Four Autos Stolen in Charlotte. State Highway Commissioner, W. C. Wilkinson, is means an automobile as a result of a period of usual activity in which thieves made way with four automobiles in the city.
Mr. Wilkinson's car, a Chrysler roadster, was parked on Poplar street and was taken from its parking space some time Monday.
Three other cars were taken, presumably by the same thieves. An Anderson touring car, the property of R. Stowe, who lives on the Charlotte-Concord Highway, was taken some time early Monday morning.
A Ford touring car belonging to D. H. Rudisill, an employee of the American Hardware and Equipment Company, was removed from the street in front of the store while Rudisill was at work.
C. A. Stillwell, of Blacksburg, was the victim of thieves when his Ford was taken from its parking place on North College street.

ROTARY MEETING
Dr. J. C. Rowan Finds Concord Has Improved Greatly During the Past Three Years.
Concord Rotarians at their weekly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday were told by Dr. Rowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of some of the many accomplishments in Concord during the past several years.
Dr. Rowan spoke at the meeting at the invitation of A. F. Goodman, chairman of the program, his speech covering the "Accomplishments and Progress of Concord in Recent Years."
Concord has improved greatly during his residence here, Dr. Rowan said, and while he claimed credit only as an individual in many, the speaker expressed pleasure that he had been permitted to take part in the city's progress.
The new high school, the new hotel, organization of "Our Sunday Gang" at the Y. M. C. A., the numbering of houses and the naming of streets, increased interest in humanity as shown by the movement for a county hospital, sustained interest in the Y. M. C. A., plans for new churches and completion of other churches and modern buildings in the business district were pointed out by Dr. Rowan as evidence of the city's progress and growth.
WOMAN ARRESTED BY OFFICERS LAST NIGHT
Reported That More Than a Gallon of Liquor Was Found in Home of Amy Smith.
Police officers this morning reported the seizure of more than a gallon of liquor last night in the home of Amy Smith, colored, who was lodged in jail.
A five gallon can, a gallon jug, a half-gallon bottle and several smaller bottles were found in the home, the officers reported. The gallon jug was filled, it is said, and there was a small quantity of liquor in the half-gallon bottle.
This bottle is partially covered with mud, indicating that it was buried for some time. The bottles and liquor were carried to police headquarters and the woman was placed in the county jail. She will be given a hearing tomorrow afternoon.
In Memory of Jack Allen Peacock.
God in His love, in His mercy and His wisdom, gathereth the little jewels, the precious jewels, His loved ones.
Jack Allen Peacock, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Peacock, was born in Thomasville, Davidson county, on November 14, 1921, died January 21, 1926. Age, four years, two months and seven days. Jack was a mainly little fellow, unusually bright and attractive, making friends wherever he went and his bright sunny face, the patter of his little feet and the prattle of his childish lips will be sorely missed.
While here on earth our Master took the little one in His arms, blessed them and said, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." He has gone unto Him who has taught us to say, "Thy will be done." A FRIEND.
Sergeant (to colored sentry): "If anything moves you about."
Sentry: "Yes, sah, an' if anything shoots an' moves."

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

TO SELECT HOTEL NAME AT MEETING TOMORROW
Directors of Hotel Company to Meet Friday Afternoon at 3 O'Clock.
Concord's new hotel will be without a name for only one more day. Directors of the hotel company will meet at the Merchants and Manufacturers Club tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to choose the name they like the best and their action is expected to be final.
At a meeting of the stockholders of the company several weeks ago it was understood that the name "Hotel Concord" had been chosen. After the meeting, however, it developed that the matter had been left open at the request of several stockholders and directors who were under the impression that a promise was made during the campaign to raise money for a hotel that the public would be allowed to express its preference before a name was chosen.
Since that time various names have been suggested including "The Stratton Cabarrus," "Hotel Cannon," "Hotel Wilson," "The Pioneer," "The Craighead," "The Patton," "The Cabarrus," "The Hezekiah Balch," and others.
Members of several women's organizations in the city notified directors of the company that they wanted to offer suggestions in names and they were heard at a public meeting Tuesday night. At the meeting speakers for the organizations suggested that historical names be chosen, but individually two women sponsored the name "Hotel Concord."
In discussing the meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon, President Patterson of the hotel company, explained that definite action in the matter should be taken at once.
"We have our lines and silver to buy," he explained, "and it is necessary that we select the name so this equipment can be properly marked with the name of the hotel. We do not want to have the hotel ready for occupancy and then have to postpone the formal opening because of lack of equipment."
Mr. Patterson also explained that O. W. Donnell, secretary and treasurer of the William Ford Hotel Operating Corporation, which recently leased the building, is preparing now a list of silver, linen and other equipment that will be needed in the hotel and this will be ordered as soon as the name is chosen.
Mr. Donnell, who plans to actively manage the hotel for several weeks after its opening, also will aid the hotel officials in the purchase of furniture and furnishings for the building.
FOR MODIFIED VOLSTEAD ACT
National Secretary of the Episcopal Church Temperance Society Declares Prohibition Law a Mistake.
New York, Feb. 3.—Rev. Dr. James Empringham, national secretary of the church temperance society of the Episcopal Church, said today the society, which worked for the passage of the eighteenth amendment, now will work for modification of the Volstead act to permit sale of light wines and beer.
Dr. Empringham, who was at one time superintendent of the anti-nationwide survey of prohibition enforcement, had convinced him that the Volstead act "had undone the temperance societies fifty years of educational work against the use of alcohol."
Speaking at a meeting of the Episcopal Clergy of New York, he asserted that "prohibition had increased drinking among young people; discouraged the consumption of wine and beer and increased the demand for distilled liquors which today are mostly poisonous; had brought about disrespect for all laws and is class legislation, discriminating in favor of the rich."
The national secretary said he had made a report of his findings to the Episcopal Church of New York over the protest of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, who requested him by telephone, telegram and by mail to withhold it, saying that it "would show that prohibition had failed."

LANDIS DRUG STORE VISITED BY THIEVES
Police Here Asked to Be On Watch For Two Young Men Believed to Be the Robbers.
Local police officers have been asked to be on the watch for two young men, one of them a cripple, who are believed to have entered the Linn-Edwards Drug Company at Landis early Sunday morning.
The following goods were taken from the store, Concord police have been told:
One Elgin watch; 13 Ingersoll watches; one case of finger rings; one case of watch chains; 14 sets of cuff links; ten fountain pens; one case of pocket knives; six straight edge razors and one shot gun.
In their report of the robbery, the owners of the drug store said it is believed the store was robbed about 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The young men suspected spent the night in Landis, but were gone early Sunday morning. They were last seen, officers here have been advised, near the Jackson Training School.

Asks Damages
get a set that he can depend upon until the dentist makes one.
Man starts in as a child, and lives on diseases to the end, as a regular diet. He has mumps, scarlet fever, whooping cough, croup, tonsillitis, asthma, bronchitis, quinsy, consumption, yellow fever, blindness, influenza, convulsions, pneumonia, softening of the brain and a thousand other maladies of one sort and another.
He's just a basketful of pestilent corruption, provided for the support and entertainment of microbes. Look at the workmanship of him in some particulars:
What's his appendix for? It has no value. It's sole interest is to lie in wait for a stray garbage seed and breed trouble.
What is his beard for. It is just a nuisance. All nations persecute it with a razor. Nature, however, always keeps him supplied with it instead of putting it on his head.
A man wants to keep his hair. It is a graceful ornament, a comfort, the best protection against weather, and he prizes it, above emeralds and rubies, and half the time nature puts it on so it won't stay.
Man isn't even handsome, and as for style, look at the Bengal tiger—that ideal of grace, physical perfection and majesty.
Think of the lion, the tiger and the leopard, then think of a man, that poor thing. The animal of the wig, the ear trumpet, the glass eye, the porcelain teeth, the wooden leg, the silver windpipe, a creature that is mended, all from top to bottom.
Old Bill Brown, the incorrigible, had finally succumbed to the pleas of the new pastor and promised to be at church the following Sunday. When that day came, however, the minister found Bill starting forth on a fishing trip.
"Dear, dear," sighed the reverend. "I wonder what I'll have to say to you to get you to start going to our services."
"Wall," replied Bill, somewhat conscience stricken, "I've always wanted to do something for ye, ye know that, parson. Tell you what—I'll think over yer question for ye, and maybe I can give ye an idee."

STEWARDSHIP MEETING AT McKINNON CHURCH
Presbyterian Churches of City and Several in County to Participate in Conference.
The general public is invited to attend the stewardship conference at the McKinnon Presbyterian Church tonight.
The conference will begin at 7:30 o'clock with the following churches participating: First Presbyterian, Second Presbyterian, Bayless Memorial, Brown Hill, McKinnon, Rocky River and Harrisburg.
Rev. Eugene Alexander of Salisbury, chairman of the stewardship committee of the Concord Presbytery, will be in charge of the program.
J. B. Spillman, secretary of the stewardship for the synod of North Carolina, will deliver the principal address.
Wants to Know "How Come."
Mooreville Enterprise.
Mr. James P. Cook, editor of The Uplift at the Jackson Training School in commenting on the wonderful discoveries of scientists and evolutionists with regard to the development of man from the monkey, wonders why the same scientists are unable to tell the world how's come a black Minerva hen lays a perfectly white egg. All of which takes us back a few years when the late Joseph P. Caldwell frequently suggested to science to explain why a rabbit wabbles its nose or why do a Nannie goat have horns?
Swapping Wives at Will.
Salisbury Post.
"We got tired of our wives and we traded." This is the explanation offered by two Ohio men who were arranged recently in court.
Reminding that many years ago two men of Cabarrus swapped wives, one giving an old musket "too hot." In neither case do we know the reaction of the trade on the two wives. Guess they were satisfied, neither could have been much worse.

The Canby, Ore., school board dismissed Miss Rosemond Lee Shaw, aged 27 when she married Clifford Samuelson, aged 16, a pupil. That was a year ago. Now Mrs. Samuelson is suing the board for $25,000. She is working in a department store, sending her husband to high school.
EVILS OF ALMONY
Man can't sleep out of doors without freezing to death or getting rheumatism; he can't keep his nose under water over a minute without being drowned. He's the poorest, clumsiest excuse of all creatures that inhabit the earth.
He has to be coddled, swathed and bandaged to be able to live at all. He is a rickety sort of thing any way you take him—a regular British museum of inferiorities.
He is always undergoing repairs. A machine as unreliable as he is would have no market.
The lower animals appear to us to get their teeth without pain or inconvenience; man's come through after months of cruel torture, at a time when he is least able to bear it. As soon as he gets them they must be pulled out again. The second set will last for a while, but he will never
