RECITAL

To Be Given at the High School on the Evening of Wednesday, February 3rd.

On the evening of Wednesday, February 3rd, under the auspices of the Woman's Club here, William Clegg Monroe, baritone, and W. C. Wright, Jr., violinist, of Winston-Salem, will appear at the Concord High School in recital.

Mr. Monroe is soloist at the First Presbyterian Church at Charlotte, and his voice has won for him many admirers wherever he has sung, including New York City. His voice is of an unusually lovely quality and rare poetic feeling. He is a pupil of W. Henri Zay, who predicts for him a brilliant career.

Mr. Wright, the violinist, has done concert work in the leading cities of the southland. He has a beautiful tone, and plays with the greatest ease and artistry.

This recital will be a great treat for Concord music lovers, and it is confidently expected that a large audience will be present.

Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Yorke, Honorees.

Mrs. Ernest Robinson and Mrs. A. Jones Yorke shared honors at a bridge party given by Miss Helen Marsh on Wednesday night at her home on South Union street.

Cards were played at four tables, top score being won by Miss Elizabeth Smith. Guest prizes were given to Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Yorke. Salad and ice courses were served at the conclusion of the game, by Miss Marsh and her mother, Mrs. M. L. Marsh.

The guests were: Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Yorke, Misses Lucy Richmond, Lenzi, Adele Pemberton, Mary Pifer Pemberton, Bertie Louise Willeford, Adelaide Harris, Margaret Virginia Ervin, Elizabeth Smith, Elizabeth Embrey, and Mesdames T. N. Spencer, W. H. Wadsworth, J. A. Cannon, C. W. Byrd and W. M. Sherrill.

Mrs. Jones to Entertain. Mrs. Ernest Robinson will be honored guest at a tea given by Mrs. Robert Jones, Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

JACOB A. BARNHARDT DIED DURING NIGHT

Had Been Critically Ill With Pneumonia.—Funeral Services Sunday. Jacob R. Barnhardt, well known farmer of No. 9 township, this county, died this morning at 1:30 o'clock at his home. Death was caused by pneumonia.

Mr. Barnhardt was injured about two months ago when thrown from a wagon and had been confined to his bed much of the time since. Pneumonia developed several days ago.

The deceased was 90 years of age and had been prominently identified with the county's life for many years. He was a member of the Methodist Church, being one of the most active workers in the Cold Springs Church.

Surviving are his second wife and several children, including Rev. J. Homer Barnhardt, of Greensboro, presiding elder of the Greensboro District of the Western North Carolina conference. Another son, Rev. Zeb E. Barnhardt, died several months ago while serving a Church in Statesville.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at Cold Springs Church and interment will be made there.

The system of branch banking has never developed in the United States as in Great Britain and her dominions. Two well-known London banks have more than 1,700 branches each.

What are regarded as the ancestors of modern men are known as the Cro-Magnon races, coming, it is conjectured, from the East by way of northern Africa.

Birthday Dinner at Kannapolis. Kannapolis, Jan. 27.—On Saturday, January 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. DeMarcus, of Maple street, occurred a delightful event in the form of a birthday dinner, a double anniversary celebration honoring Mrs. A. A. DeMarcus and son, Eugene DeMarcus. Beautiful ferns, etc., adorned the home.

FUNERAL OF MISS CLINE HELD HERE WEDNESDAY. St. James Church Was Packed With Friends at Funeral of Miss Constance Cline.

Funeral services for Miss Constance Cline, who died early Monday morning, were held in St. James Lutheran Church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. L. A. Thomas, pastor of the church, assisted by Dr. J. L. Morgan, president of the North Carolina Lutheran Synod, and Dr. Charles P. MacLaughlin, former pastor of St. James.

The church auditorium and balcony were filled with friends of the deceased and several hundred persons also gathered at the grave in Oakwood cemetery.

At the church three hymns were sung by the church choir assisted by Sam Goodman and Price Doyle. At the grave the services were concluded with prayer.

Banked high around the burial plot were hundreds of floral designs and wreaths, sent by persons in every walk of life who knew and loved Miss Cline either through personal acquaintance or through their children whom she taught and guided for twenty years as a member of the school faculty. During the services the bier was covered with a floral blanket, sent by teachers and pupils in all of the schools of the city.

Honorary pall bearers were the following members of the school board: J. A. Cannon, Dr. E. M. King, J. L. Hartsell, L. T. Hartsell, A. E. Harris and Harry Hunter. The active pall bearers were A. S. Webb, Gilbert Hendrix, A. F. Hartsell, G. S. Klutz, S. Kay Patterson and Fred Shepherd.

Work in all of the schools of the city were halted at noon yesterday out of respect to the memory of Miss Cline.

The first known book on seamanship and nautical terms was published exactly three hundred years ago, in 1628, by Captain John Smith, historian of Virginia and hero of the famous Pocahontas story.
