A New Sleeve

The shredded sleeve shown so charmingly by the fashionable young woman in the picture is seen on many a new and fashionable frock. It is interesting and does not pretend to be useful—ornament is its only aim.

GASTONIA VICTORY IS PROTESTED BY CONCORD

Protest Recognized by Officials of Foot-hall Game.—Crowds on Field Hamper-ed Work of Players.
The football game at Gastonia Friday between Concord and Gastonia was thrown out when Concord protested on account of unruly crowds and not stand-ard field. The following covers the game and protest: account of unruly ard field. The game and protest:

Protest Allowed Gastonia, N. C., Nov. 9, 1923

Protested
Gastonia, Nov. 9.—Gastonia 8, Concord 6, Game protested because of the length of end zone and the crowd on the feld. Concord outplayed Gastonia two to one on the home ground. The protest is sustained by many Gastonia supporters.

The game was conspicuous for its delanliness, only one penalty, and that delanliness, only one penalty, and that desire the construction of side, occurring during the entire exhibition. It was a hard fought tusted she none the less, and though Gastonia demonstrated superiority in the first half Concord came back strong in the second and victory was not settled until the final whistle.

Biggers and Shelton, the former on line bucks and the latter on end runs, were the bright lights, of the Gastonia offense while Sullivan, Concord quarter, was near the whole works for the visitors. Sullivan was truly the triplethreat, and his generalship in the second half coupled with sheer driving power came near giving the visitors victory. Concord was forced to play an uphill fight and this she did in beautiful fashion, but when the locals strengthened the necessary punch for victory was lackling on the part of the visiting aggregation.

Gastonia got an early start and em.

Ing on the part of the visiting aggregation.

Gastonia got an early start and employing straight football tactics with Biggers and Shelton doing most of the gaining got in striking distance and scored a safety in the first quarter. A touchdown a few minutes later brought the score up to eight points. Thereafter the going was more difficult and the two teams fought en near equal basis, Concord threatening on several occasions and finally driving one touchdown across.

No use to hop on Gastonia about it, the only difference between Charlotte and Gastonia in that regard is that Charlotte is bigger and therefore has more rooters in the way than Gastonia has.

It's very unsportsmanlike to say the least.
