss Nell Herring, who is out of the city.

Only a few matters of business were brought before the meeting. Secretary Cline called the attention of the members to the approaching District Convention which will be held on August 10 and 17 in Wrightsville; also to the Sandhills Peach Show at Hamlet on Friday of next week, to which the Kiwanis are especially invited.

At present about one dozen persons from this city have expressed their intentions of attending the peach show, which promises to be the largest and best ever held.

Joe Pike called the attention of the club to the fact that the outside doors at the postoffice are locked every night at a comparatively early hour, thus working an inconvenience on many persons.

Upon passage of a motion, President Spencer appointed Joe Pike, Boyd Grady and John S. Palmer as a committee to take up this matter with the postoffice officials and see if better arrangements cannot be made.

Jake Moose, captain of Team No. 5 took charge of the meeting and introduced Demonstration Agent Goodman, who made an interesting talk on farm progress, and the problems that are now facing the farmers, who are at the foundation of the country's prosperity and progress.

He also called attention to the changes that are going on, and how agriculture is being forced to compete with industry in order to hold labor on the farms. He also spoke for better home conditions on the farm, and that the farm home be made more attractive.

Mr. W. G. Brown, the new road superintendent, in his talk, gave some facts as to the road problems of the county and told what is being accomplished. He stated that the Road Commission of the county receives approximately $72,000 a year to keep up the roads, which in his opinion, ought to maintain the roads in pretty good shape.

Cabarrus County has something like 900 miles of highways, of which about 300 miles are main county highways, and ought to be kept in good condition. The smaller cross roads and branch roads should be kept in fair condition, but at present it is not possible for the county with its present budget for road work to keep up the entire 900 miles of roads.

New and adequate road machinery has recently been purchased, continued Mr. Brown, and the county is now equipped on Monday give promise of splendid results. In the first four days they were used, the machines practically rebuilt four miles of roads—or a mile a day on the average. The new equipment consists of a large caterpillar tractor, a smaller tractor, and heavy road machines. They are at present working on the Poplar Tent road, near the Iredell County line, and are giving splendid results.

As for its plans in the future, Mr. Brown said the Highway Board for this county has one idea in mind—to give the county a dollar's worth of roads for each dollar it expends. The Commission, he stated, is composed of very capable men, and Cabarrus County may consider itself fortunate in having such men at the head of its road work.

CHARLOTTE WITHOUT STREET CAR SERVICE

Stopped at 11:30 Last Night by an Explosion at the Power Plant. (By the Associated Press.) Charlotte, N. C., July 21.—Charlotte folks who do not possess automobiles either walked to work today, or were given lifts by their more fortunate neighbors, for all street car service was stopped at 11:30 last night by a minor explosion at the power plant of the Southern Public Utilities Company, which operates the local car system. There are practically no jitneys here.

The explosion of what is called an "oil switch" deranged the wiring at the plant and for a time all city lights were out also, but they were turned on again just before midnight. Workmen were retained in as soon as possible to make repairs necessary to turning on the power that operates the trolley cars.

It was said later at the plant that cars could not be operated before the middle of the afternoon.

L. & N. MAKES FORMAL APPLICATION TO TAKE OVER C. C. & O.

L. & N., Owned by the Coast Line, Proposes to Operate Clinchfield Railroad Under a 999 Year Lease.

IS TO ASSUME ALL ITS INDEBTEDNESS

L. & N. and A. C. L. Will Then Acquire a New Outlet for Its Kentucky Coal Trade, It is Said.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, July 21.—The Atlantic Coast Line and Louisville & Nashville Railroads made formal application to the Interstate Commerce Commission today for authority to take over and operate the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railroad system. The Louisville & Nashville Company, which is owned by the Atlantic Coast Line, proposes to operate the Clinchfield's 300 miles of road under a 999-year lease.

Under the proposal, the Louisville & Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line will assume all the mortgage indebtedness of the Clinchfield system. In addition, 25,000,000 of the common stock of the Clinchfield will be left outstanding in the hands of its present owners and the leasing companies guarantee to pay dividends upon this at the rate of 3 per cent. until 1928; to increase the payment to 4 per cent., between 1928 and 1938; and to pay 5 per cent. thereafter.

The Louisville & Nashville expects by this plan to acquire a new outlet for its Kentucky coal traffic, the application said, and in addition will have an important link across the Appalachian Mountains.

The consolidation proposed was said to be in harmony with the general consolidation proposals which the Interstate Commerce Commission has made under the transportation act.

FINANCIERS STUDY AFFAIRS OF BARRETT & CO.

Attempt to Hold Together the House of the Large Cotton Factors. (By the Associated Press.) Augusta, July 21.—Financiers of New Orleans, North and South Carolina, plan to continue heretoday their efforts to hold together the tumbled house of Barrett & Company, cotton factors, reputed to be the world's largest. Liabilities and assets, which, according to James M. Hull, Jr., of the counsel for the firm, are to be studied at a meeting of the visiting bankers today and a committee appointed to deal with the firm's officials.

Tentative plans for liquidating were worked out at meetings yesterday, according to Mr. Hull, the creditor bankers having had representatives on the field before the company's troubles became public knowledge.

Frank H. Barrett, president of the company, gave out a brief statement saying he had given up his seats on the New York and New Orleans exchanges, because he was unable to meet his obligations. There was no other statement of the causes of the firm's plight forthcoming. Obligations were placed at approximately one million dollars.

Local banks are not involved, a statement by the clearing house association said.

Probably a hundred telegrams were received during the day by the elder Barrett from friends expressing sympathy for his predicament and offering any assistance they could render.

HARDING WILL NOT CALL EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

Feels That the Public Thinks the Country is Benefitting by the Recess. On board steamship Henderson with President Harding, July 21 (By the Associated Press).—President Harding, it can be declared positively, has no intention of calling Congress into session in advance of its regular meeting in December.

While the chief executive himself has made no direct statement, those among his party on his tour of Alaska who reflect his views, say that he has no idea of heading a demand for an extra session made by Senator Brookhart, republican of Iowa.

Mr. Harding's close associates of his say, feels there is little or no need for any immediate assembling of the Federal legislative body, and furthermore that the leaders in Congress are of the opinion that the country is benefitting by the current recess of Congress.

North Carolina has just put into effect a new law to prevent speeding at grade crossings by the erection of signs at all such places with the simple words in red ink: "State law: Stop." We can't see that this is a great improvement on the familiar "Stop, look and listen," but possibly the reference to the State conjures up images of the omnipotence of the law more forcibly than a plain warning without such a background.—Philadelphia Record.

INTERESTING ITEMS ABOUT NORTH CAROLINA.

(By the Associated Press)

Of Southern States, North Carolina stands first in number and magnitude of its available waterpowers; when development and utilization of waterpowers is considered, the state leads the union.

Throughout the Western section of the state, development of water power facilities on small streams has made it possible for numerous small manufacturing plants to operate.

All natural resources of the state being considered, there is not one which is of greater importance than its water power in connection with its present and future industrial development.

DR. ALLEN ARRESTED

Is Charged With Violation of the Mann Act in Connection With His School for Girls. (By the Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Cal., July 21.—Dr. H. B. Allen, said to be the founder and superintendent of a girls' school at Sabot, Va., was arrested at his Hollywood residence yesterday in an indictment charging him with violation of the Mann act in transporting one of his 57 adopted daughters from Sabot to Pittsburgh.

The Department of Justice agents who arrested Mr. Allen also took into custody a woman who said she was his housekeeper, and two young women who stated they were his adopted daughters.

According to Federal officials Dr. Allen founded a school for girls in North Carolina fourteen years ago and later moved the institution to Sabot, legally adopting the girls in his care. When indicted the officials allege Allen fled west and his wife departed for New York with seven of the girls.

Dr. Allen declared the indictments were the result of spite work, and said he was willing to return to the East to fight the charge.

Allen Is Wanted by the Virginia Officers. Richmond, Va., July 21.—H. B. Allen, arrested in Los Angeles on charges of violating the Mann act, has been sought by Federal and Virginia state authorities since February last, when he disappeared just prior to the closing of the Paul Gray Plantation School at Sabot, Va., by the Virginia state welfare department. The school was closed on February 24th on the grounds of "grave suspicion of immorality." At that time a proclamation was issued by the State Welfare department saying that support be cut off and that no assistance be given the Cullowhee mountain school at Franklin, N. C.

FIVE COUPLES SECURE LICENSE IN A BUNCH

Independently of Each Other, They Drive Into Newton, Get Permits and Are Wed. Newton, July 20.—The office of the register of deeds Thursday afternoon was a veritable green parlor. Mrs. Josephine Taylor, and her two assistants, Misses Alice Wesley and Mary Woodward, suspended all other business to write out marriage licenses for five couples.

The first two couples departed happily with the treasured papers in the pockets of the bridegroom, but the third couple, an extraordinarily pretty girl and a handsome man, sent for Rev. George P. Drum and were married before leaving the office.

Before the congratulations were over, in stepped another good looking couple. The preliminaries were quickly concluded and Mr. Drum made them man and wife right on the same spot. As they were departing a fifth couple came in the door and Mr. Drum was engaged to repeat the ceremony for them, but they preferred a more private wedding and accompanied the preacher to his home on Collier Street.

The regrettable part about this unusual news item is that your correspondent was pledged not to print any names. But he feels at liberty to say that all were from outside Catawba county. They represented Burke, McDowell, Haywood and Gaston counties. There was no concert of action among the couples. All hit Newton at about the same time, 4:30 p. m., from different directions, in the same mission. All came in automobiles, were well dressed, and good looking and apparently prosperous and gentle young folks.

Each bridegroom handed the parson a nice fee and the last year correspondent saw of him he was hastening back to the courthouse to see if the tide was still on the inflow.

BRITISH NOTE DELIVERED TO ALLIED AMBASSADORS

By the End of Another Week the British Expect to Have Answer. London, July 21 (By the Associated Press).—The British note in reply to the German reparations communication has been delivered to the allied ambassadors, and all the members of the British cabinet have departed to the country for the week-end. It is understood that the French cabinet meets tomorrow.

With the British note seeking allied and American views on the reparations issue safely in the hands of the various diplomatic representations for transmission to the respective governments, there was evident a feeling of relief and satisfaction in Downing Street this morning. The British foreign office officials left for a week-end vacation, but a number of American embassy staff members will not be able to enjoy such recreation for they were busy coding messages for Washington, so that the note might be on the State Department's desk early Monday morning.

By the end of another week the British expect to have answers from the allied and American governments. Note Received at French Foreign Office. Paris, July 21 (By the Associated Press).—The British note on reparations was received at the foreign office today. Knowledge of the note's contents is limited to a small group of foreign office officials, each of whom promised Premier Poincare to keep the information to himself, the Premier saying the French government had given its word of honor to observe absolute secrecy until the British government agreed to the note's publication.

DR. BLAND CONTINUES BIBLICAL CRITICISMS

Says Old Testament Teaches Many Things Not up to Moral Standard of Jesus Christ. (By the Associated Press.) Lake Junaluska, N. C., July 21.—though the Old Testament writings were freely revised and set aside by Jesus Christ and St. Paul, nevertheless they deserve and will continue to deserve reverent study, said Dr. S. G. Bland, of Toronto, Ontario, in his sixth lecture on "Biblical Criticisms," before the Leadership School of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session here. His subject for the sixth discourse was "The Great and Permanent Value of the Old Testament."

"The Old Testament Scriptures are not all authority for use," declared the speaker. "We have no master but Jesus, the Lord. They were freely revised and set aside by Jesus and St. Paul and the unknown writer of the Hebrews. But they deserved and will continue to deserve reverent study."

Dr. Bland outlined the following reasons why the Old Testament holds its great value as a source of Christian teaching.

"1. They were the Bible of Jesus, and it is difficult to see how Jesus could be thoroughly understood without them.

"2. They are necessary to the understanding of the moral and religious education of the race. We cannot understand the present nor anticipate the future unless we know the past.

"3. They are all indispensable factors in the education of children. The Old Testament can do some things the New cannot. Every individual reproduces the development of the race.

"4. There is a discipline of awe in the Old Testament unequalled elsewhere.

"5. They have an inspiration and guidance for business and politics not given in the New Testament.

"With the exception of Jesus the writers of the New Testament have largely lost interest in the world around them. They stand tiptoed waiting for the end. But the glorious Hebrew prophets were practical statesmen and social reformers and the pulpit of today needs to know first the teaching of Jesus and then the teaching of the Hebrew prophets."

Dr. Bland's Fifth Lecture.

Lake Junaluska, July 21.—The only real difficulties in the Old Testament occur where its moral teachings conflict with the teachings of Jesus Christ, declared Dr. S. G. Bland, Toronto, Canada, in the fifth of his lectures here on the subject of Biblical Criticism before the Leadership School of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The subject of Mr. Bland's lecture was "Old Testament Difficulties in the Light of Progressive Revelation."

It is to be frankly conceded that there are difficulties in the Old Testament," Dr. Bland asserted. "Scientific or historical errors need not trouble us. A moral revelation to be effective must conform in non-essential respects to the accepted ideas of the time as it must use the language of the time whatever its limitations.

"Without God could have corrected the ideas of the Hebrews 2,000 years ago as to the nature of the universe, the geography and history of the world but how that would have furthered their moral education is not discernable.

"The only real difficulties are the moral teachings of the Old Testament where they conflict with the teachings of Jesus. We wrong the Bible and we wrong our own minds when we try to explain away discrepancy. Men and women who are held up as worthy of admiration say things in the Old Testament about God and about their enemies and do things which all as Christians must pronounce un-Christian. And yet all may find these religious and moral ideas relatively right or at least unobjectionable of censure because the best and highest education in all earlier stages of the moral education of the race and an improvement in still earlier. Then there are many expressions in the Psalms which Christ has taught us that we must not use. They breathe a spirit of vengeance and hate. Yet because they were prompted by honest indignation against cruelty and injustice they were a necessary phase in the moral development of mankind. The sweetest apples have their sour period."

Terminal Hotel Is Closed at Salisbury.

Salisbury, July 20.—Judge Stable Linn in county court has issued an order closing the Terminal hotel for a period of 12 months, declaring the hotel to have become a nuisance. H. B. Isehower, who had charge of the hotel, signified his willingness to have the hotel closed and Roy Canble, who was manager of the place, waived his lease rights. The place got in bad several days ago when the housekeeper turned things up following an affray with the manager.

Isehower was fined $200 following a conviction of running a bawdy house along with his manager and housekeeper and a negro porter. The rental of the hotel amounts to $3,300 for the time it is required to be closed. Isehower was fined $150 for having whiskey in his possession.

JUDGE SINCLAIR LETTER YESTERDAY

The Letter Advised Him to Use His Influence and Brain in "Exonerating These Guiltless Servants."

LETTER MAILED AT LUMBERTON FRIDAY

The Letter Was Printed in Pencil as Was Also the One Sent to Mr. McIntyre, Who is Prosecuting Case.

(By the Associated Press.) Lumberton, July 21.—Judge N. A. Sinclair presiding at the trial here of the three men charged with the flogging of two women received an anonymous letter this morning advising him to "use your influence and brain in exonerating these guiltless servants."

The letter bore a postmark indicating that it was mailed here at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the same time that was stamped on an unsigned letter to Stephen McIntyre, volunteer assistant to Solicitor T. A. McNeill, accusing McIntyre of "persecution."

The letter to Judge Sinclair was very brief, compared to the one Mr. McIntyre received, and reads as follows: "You have showed a relentless spirit against these honorable men, and we warn you to use your influence and brain in exonerating these guiltless servants."

The letter to Judge Sinclair was printed in pencil as was the one to Mr. McIntyre, which told him that among twelve men that could be selected that "part of them are imbued with the Herculean spirit and giant strength of the Invisible Empire. Therefore your efforts are as chaff before a storm."

The missive commanded Mr. McIntyre to show the warning to Solicitor McNeill, saying "it is as much to him as it is to you, and the same penalty on him if he exposes."

"They can't scare me," was McNeill's comment last night. Mr. McIntyre did not see his warning until this morning, as he had gone to bed before his law partner, James Proctor, found the letter in their post office box. He refused any comment on it today, merely remarking: "Why, the letter speaks for itself."

Addresses to the jury, with prospects that the twelve men would get the case by 2 o'clock, were on today's program. The three defendants, Jule Brogren, Johnson Hedgepeth and B. M. Lawson, chief of police at Fairmont, denied on the stand that they are members of the Ku Klux Klan, or that they had anything to do with the flogging of the two women.

The trial of A. H. Taliaferro, charged with attempting to tamper with witnesses in the flogging case, and who, according to the police, claimed to be a Ku Klux Klan detective, is scheduled to be started as soon as the flogging case jury retires.

LAWYER IN FLOGGING CASE IS THREATENED

Mrs. Purvis and Brother-in-Law Alleged to Have Told Brit They Would "Get Him." Lumberton, July 20.—Attorney W. S. Britt, who made the closing speech for the defense this afternoon, was the target of serious threats less than 30 minutes after he closed his argument. Mrs. Hattie Purvis, the star prosecuting witness in the flogging case, shaking her finger at him and saying "I'm going to get you."

Just as she had uttered the threat, C. Lawson Purvis, her brother-in-law, who was standing beside her, said: "Yes, she's going to get you and I'm going to help her."

During the attorney's speech Mrs. Purvis seemed to become very much heated over his remarks to the jury. Mr. Britt surprised eye witnesses by laughing over the matter and did not let his anger be shown. His brother and law partner, E. M. Britt, who was at close range, and who heard the threat, stepped to the threatening parties that it was the opportune time to get somebody.

No warrants have been issued and Mr. Britt is taking the matter very unconcernedly.

Invisible Empire Is Supreme, Says Note.

Lumberton, July 20.—"Surely you must know among any 12 honorable men that could be selected that part of them are imbued with the herculean spirit and giant strength of the invisible empire," read a letter received here tonight from unidentified persons by Stephen McIntyre, volunteer assistant counsel to the state in the Proctorville flogging case in progress here. "Therefore your efforts are as chaff before a storm."

The letter directed Mr. McIntyre to convey the message contained in it to Solicitor T. A. McNeill, stating that "it is as much to him as it is to you." When shown the letter tonight Solicitor McNeill's only comment was "They can't scare me." The trial has failed to produce any Ku Klux Klan records sought by the State in subpoenas against V. W. Keith, of Fairmont, and E. F. Randolph, of Warsaw. Keith has filed a return saying he has no records; and no return has been made on the Randolph subpoena, which so far as known, has never been served.
