LOCAL MENTION

Twelve pages today—two sections. M. H. Caldwell, Jr. who recently accepted a position with the Hoover Hosiery Mill here, began his duties with the company Monday morning.

Mrs. E. L. Hicks is confined to her home with an attack of influenza. Her condition is reported as being unchanged.

"Daddy Long Legs" will be presented at Mt. Pleasant next Friday evening by the Senior Class of Mont Amonea Seminary. Admission, 25 and 50 cents.

A regular meeting of the Virginia Dare Book Club will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. J. L. Hartsell at her home on North Spring street.

According to a deed filed Monday at the court house Mrs. T. M. Barnhardt has sold to F. A. Barrier property in Ward 2, the purchase price being given as $100 and other valuable considerations.

Dr. P. R. MacFadyen and family moved into their handsome new home at the intersection of Grove and White streets Monday. The home is one of the handsomest erected in Concord in years.

The condition of Mrs. James Dorton, who became suddenly ill Saturday night and underwent an operation Sunday at the Concord Hospital for appendicitis, continues to show improvement, a report from the hospital today stated.

All the city schools will complete the work of the fall term January 23rd. At this time children will be promoted to the next section of their grades. The spring term will begin Monday, January 26. At this time beginners will be received in the first grades.

Relief from the recent rains came Monday and the sun broke through the clouds in earnest during today. The sunshine today was the first the city has had in several days and it was very welcome. The weather man indicates that the clear weather will continue for the next several days at least.

Nine defendants faced Judge Caldwell in police court Monday afternoon and in each case the defendant was found guilty. The court received $80 in fines and costs from eight of the defendants and the other defendant was made to pay the costs in the case. None of the cases aroused much interest.

R. L. Burrage, manager of the Cabarrus Creamery Co., is spending the day in Charlotte attending sessions of the North Carolina Ice Cream Manufacturers' Association. He was accompanied to Charlotte by Mrs. Burrage and son, Robert Luther, who are spending the day with friends.

We published Monday a news item regarding Wesley Taylor's smashing of the fine writing record, stating that he had succeeded in putting by the naked eye, 600 words on the back of a postage stamp. Mr. Taylor is a son of the late Rev. R. M. Taylor, a former pastor of Concord circuit, and lived in Concord six years ago.

Dr. M. R. Traube, head of the Department of Research in the Education Department at Chapel Hill and the editor of The North Carolina Teacher, will deliver an address to the teachers of the city schools tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 3:30 in the auditorium of the new high school. Friends of education are cordially invited to hear Dr. Traube as he is a very interesting speaker.

Reports reaching Concord during the day indicate that many of the creeks and branches in the county which were swollen by the recent rains, are subsiding as rapidly as they rose. The rivers, however, are still running high and they will continue to do so for several days, perhaps. It is believed all of the streams will be back to normalcy in a few days if the sun continues to shine.

Rev. W. A. Jenkins is again in possession of his Dodge touring car which was stolen in Charlotte last week. Mr. Jenkins was advised the second day after the theft that his car was found standing about 200 yards from the spot where he had parked it. All of the gasoline in the car had been used up and an army blanket and very expensive laprobe were stolen from the car.

The aldermen of the city met at the city hall Monday night to discuss the question of widening East Depot street at its intersection with Union street. Nothing definite was done at the meeting and it was announced that another meeting in regard to the matter would be held sometime during the week. At the meeting citizens of the city will be given an opportunity to express their views on the matter.

Asheville's Crime Wave Has Reached the Hi-Jacking Stage. Asheville, Jan. 12.—Asheville's wave of crime, which has baffled the police for several weeks, reached the "hi-jacking" stage when two thugs attacked P. W. Davies in his garage, severely beating him with a heavy piece of lead pipe.

A trespasser on the Vanderbilt estate was arrested early this morning, but his two companions attacked a Biltmore ranger and made their escape.

Jack Green who said he lived in Winston-Salem and Charley Williams of California were arrested in a box car.

Two stores were entered in the vicinity sometime Sunday night. An overcoat and bicycle were stolen from the First Baptist church during services, it was reported to the police today.

Hunting for mammoth ivory in the southernmost parts of Siberia is a regular business and in the past century the yield has been estimated at from twenty to thirty tons.

Since this is the age of speed, wouldn't it be great if next summer arrived about February?

The new year starts off fine. There are five pay days in January—for those who get paid on Saturday.

And, since there are five Saturdays in January, it should give the soap makers a good start and the perfume makers a setback.

Leap Year's gone, and the women didn't propose to the men any more than usual.

April Fool's Day comes on Wednesday in 1925. We don't know whether Congress will meet in special session on that day or not.

May will have five pay days, but you will need more than that to pay for the new spring clothes.

June will start on Monday this year. That's wash day—and a warning to the prospective June brides.

KICKS

Oh the loudmouthed bore journeyed into the store.

Where I and the clerks were all busy. He told an old tale so dirty and stale. It made all the listeners dizzy.

He jeered and he jawed, He hummed and he hawed, But no one rejoiced at his sally, Till the fool killer came And cut up his frame And we buried him back in the alley.

And that's what happens to "His Ha" birds who try to put the line on anything or anybody they don't understand with their single cylinder brains.

This space is paid for and it is intended to be worth reading and while the writer always enjoys being laughed at he never enjoys being laughed at.

P. S.—New lot of Dishes and Enamel Ware just received.

BODY OF WHITE BABY FOUND AT REIDSVILLE

Woman Moving Into House Makes Gruesome Discovery in the Back Yard. Reidsville, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Bernice Cobb came upon a gruesome discovery at her home on West Market street, one block north of the American Tobacco company's plant. In her back yard Mrs. Cobb, whose family had just moved into the house, saw a bundle which she took to be a package of discarded clothing. Upon examining it she was horrified to find a well developed new born white baby. The infant was wrapped in an old velvet hat and woman's underclothes, and had been dead for some time.

The police were notified, and Dr. M. H. McBryde, county coroner, began an investigation. Buzzards had probably dragged the bundle from its hiding place. The coroner thought that with the woman's hat and underclothes in evidence he was a possession of splendid clues which would ultimately lead to the mother of the dead infant, but after following up every clue he has for the time being given up all hope of ferreting out the crime. He and police officers are baffled.
