LOCAL MENTION

Two new cases of measles, two of whooping cough and two of chicken pox were the contagious diseases reported yesterday to the county health department.

The Sons and Daughters of Liberty will attend the revival services at Kerr Street Methodist Church Saturday night and all members are asked to meet at the home of Mr. Mauldin, 403 Kerr Street, at 7:15 o'clock, and march in a body to the church.

The funeral of Mr. W. A. Kendrick was conducted at his late residence on Meadow street, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The service was in charge of Rev. M. L. Kester, assisted by Dr. G. A. Martin, and Rev. W. C. Lyerly. Interment was in Oakwood cemetery.

Tax listing time begins on May 1st. The tax listers have already been appointed by the county commissioners, and they will begin their work on that date. All those failing to list their taxes within the time allotted by law will be made to pay a penalty for their delinquency.

The new County Building has been completed and is now ready for occupancy. The cement sidewalk was laid in front of the building a few days ago, and the property adds much to the appearance of South Church Street. Some of the county officials will be moved into the building immediately when the weather permits.

Workmen are making splendid progress on the remodeling and addition to be made to the Cabarrus Motor Company on East Corbin Street. The present building will be made two stories high, and the wall on Church Street will be placed on the new line which was made when the street was widened. Rough texture bricks are being used for the walls, and when completed the building will present a handsome appearance.

The Kiwanis Clubs of Statesville and Charlotte were invited yesterday by representatives of the Kiwanis Club of Concord to be present in Concord on Easter Monday to attend a big barbecue to be staged at the Jackson Training School, and races at the Cabarrus fair grounds. Plans are shaping up rapidly now, and indications are that the event will be a great success. The barbecue at the Training School will give many of the visitors their first opportunity to visit this big State institution, which will be a revelation to most of the visitors.

At the adjourned meeting of the board of aldermen, held last night at the city hall, the privilege license taxes for the coming fiscal year were fixed by the aldermen. Most of the taxes were left unchanged, and several new ones were added to the list. One of these provides for a tax of $20 per year for each truck handling citrus fruits in Concord, and these trucks are prohibited from selling fruits within one hundred yards of business houses. The matter of pool rooms for the American Legion was tabled for thirty days, and will come up at the May meeting.

HUGO STINNES DEAD

Germany's Industrial Monarch Dies Under Strain of Success.
Berlin, April 10.—Hugo Stinnes, more closely identified with German industrial life than any other man, died this evening at 8:30. Indefatigable in his labors, he struggled against the impending end, and was conscious to the last.

Around him were gathered his wife and children. To them he had devoted in his later years all the time he could spare from his vast business interests. There had been no hope for his recovery for many hours and the foremost medical skill could do nothing against the ravages of disease.

Three major operations had been performed, the first about four weeks ago for gall stone, and it was because of the impossibility of keeping the patient quiet, according to the surgeons, that complications developed, necessitating further operations, the last one on Sunday. It was also reported that pneumonia developed.

Post and Flag's Cotton Letter.

New York, April 10.—It has been another nervous, erratic market with sharp fluctuations but on the whole offerings have been well taken considering the price and the fact that improvement in the goods markets has not as yet been broad or general enough to imply that accumulations will be promptly absorbed and until that process has gone further demand from mills will remain limited and advances in contract markets will result chiefly from covering by shorts which may slacken without notice. Judging by advices from spot markets generally, however, the situation has developed to a point where the so-called basis is not a matter that is receiving much consideration but spot shorts are paying the sellers' price when they can get the cotton anywhere. Foreign demand keeps up well and the outlook there is considered favorable for a more settled state of affairs enabling business to develop into something more nearly normal even though the clouds have not rolled by entirely. Further certainty by domestic mills is expected as it is only by that policy that they can avoid embarrassment pending a change in the hand to mouth system still followed by retailers and wholesalers in filling in the gaps in their stocks resulting from distribution. Mills as a result refuse to enter into long term contracts at prices current for spot and nearby deliveries as they cannot estimate the cost of production with any certainty. Near month contracts relatively strong with the ponion expressed that there is no more than 60,000 unsold in local stock and that shipments will presently start in volume with no source left on which to draw to repair the losses. Allowing for reactions at times the outlook appears to be for higher prices before the situation can be liquidated.

POST AND FLAG.

War on Clark Howell for National Committeeman.

Josephus Daniels in Raleigh News and Observer.
The present political fight in Georgia is over the selection of a member of the National Democratic Committee. I viewed on that body 20 years, resigning because I did not believe a cabinet member ought to serve in that capacity. Only one member had served longer. He was married last week to a charming North Carolina lady and they are on their honeymoon in Havana. Therefore, he is not letting any lesser thing than a honeymoon interest him. But there is a war on in Georgia about who shall be National Committeeman. They have a queer way in Georgia. McAdoo, having received a majority in the Presidential primary, has the right through his State manager to select the delegates to the National Convention. It seems they have not consulted the counties, or so Jim Holloman writes, and in naming the delegation the McAdoo managers propose to displace Clark Howell, the veteran, with a younger Democrat, who is said to have been more effective in the support of McAdoo than Mr. Howell. And it has kicked up a mighty dust. Clark Howell has married a beautiful North Carolina lady. Who, so happily married, would care a fig about anything else? That's Clark's attitude. But some of his friends do not like the program and are saying so. And there is likely to be a lively fight over the National Committeeman's place, with the incumbent, about whom the fight rages, happy in the tropics, thinking of nothing so uninteresting and unimportant, comparatively, as position or politics. Honeymoons are not to be invaded by political contests.

Saw Mill Village Proves a Distillery.
Nashville, Tenn., April 10.—What appeared outwardly to be a small saw mill village near Kingston Springs, Tenn., proved an enormous distilling plant and brewery when the place was raided by Federal officers late Monday afternoon.

The supposed saw mill was the distillery and brewery and the surrounding "cottages" were found to be vats in which 20,800 gallons of beer and 61 gallons of whiskey were stored.

For Toning, Whitening and Firming the Skin

Venetian Ardena Skin Tonic—A mild astringent, a real tonic for the skin. It might be called a skin stimulant from the fact that it brings life, fervor to every skin cell. It is effective for toning, firming and whitening the skin naturally, imparting smoothness and brilliancy to the complexion. It checks enlarged pores, contracts unsightly bagginess under the eyes, and brightens a faded, sallow skin. The Ardena Skin Tonic and Venetian Cleansing Cream are a combination much to be preferred to soap and water. Per bottle, 85c, $2.00 and $3.75; $15.00.
