

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

FAITH.

In Salisbury we met a smart little boy who reads Venus' items. He is John Lee Boyd, Jr., son of the district manager of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia.

Venus gets so many letters if he were to answer them all he would not have time to do anything else, and would not have time to sleep a wink.

One wholesale business man at Wilson, N. C., sent for a dollar jar of home-made Ecema ointment today.

Someone sent Venus a newspaper clipping stating that Eras Brame had watermelons in Louisaburg January 1st, and calls on Venus to beat it.

Dear Venus: We have a walnut cupboard that belonged to my great-grandfather. He made it himself.

One of the readers of Venus' items has just made him a present of a ten dollar bill and a 20 dollar bill for his collection.

Here is another letter we just received: Bluefield, W. Va., Jan. 10, 1926.

Well, Mr. Venus: Just a few lines. I take the Concord Times and I notice in your letter that Mr. W. A. Peeler has a coin dated 1818 and one 1815.

The Concord Times of Jan. 1, 1926, has a good article about the granite industry and who started it up.

John A. Peeler has just had a radio put in his home. Tom Byrd has one. Frank Nance and Dr. Brown and Will Stirewalt each have one and there are several other farmers going to have one put in their home right away.

Little Miss Letha Rebecca Agner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Agner, was five years old today, January 14, 1926, and they gave her and her friends one of the finest birthday dinners you ever saw.

Mrs. Mamie Kirk, of Palmerville, N. C., and Mrs. D. H. Spears, of Albemarle, motored through Faith today on their way home and called to see Venus.

Today is a clear day but mighty cold. VENUS.

CENTER VIEW.

The health in this community is very good at this writing, we are glad to note.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Grady Ross, January 11th a son, Phile Charles Ross. Mr. and Mrs. Ross and baby are getting along fine.

Mrs. Ella Yandies, of Charlotte, visited her brother-in-law in his new home in Center View, Mr. J. A. Trammell.

There was a music entertainment at the home of J. A. Trammell. Mr. Guy and Mrs. Guy and Mrs. Yandies furnished the music.

Miss Ruth Litzker was the guest of Mrs. Trammell.

Miss Mary Shinn, of Center View, who has been nursing in Concord, is now at home for the present.

Mrs. Charles Caster is visiting her daughter in Center View, Mrs. Grady Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Shinn visited their home folks, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shinn, last Sunday.

Mr. Chas. Sechler, Harry and Ralph, his two sons, have gone back to Safety Harbor, Fla.

Mr. George Walters, of Center View, has gone to High Point. BLUE EYES.

Ban on Evolution Teaching Again Asked in Kentucky.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—For the second time in six years, the Kentucky legislature is asked to outlaw the teaching of the theory of evolution from its institutions of learning.

Representative Grover C. Johnson, of Hardin county, a Baptist, Democrat, and a farmer merchant, introduced the measure today.

The bill will repose in committee for a while and then face discussion in the house of 100 church going members.

GEORGEVILLE.

Everybody seemed to enjoy the snow, the first of the season, especially by the young people.

Pearl Barrier and D. M. Long, of Brief, spent Monday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Klutta.

Mrs. Frank Furr doesn't seem very much improved at this writing.

Misses Lizzie and Annie Klutta spent Sunday night with their Uncle John E. Turner, of Stanfield Route 2.

Mrs. Martin Barrier is having her house painted.

Mrs. Luther T. Shinn delightfully entertained a few of her friends and relatives at a birthday dinner January 12th.

The little son of W. M. Auten is right sick with lagrippe.

Some one broke the lock on G. C. Shinn's oil tank Tuesday night and helped himself.

FARM GIRL.

The roads are rough and muddy, but it doesn't seem to interfere very much as the people keep on traveling.

Mrs. J. M. Klutta received two crates of ribbon cane syrup from Wrensboro, Texas, last week.

Mr. Kenneth Shinn and family, of China Grove, Edward and Clyde Shinn, of Georgeville motored to Davidson county, where they spent the night with their sister, Mrs. Floyd Eady.

Mr. John O. Klutta and family spent Sunday afternoon with their aunt, Mrs. J. M. Klutta.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Linker have moved into their new home.

Our school is also like Roberta. It is progressing nicely with Mr. C. P. Wilson as principal, assisted by Miss Dora Bundy, Miss Willie Russell and Mrs. Jack East.

We believe that everyone on Route 7 and Route 6 would say, if asked about the teachers at White Hall, that we like them fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Garrison have moved to Concord.

The White Hall Literary Society met Friday, January 15, 1926. The program was rendered as follows:

Roll called and minutes read by the Secretary.

Declaration by Elroy Crooks. Recitation—Dollie Garmon.

Debate—Query: Resolved, That English is more important to people than arithmetic. Affirmative, Morris Ervin, and Howard Mabry; Negative, Hurley Thompson and Harold Crooks. The judges, Mrs. Jack East, Miss Dora Bundy and Miss Willie Russell, decided in favor of the affirmative side.

Jokes—By Roy Christenbury. Question box. Critic report.

The society then adjourned to meet on Friday, January 22, 1926.

Mr. Roy Christenbury is still taking the Eastern trip.

The snow helped the wheat and oats. They look so green they look like they had just pushed out of the ground. CAROLINA KID.

Post and Flagg's Cotton Letter.

New York, Jan. 18.—The hardening tendency to values has been in evidence again and is giving rise to a feeling in some good quarters that the market has definitely turned, on at all events, even if the upward progress is at times interrupted, no action will meet a broadening demand and prove limited and temporary.

Advices from leading spot centers report an increasing demand for all grades, though more especially for the better class of the lower grades with the basis very firm.

Sentiment in drygoods circles is optimistic, based on the volume of business passing, prices which, while not productive of fabulous wealth, are good enough to keep the wolf at such a distance from the door that his howls are only faintly audible.

The size of the acreage is still a moot point but there is no belief anywhere that the reductions, if any, will even approximate the suggestions put out by some classes in the South.

Under the circumstances it is not perhaps surprising that so many hedges are being put forward from old to new crop positions with the result of a widening in the difference between the crop. Such action may prove wise but already an immense quantity of new crops has passed into trade hands and any adverse news regarding the next crop would have a decided effect as much of the selling has been for speculative short accounts.

The prize puzzle at present, however, is which month to use as a hedge for the actual and whether the frying pan is preferable to the fire or the reverse. Many doubt if March will prove at all seasonal and think holders of that month are willing to go forward to May at existing differences and repeat on a larger scale with May.

POST AND FLAGG.

People of Rowan to Vote on Hospital Issue.

Salisbury, Jan. 18.—The hospital committee of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce has started a movement to have the county of Rowan issue $300,000 of bonds for the establishment of two hospitals in the county.

The proposal is to have a general hospital and a tuberculosis institution. The movement contemplates the voting on the proposition by the citizens on May 11.
