

"Mother, You Never Told Me!"
"Mother—you never told me!"
"Father—if I had only been guided!"
Such is the daily plaint of hundreds young men and young girls, who have viated from the paths of respectabil-

Had they but been guided in earlier life, they doubtless would not have been confronted with the tragic situation they are trying to make known t otheir par-are trying to make known t otheir parents.

So many parents neglect to inform their sons and daughters of the pitfalls confronting them on the dark road, and it is in such cases that the lesson of a lifetime is unfolded in two hours by the unique motion picture production. "Some Wild Oats," at the Pastime Theatre.

The picture is entirely different from any ever seen in Concord, and in addition to its entertainment value, there are some splendid educational features.

Because of the delicate subject touched upon in the picture, it has been deemed advisable not to show it to mixed audiences. There are special shows for women between 2 and 7 p. m. and for men from 7 to 11 p. m. Children under 16 years of age will not be admitted under any circumstances, the management announces.

The picture brings before the public the serious question of social disease. The subject is too delicate, however, and does not permit of the picture being shown to mixed audiences. There are special shows for women and special shows for men. The picture relieves parents of the embarrassment in explaining to their children who have reached a certain age, this delicate subject that they have longed to present to them.

The Kerr Street Revival.

The meeting is still going in great power. Big crowds are still coming and God is with them. Now is the accepted time. Now is the day of salvation. When God's dinner-bell rings all you want is an appetite. And you can walk in and there's a place for you. Rev. Mr. Sisk preached another great sermon Tuesday night. You will find the text in Revelations '14:1, "And I. Jooked and lo, a lamb stood on the Mount Sion, and with him a hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads." The preached said in part: If I had a thousand tongues they would all talk for Christ. A thousand hands 'they should all work for Christ, a thousand feet, I'd put them all in the way to heaven. Thank God for these singing, shouting mothers. There is music in their voices. There are ten thousand ways to hell and only one to heaven. But with a good guide we need have no fear of losing our way.

David was a great sinner but he was a first-class repenter. Look on the, inside. When you know yourself you can fight your battle. Everything they' say about me helps me. If they lie about me, I'm so glad it's a lie that I can't get mad, so I always keep in a good humor. A man once asked me how long it had been since I had been to the theater. I told him I had not been to a theater since I quit being a vagaboud. Friends, God will clean you up if you will let Him.

I have been working for Him a long time, and He is the best boss man I ever had.

Auto Wreck Saturday.

Albemarle News-Herald.

What came very near being a serious wreck took place on the Albemarle-Concord road late Saturday evening when the Nash car. driven by Mr. J. W. Cozart, of Badin, bringing a number of the Badin baseball players from Concord, was almost completely demolished with several of the occupants rather dangerously injured. Just how the accident happened seems to be a bit uncertain but it is said that Mr. Cepart was attempting to pass another car at the time and the wreck was possibly caused by dust, making it impossible for the driver to see well in front of him.
