Gay! Sparkling! Youthful!
—HATS—

With a new way and a new mode, that is just as alluring new and different as this year's daffodils from last year's, fashion proclaims the reign of Spring.

And in her wonderful assemblage there are saucy high crowned Peter Pans, and Cloches, demure little Pokes, intriguing Picture Hats and many, many innovations undeniably smart and becoming.

So varied are the seductive ways that Paris has found for adorning the new chapeaux that neither limited space nor limited eloquence permit adequate description.

An effort is being made to retain the station in Concord for licensing automobiles. This station has been at the Chamber of Commerce for nearly a year. Telegrams were sent to R. A. No Absentee Votes.

Monroe Equicker, in the primary, called Democratic (but which includes Republican, Independents and Muckwumps), which will be held on April 4th for the selection of a mayor and five aldermen for the city of Monroe, the executive committee has definitely decided to allow no absentee votes. No doubt this action has been taken because two years ago absentee votes were decidedly and disgustingly overworked. Why, they do say that many ladies, who were perfectly able to go about their everyday affairs, were unable to go a short distance and place a ballot in the box. The executive committee acted wisely. Absentee votes always have been a great source of election rows.

Cross Puzzle Addresses.

London, March 14.—The Post Office has no reason to welcome the cross word puzzle craze, because, presuming upon the traditional ingenuity of the postal workers in deciphering difficult addresses, some misguided persons are actually placing upon envelopes addresses embodied in cross word puzzles, with the object of testing the postal servants. One of these enthusiasts has complained that the "square" was not solved, although it was a very easy puzzle with the important parts indicated in colored ink. The Post office, very wisely, has declined the task of solving puzzles, and returns all such letters marked "No address."

CONFEDERATE VETERAN DIES FRIDAY EVENING

Old Ex-Soldier Had Stroke of Paralysis While Plowing at His Farm in Number 4 Township.

George A. Misenheimer, a lonely eighty-year-old Confederate veteran, passed away at his home in No. 4 Township at 6 o'clock Friday evening after an illness of only a few hours.

Up until a few weeks ago, he had a companion who stayed with him, a boy by the name of George Thompson. The two did not get along together well and finally after a quarrel, the boy left. Since that time the old man was all alone with the exception of an occasional visit from the neighbors.

He had seemed a little more feeble than usual recently and the neighbors had kept an eye on him. However, he started his spring plowing just as he had done for years and years and, while at this work, was seen to fall. Friends rushed over and found him unconscious.

Welfare Officer J. E. Brown was called and he with Dr. S. E. Buchanan, rushed to the home. Dr. Buchanan diagnosed his case as being a stroke of paralysis and sent back to Concord for the ambulance to carry him to the hospital. When the ambulance did arrive it was too late. The old man was already dead.

The funeral services were conducted at the West Concord Baptist Church, of which he was a lifelong member, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Burial was made in Oakwood cemetery.

George Misenheimer was born in Cabarrus County and with the exception of the time when he was away fighting under General Lee, he lived in No. 4 township. He had no near relatives at the time of his death.
