

Will Your Home Be Comfortably Heated This Winter?

Winter months will soon be here. When they come, will there be healthful, warmth and comfort all through the house for you, for your folks and for your visitors?

ALL STEEL PIPELESS FURNACE Heats your whole house comfortably from one big register. Ends forever that muss and bother of stoves. Gives you the room they take up. Easy to operate, responsive to control—gives you lots of heat or little, according to the weather. More economical on fuel than several stoves.

LOCAL MENTION

Mr. Shelly Howell has accepted a position on the clerical force at Ebird's. The Library will be closed tomorrow on account of the fair.

The Concord Public Library will observe tomorrow (Tuesday) as a holiday. Cotton on the local market today is quoted at 28 1-2 cents per pound; cotton seed at 60 cents per bushel.

Mr. Grover C. Love is again able to be at his place with the Richmond-Flowe Company, after an absence of several days due to illness.

Mrs. P. M. Lafferty, Mrs. Jas. A. Bangle and Miss Elma Boyd spent Saturday in Charlotte.

Marriage license was issued Saturday to Mr. Floyd W. Lyerly and Miss Lala Shuping, both of Kannapolis.

One new case of diphtheria, and a case of scarlet fever, were reported Saturday to the county health office.

Miss Mozelle Hall, of Charlotte, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John M. Young, on West Depot street.

Mrs. C. D. Foil has entered the Charlotte Sanatorium, where she will undergo treatment for the present.

The condition of Mrs. A. J. Dayvault, who recently underwent an operation in the Concord Hospital, continues to show improvement.

All members of Company E who wish to receive their pay for services at Spruce Pine, are asked to report at the armory hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock and sign the pay roll.

The fun starts tomorrow at the Cabarrus Court Fair. Everybody will be here. Entertainment and fun for everyone. Be here and enjoy the many things to be found.

Mr. Peardie Hargett and Miss Pearl Biggers were married Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at the parsonage of the Methodist protestant church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. D. Shelton.

Reports from the Charlotte Sanatorium state that the condition of Miss Gertrude Shaw continues to improve very favorably and it is now believed she will be able to leave the hospital about Thursday to go to her home at Rockingham.

Mr. Clarence Ridenour, who was injured several days ago in a football game in Charlotte and who returned to his home here last week, returned to Charlotte Saturday morning to undergo further examination in a hospital there. His condition today is reported as more favorable.

The following are some of the football results from Saturday's games: State 7, University of South Carolina 0; Wake Forest 25, Lynchburg 0; Davidson 7, Citadel 0; Georgia Tech 7, Florida 7; Yale 40, Georgia 0; Furman 20, Presbyterian College 0; Notre Dame 13, Army 0; Syracuse 23, Alabama 0.

Cabarrus County Superior Court began its regular October term this morning, with His Honor, Judge B. F. Long, of Statesville, presiding. Solicitor Zeb V. Long, of Statesville, is present to prosecute all criminal cases for the State. The criminal term will continue this week, and the civil term will begin next week.

Salisbury Post: Rev. D. P. Grant, pastor of the Gold Hill Church, was generously pounded recently by the congregation. It was the greatest pounding ever experienced by the pastor and family. The pastor is conducting a revival meeting now at Gold Hill. The preaching is being done by Rev. W. J. Bryson, of Landis. Many have been converted.

Albemarle News-Herald: What would appear to be reliable news, has reached Albemarle to the effect that Stanly's prosperous town of Norwood is soon to be the proud possessor of a home newspaper. It is reported that Mr. J. Z. Green, editor of the Marshville Home, is to establish a weekly at Norwood at an early date. Just what its name will be or when the first issue will appear has not yet been made public.

The Yankees are now leading the Giants in the world series. By winning Saturday and again Sunday the Yankees now are leading by one game. The score of the game Saturday was 8 to 4 and Sunday 8 to 1. The sixth game is being played today and if the Yankees win today they will be champions for the present year. Nehf is expected to twirl for the Giants today, while Jones will probably be on the mound for the Yankees.

Persons traveling the road between Concord and Mount Pleasant are registering complaints on the condition of the road at present. Some of it has been recently plowed up, while at other points it has been scraped or loose sand has been placed on the surface, which causes such dense clouds of dust that it is difficult to drive through. Collisions in this dust can be averted only by driving slowly and burning the headlights of the automobiles.
