NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

AN OVERFLOWING HOUSE HEARS DR. GILBERT ROWE

Delivered the Greatest Sermon Yet in the Revival Meeting at Forest Hill.

The Forest Hill revival gained decided impetus Thursday night. The music was surprisingly fine. The manner in which the big crowd has been singing the old hymns and the splendid solo work by the director, Mr. John Young Hornbuckle, are subjects of frequent comment.

Dr. Rowe, too, seemed to surpass himself. With great power he drove home the message which was listened to with rapt attention from the opening sentence. There were five decisions.

Tonight has been designated "Young Peoples' Night," and a large body of Epworth Leaguers and other young folks will occupy reserved seats.

The congregation this morning was the largest of the week. Dr. Rowe and Mr. Armstrong attended chapel at Central graded school before opening the service in the church.

Dr. Rowe will preach to men only on Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Mr. Armstrong announced Thursday night.

The text of the sermon Thursday night was taken from Joshua the 23rd chapter and the 14th verse, and the 24th chapter and the 14th and 15th verses, and it was introduced by the statement that while the utterance of Israel's grand old man was delivered long ago, the issues are now just the same as they were then.

Joshua's urgent exhortation that the people fear the Lord and serve Him in sincerity and truth was based upon their experience of the faithfulness of God. They knew that not one thing had failed. It is always safe to appeal to the observation and experience of any man, who has ever loved God, because he knows that, while he was not free from the ills common to mankind, God was with him in his troubles and helped him through them. Foretastes of the joys of heaven are scattered all along the way of the Christian life.

Since Joshua knew God himself, he urged his countrymen to have the same experience. The depth of a man's religious sincerity is measured by the strength of his desire to have other people have the same experience. He cannot eat his bread alone.

But Joshua wanted the people to act with their eyes open and choose freely the object of their service and devotion. "If it seem well to you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom you will serve." Being a soldier, he could not stand a flabby, colorless man. He urged the people to be positive and active, and to choose something to stand by. They knew the gods of their ancestors and also the gods that they found in Canaan, and they were urged to select a god into whose service they could enter with all their hearts. Many centuries have passed and all those gods are dead, but their successors still live in the form of money, appetite, worldly ambition and the desire to climb in "high society." These are gods that deceive by promising much, but while they have a lovely face, they have no arms and cannot save in time of need.

Joshua was an old man when he used these words and he told the people that he had fully made up his mind to continue to serve the Lord. The question was settled with him for good. There is no need, and there should be no desire on the part of the Christian for any other than the God who is "the Father of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ."

GEORGE HARVEY QUITS POST IN ENGLAND, AS DOES CHILD

Harvey Will Leave England About First of Year—Carrying Out Program.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The resignation of Ambassador Harvey at London and Child at Rome submitted for private reasons and under agreements reached with the Harding administration, have been accepted, marking the first big change in the American diplomatic service since President Coolidge took office.

Ambassador Harvey will quit his post about the first of the year. Ambassador Child, who has either left or is about to leave Rome for the United States, will not go back. None of the other American ambassadors or ministers, the state department said in making the announcement, has any similar agreement limiting his term of service as far as is known.

The only explanation of the two resignations given in official quarters was that in both cases the ambassadors had a few months ago reached agreements with President Harding as to the length of time they could continue at their posts. Whether they have deferred their retirement because of President Harding's death until President Coolidge should feel that they could be spared was not disclosed. In both cases there have been intimations, however, that the ambassadors were finding their positions unduly burdensome in a financial way and that they felt that they must give attention to their personal affairs.

When Ambassador Harvey was last in the United States on a somewhat prolonged leave, it was reported he would resign and take an active part in the coming presidential campaign. However, state department officials today limited their announcement to the statement that Mr. Harvey was about to retire and would do so in accordance with his understanding with President Harding.

There was no official word available tonight as to successors President Coolidge might send to fill the post. At the state department it was not admitted that any step had yet been taken to sound out the two governments as to suitability of possible appointees.

CASH CORN NOW ABOVE $1 PER BUSHEL AT CHICAGO

Quoted at From 25 to 30 Cents Over Prices of One Year Ago.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—For the first time since October, 1920, cash corn sold above $1 a bushel today. All futures turned strong and closed sharply higher. The October quotation was 93 1-2 cents. Cash wheat is but 10 cents a bushel over cash corn. The high price of the latter was 101 1-2.

Corn is now 25 to 30 cents a bushel over the price the farmer obtained a year ago.

RAW SILK IN JAPAN LEAPS UPWARD BY $35 A BALE

American Buyers Complain That Japs Are Holding Stocks.

Tokio, Oct. 5.—Raw silk advanced another 70 yen ($35) today on the Yokohama market. The new price is 2250 yen a bale. Sales of 1050 bales at that price were reported.

Complaints have been received from American buyers that Japanese dealers are withholding stocks badly needed to keep mills in the United States busy this winter.

Smokes in Court, Won't Quit; Fined $5, Won't Pay; Jailed.

New York Times.

"Take that cigarette out of your mouth," ordered Court Attendant John Blazer in the Jamaica Magistrate's Court, yesterday.

"I won't," responded Rudolph Sheeler, a baker. "I can smoke in Philadelphia court, so I don't see why I can't smoke here."

The case was put up to Judge Miller.

"It'll cost you $5 to learn that you can't smoke in my court, no matter what you do in Philadelphia," said the judge.

"I won't pay it," said Sheeler, still smoking.

"Very well. Five days," said the judge.

Dorman Thompson.

Salisbury Post.

Dorman Thompson, who died in Statesville Tuesday, was well known in Salisbury. He had warm friends here, as he had wherever known. Mr. Thompson was a lawyer by profession, and a good one, but he was far more than a practitioner of the law; he was a well rounded citizen, a big, generous man, large of heart and soul, perhaps the best loved man in his home town, which was also his native city. We regarded Dorman Thompson as one of the most valuable citizens of the state—a good man who loved his state, his fellow man and his God. He will be missed, for such men are needed today, as such men have ever been needed, to give character to the day's work.

Possible Reason.

Perhaps the reason history repeats itself is because we are so slow to learn its lessons.

HAD SUFFERED FOR TWO YEARS

Mrs. Smith Declares Stella Vitae Was Only Thing That Relieved Her.

"When I began taking Stella Vitae my sufferings were almost more than I could bear," said Mrs. Norman Smith, living at Ridgeville, S. C.

"I suffered from a complication of troubles and really don't know what caused my misery. Headaches were awful and my back nearly killed me. I had a terrible pain in my right side for two years and an internal female trouble that was wearing me out.

"I tried everything I could get hold of but nothing did me any good. Finally I began taking Stella Vitae and at once felt it was reaching my trouble. I have taken only one bottle so far but it has done me worlds of good and the way I am now improving I firmly believe a few more bottles will make me sound and well."

Stella Vitae may be obtained from the Pearl Drug Company and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

The very day you start to use Calumet Baking Powder your baking expenses reduce. The price of Calumet is not the only reason for its economy—it's the great leavening strength it possesses—the unfailing results that are always experienced when it is used, that's what counts—that's what makes it the economy leavener.

Never use heaping spoonfuls when you bake with Calumet—it isn't necessary because one spoonful of Calumet does the work of two of many other brands.

Why should you run the risk of spoiling your bakings by using a leavener that has not proven its merits—that may mean success today and failure tomorrow? Don't experiment—use Calumet. It makes more bakings—goes farther and lasts longer. Its superior quality has stood out above all other baking powders for many years.

DAILY NEWS WILL BE PUT ON FAST TRAINS

Southern To Have Copies of Morning Paper Lying on Dining Car Tables on No. 33 and 37.

Greensboro News.

Passengers on the New Orleans limited, No. 37, and the Piedmont limited, No. 33, will find on their tables in the dining cars Saturday morning and thereafter copies of the Greensboro Daily News placed there by the Southern Railway for the use of passengers.

The railway company has ordered 15 copies of the Daily News, daily and Sunday, to be used for this purpose. Both trains pass through the city early in the morning and the dining cars are opened soon thereafter.

The move is an resumption of a practice followed by the Southern prior to the date when the United States government took over the railroads. During the period of government control the practice was not followed.
